3 Controversial Measures Ready

By Eric W. Allen, Jr. (United Press Staff Corresponde

Salem, Ore., Jan. 24 (IP—Interest in the 1945 Oregon legislative session centered today on three hearings to be held today and tomorrow on three of the more controversial measures so far introduced.

The so-called "big-truck" bills, which would extend the life of the weight regulations governing the operation of trucks on Ore gon highways, will be gone over in detail late today. The present weight limits are expanded warweight limits are expanded wartime measures permitting heavier loads than previously and are favored by trucking interests and the state grange.

Opposed By Groups
Both bills, one of which would extend the present rules indefinitely, the other only until six months after the war, are op posed by railroad groups. The "freeway" or limited ac-cess bill will be conned at a hear cess oil will be conneed at a nearing on Thursday afternoon. The hill, opposed last session by farmers' groups, proposes to give the state highway department authority to limit sideroads and other means of access to certain specified places on state highways. As explained by highway department fied places on state highways. As explained by highway department officials, the bill is in conformity with those being passed by other states, and would help form the Oregon links of a nationwide system of through highways.

Hearing is Set

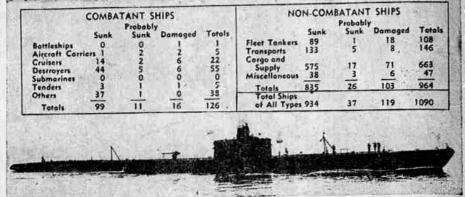

Tonight another hearing will be held on the advisability of retaining the mobile registration booths used in some sections of Portland and Vanport during the McAlester naval ammunition delast election. A measure to ban pot is fast getting mass produc-

House democrats jumped on the bill when it was brought into underway to fill bureau of ordnance shipping orders.

Many workers formerly trained in other shell-loading operations of their voting franchise if passed.
Representatives of the Oregon
League of Women Voters also are expected to oppose the bill at the hearing.

Poor Digestion? Headachy? Tired-Listless?

Do you feel beadachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Eachday, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature falls, your food may romain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore, Only 254,
