

J. C. Penney Co. Manager Named

Change of management of the local J. C. Penney Co. store, made necessary by the failing health of Glenn B. Thomas, for 12 years in charge of the business here, was made known this morning with the arrival of Kenneth M. Longballa, who comes from the company's district office to assume charge of the Bend business.

"It's been like old home week ever since I got in," Longballa remarked and explained that this was not merely because of previous visits made in central Oregon. "You see, I was born and raised in Bemidji, Minnesota, finished high school there in 1921 and, naturally, I've been meeting a lot of people who came to Bend from Bemidji when the mill operations started out here."

Ex-Seattle Resident
Longballa took his college work in the middle west, but the greater part of his life since then has been spent in the coast states. He was for six years in banking in Seattle before joining the J. C. Penney organization in 1930, working in the University store in the same city. In 1938 he was made assistant manager of the downtown store in Spokane and in 1942 he was sent to Pendleton as manager. He remained in the round-up city for two years and since then has been in the district office in Portland.

The new local manager is married, has two daughters, one of them a freshman at Oregon State college, the other 11 years old and a son of 13 years. The family will join him in Bend as soon as he can find suitable living quarters. Thomas' withdrawal marks the completion of virtually a quarter of a century of service with the J. C. Penney Co. He came to Bend in 1932 from St. Helens, where he opened a store in 1925. He had joined the organization in 1920 and had had the Williams avenue store in Portland from 1921 until going to St. Helens.

Remains On Job
Early this fall Thomas handed in his resignation, acting on the advice of his physician. Until his successor could be assigned, however, he remained on the job.

"I am greatly pleased that Mr. Longballa should be the one chosen," he said this morning. "The Bend store will have the benefit of fine management, which will naturally be of advantage also to the store's patrons. As an individual he will fit in quickly in the Bend community." Thomas said his own plans are not yet well defined, but he does intend to move from Bend to a less altitude before long. The move will probably take place in early spring. The family will join him after completion of the school year when a daughter, Iris, will have been graduated from high school.

Stocks Recover Most of Losses

By Elmer C. Walzer (United Press Financial Editor)
New York, Dec. 28 (AP)—Stocks rallied briskly today, recovering virtually all of the loss of the previous session, but trading was at a much slower pace.

All sections of the list joined the forward movement. Business was generated by a number of favorable business developments, including plants of Westinghouse Electric for a 4-for-1 stock split-up and of United Merchants & Manufacturers for a 2-for-1 splitup.

Steels responded well to a Washington report that the office of price administration is studying possible means of increasing prices for steel to offset the increased "fringe" wages ordered recently by the war labor board.

Senior utility shares spurred 1 to 3 points, following an announcement by the Edison Electric Institute that production of electricity in the week ended Dec. 23 hit a new all-time high. Fluctuations in power production are considered a direct barometer of industrial activity.

Vets' Yule Tree Sale Is Success

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 1643, today reported that their recent Christmas tree sale was one of the most successful ever staged since they began this method several years ago to raise funds for the benefit of veterans.

"I, and members of the post, wish to thank the residents of Bend and surrounding community for their support to this cause," Commander Cecil Rhoads said.

At the same time it was revealed that there was a large attendance at the veterans' Christmas party held last night in the Elks hall. A dance followed the program, with music being furnished by Roy Allingham's orchestra. Refreshments were served by the ladies' auxiliary.

Yuletide Dinner Still in Offing

Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Deltrick, Bend, are holding over the Christmas dinner until early January, and there are two good reasons for the delay: Two of their three sons in the armed forces are to be home.

T/Sgt. Richard Deltrick was expected to arrive today from Camp Kerns, Utah, where he is stationed with the air force. Pfc. Brent Deltrick is due to arrive about Jan. 1, from Fort Lewis, where he is with the army.

The third son, Max, in navy services, will be unable to be here for the belated Christmas dinner.
