

Effect of Proposed Measure On Work-or-Fight Explained

Washington, Jan. 19 (AP)—Here are some questions and answers on the pending work-or-fight bill and how it would affect 4-F's and others in the 18 to 45 year bracket.

Q. What is the purpose of the bill?

A. To force all 18-45-year-old men, including 4-F's, into essential jobs or make them stick to those they have.

Q. How many men does it cover?

A. A total of 18,806,000 including an estimated 4,500,000 4-F's. Many already are in essential work.

Q. Would all men in non-essential jobs be called up for war work?

A. Men would only be called and assigned to war work when labor shortages developed in their localities and when the shortages could not be met by voluntary recruiting. The law would be administered through local draft boards in the same manner that men are inducted into the armed forces.

Q. What would be the penalty for failure to comply with orders of local boards?

A. The bill now fixes the penalty as induction into the army, under lowered physical standards to take in 4-F's, for work in labor battalions. The penalty may be changed to imprisonment of not more than five years or a fine of up to $10,000 or both.

Q. How does it affect 18-45-year-old men who are already in essential work?

A. They would be forced to stick to their jobs or to change only with draft board consent. Many of those under 30, however, now face induction for regular military service.

Q. What are the nation's estimated manpower requirements?

A. The armed forces need 900,000 additional men and industry 700,000 by July 1.

Q. Is this measure national service?

A. It is for men between 18 and 45. It is, however, a modified form of full national service which would apply to both men and women and cover males in age brackets higher than 45.

Q. How many of the 4,500,000 men in 4-F are in essential industry?

A. One million are listed as being in essential activities; probably another 500,000 are in essential industry but have not yet been so classified, and another 500,000, it is estimated, are not capable of work. That leaves between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 4-F's in non-essential activities.

Q. What other deferment groups are there?

A. A total of 6,725,000 men have been deferred to industry and agriculture and 7,000,000 are between 38 and 45 and have not been classified. Selective service estimates that 3,500,000 (M) of those occupationally deferred would be fit for military service.

Family Sunday To Be Observed

Bend Ministerial association of officers have announced this coming Sunday is to be observed as "Family Sunday" in Sunday schools and churches of Bend. "It is the opportune time for the whole family to join in one of the most important projects in the community, the promotion of spiritual training, the announcement states, continuing: "Every child is entitled to a balanced education, to neglect the spiritual and care only for the physical and mental training of a child is to fail in parental responsibility." It is for this reason the ministerial association is sponsoring the "Go to Sunday School Month" and the plea with the parents is "On Family Sunday take your children to Sunday school and stay for church."

An increase in attendance in many of the Sunday schools was reported for last Sunday and accommodations are available for many more this week end, it was announced.

THE OREGONIAN PICKS "FRUITS AND NUTS" to tell America about OREGON AGRICULTURE

Oregon... America's Great Orchard!

Oregon is particularly well fitted for the vital part it plays in keeping America well supplied with fruit and nut crops. Our mild climate, ample rainfall and fertile soil help our orchardmen to run up yearly records to lead the rest of the country!

These records have attracted many allied food industries to locate here so that cold storage, quick freezing, packing, preserving and canning plants are located throughout the state. Postwar plans already established call for tremendous development in the fruit, nut and vegetable processing fields.

Here are some figures for the 1942 pack from Oregon orchards:

- 2/3 of all the plums in the United States
- 4/5 of all the prunes
- 1/4 of all the pears
- 1/10 of all the apples
- 1/5 of all the berries
- 2/3 of all the filberts.

The total national pack of rhubarb.

Food production and processing are stable Oregon industries—examples of our basic, natural wealth. We invite you to share that wealth with us.

ONE NEWSPAPER ALWAYS LEADS—IN OREGON IT'S THE OREGONIAN

The Oregonian
PORTLAND, OREGON
REPRESENTED NATIONALLY BY PAUL BLOCK & ASSOCIATES

Continuing the series of advertisements in Time and other national magazines, THE OREGONIAN this month tells the nation's business and industrial leaders something about Oregon's outstanding production of fruit and nut crops.

THE OREGONIAN, a leader in the thought and action of the Northwest since 1850, will continue to champion the cause of Oregon by telling America of the opportunities of this region... and at the same time reminding our own people of the advantages of living and working here.
