State Advertising Plans Get Study Arden X. Pangborn of Portland

Arden X. Pangborn of Portland, chairman of the board of gover-nors of the Oregon Advertising federation, recently made a sur-vey of the state for post-war ad-vertising and publicity, to attract tourist and business to Oregon, and in his report said that Bend and Deschutes county were al-ready doing some very sound thinking along these lines. Pangborn, in the report sub-mitted following his survey men-tioned that New York newspapers hold much California tourist ad-vertising at present, in anticipa-tion of post-war business. # The UNSUNG HEROES

"Our transportation facilities face staggering demands but the goods will be delivered .... and on time."

This was the promise made by the labor leaders of the nation .... and how gloriously has this promise been kept by these unsung heroes-these soldiers of the trains and trucks-who by unceasing toil and devotion to duty have kept the huge stream of military supplies flowing from factory to shipping points and who have sped the millions upon millions of men from the training centers to ports of embarkation. Yes, they, too, have served without thought of praise.
