

Redmond, Bend To Battle Here In Extra Game

Bend basketball fans will be given an opportunity to see their local team play for the first time in several weeks when they tangle with the power-packed Redmond Panthers Tuesday evening, Jan. 30, on the Bend court.

Generally conceded as the team to be beat in Central Oregon's district 3 the Panthers will bring a star-studded aggregation headed by Elmer Hoffstetter, 6-foot 4-inch pivot man of the team. Tabbed by John Warren, University of Oregon's coach, as one of the best college prospects of the year, Hoffstetter has cut a wide swath through opposing defenses this season. Coach "Chick" Peden has built his offense about the big fellow, using him at the "pivotpost" position in the key-hole.

Sets Up Plays

Wayne Hagman playing his third year as a regular sets up the plays from his important mid-floor position. Hardest worker on the Redmond outfit and a player who last year caused the Bears more trouble than any other on his team is big and burly McDonald who has been one of Redmond's chief scorers to date. Three other standout players round out the Redmond squad, King and Weigand are sharp-shooting players who can hit the basket from the front and corners. In Short, another Panther, Coach Claude Cook of the Bears, believes Redmond has the makings of one of the finest basketball players Central Oregon has ever had. Only a sophomore, this lanky youngster hasn't a peer when it comes to tips-ins and other rebound shots.

Redmond Hopeful

Redmond fans are boasting that this is their year and will come to Bend hoping to see their favorites trample the Bears. Local fans are not willing to sell their own club short, however, pointing out that the Bend team has its own veterans, some of them from state tournament play, and that several are beginning to develop shooting eyes of their own.

Sullivan Victor In Oregon Fight

Portland, Ore., Jan. 27 (UP)—John L. Sullivan, a Portland Irishman, knocked out "Powder" Proctor, Portland negro, in the second round of a main event bout here last night, to win the Oregon state light heavyweight boxing title, in a "Mile o' Dimes" boxing show.

Three Oregon titles were being defended during the show, and two of them changed hands, while the third bout—featuring Leo (the Lion) Turner against Mickey Peas—went to a draw, Turner retaining the crown.

Turner, 160, a husky negro, held onto his middleweight title by finishing strong enough to earn a draw, despite Mickey's early lead. Pease fired in the later rounds and took some hard punches from Turner. The bout went for 12 rounds and was the wind-up of the mile of dimes card. Pease weighed 159.

Proctor Knocked Out

In the second bout, Sullivan made short work of Proctor in the second canto by knocking him out in 28 seconds. He tore into Proctor in the first round and had him on the verge of a KO at the end of the round. Sullivan weighed in a 168 and Proctor, 164.

Another new champ was crowned as Johnny Suarez, a smooth and hard hitting Mexican lad from Los Angeles, gave welterweight champion Eddie Weller an artistic facing in 10 rounds. Suarez showed a lot of class, while beating his veteran opponent. Suarez weighed 142; Weller 140.

The "Mile of Dimes" fund netted $1500, since the proceeds were donated.

New York, Jan. 27 (UP)—It was no ashray this time.

Col. Larry MacPhail, the irrepressible redhead who tried to kidnap the Kaiser from Holland in 1919 and came back with the Kaiser's ashray instead, had much better luck in his latest venture. He captured the most coveted prize in all sports—the New York Yankees' baseball team—realizing for which many of the nation's wealthiest and shrewdest sportsmen have been angling for the past six years.

Dynamic Larry and his two associates completed the deal for an estimated $2,800,000—a purchase which millionaire Mike Jacobs describes as "the biggest bargain I ever heard of in any kind of business." Jacobs was one of the unsuccessful who tried several times to secure the plum, but he was thumbed down by the late Commissioner Landis because of his boxing connections.

Jacobs estimates that the value of his purchase will soar to $12,000,000 or $15,000,000 in the sports boom that is certain to follow the war. The purchase included the huge Yankee stadium—"the house that Ruth built"—and other New York holdings, in addition to the minor league empire that had Newark, N. J., Kansas City, Birmingham, N. Y., and Norfolk, Va., as chief links. The Yankee-owned Newark and Kansas City parks are included, likewise title to an estimated 400 ball players.

"Not only did MacPhail obtain a tremendous bargain, but his negotiations were so designed that he became president and general manager. He accomplished this despite the opposition of 75-year-old

Big Pots Await Nation Bowlers

Chicago, Jan. 27 (UP)—The greatest gold rush in bowling history gets under way today when more than 2,000 of the nation's leading tenpin stars begin rolling in four separate tournaments for $72,930 in prize money.

Starting today through Feb. 11, Chicago will be the craziest bowling town in the country as all of the game's great and near-greats perform in this four-ring circus, composed of three tournaments

Panthers Victors Over Lakeview '5'

Prineville, Jan. 27—Faced by sharpshooting Ronnie McDonald, the Redmond Panthers defeated the fighting Lakeview Honkers 46 to 35 in a very fast and exciting contest on the local floor Thursday night.

The victory made it two straight for the Panthers over the Honkers and a clean sweep of the series. Redmond showed lots of scoring punch in the two victories and will undoubtedly be one of the favorites in the district tourney to be played early in March.

Ronnie McDonald again took high scoring honors with 19 markers while the losers were paced by Jack Downs with 12 points.

Lakeview remained in Prineville for a two-game series with the Prineville Cowboys.

The Prineville Broncos defeated the Redmond Kittens 18 to 12 in the preliminary game.

Joe Baksi Beaten In Upset Battle

New York, Jan. 27 (UP)—From "tanker" to "titlist" is the saga of swat completed today by Lee Oma, Detroit's feckish flailer who wrested the civilian heavyweight championship from big Joe Baksi on an upset 10-round decision before 17,429 tickled fans at Madison Square garden.

Sleek dark-haired Oma, who had 13 knockouts registered against him in the days when he was more interested in revelry than victory, won in a walk-away last night, despite the 12.5 price favoring his heavier opponent. The "wondering goon" walked away from his heavier opponent's body attack, meanwhile poking out with his dangling fists in eccentric but effective fashion as he battered Baksi considerably to win the unanimous decision of the three ring officials.

The United Press scored four rounds for Oma, three for Baksi and three even.

Lava Bears Lose To Columbia Five In Rugged Game

The Dalles, Jan. 27 (Special)—Bend's tall Lava Bears took an 8 to 0 lead over The Dalles in the opening four minutes of play here last night, held an 8 to 6 lead at half time, then suddenly wilted in a rugged, rough game that yielded a 37 to 24 victory for the Indians.

Despite the fact that, for the Bears at least, it was a rough, tough battle, only nine personal fouls were charged, and eight of these were assessed against the quintet from the Deschutes highlands. In one of the clashes that sent him to the floor, Harold Smith, one of the stars of the Bend team and a tournament player at Salem last year, suffered a badly sprained ankle that may keep him off the court for a week or more. Apparently unable to interpret plays in the same manner as did the officials, the Bears "blew up" shortly after the first half, and not only lost their defensive pattern, but their ability to connect.

Bears Trail

Bend trailed 16 to 10 at half-time, and by the end of the third quarter the Indians were way out ahead, 31 to 20.

Star of The Dalles team was Hir, playing a forward berth. His shots from the sidelines were uncanny, and were a factor in disorganizing the Bears' defense. Wirtz was high point man for the Bears.

The two quintets, old rivals of Oregon basketball courts, will meet again tonight.

Last night's lineups:
The Dalles (37) (24) Bend Tibbitts (4) F. (4) James Hire (14) F. (2) Rasmussen Johnson (6) C. (2) Higgins Dow (4) G. (2) Smith Clark (4) G. (2) Smith Substitutes: The Dalles—Bird (5), Thompson, Clements, Gibson, Stapleton, Wright, Caldwell, Galaher. Bend—Hawes (2), Brogan, Murphy (4), Moore (2).

Huskies Beaten By Oregon Team

Eugene, Ore., Jan. 27 (UP)—The University of Oregon defeated the Washington Husky basketball quintet here last night 59 to 36, to extend its lead in the northern division race to a game and a half.

Outclassed from the beginning, the Huskies put up a good fight, but after the start of the second half the only issue was how big a score Oregon could build up before the final gun.

Oregon played a hard-driving, aggressive game and took the lead immediately after the opening tip-off. At the end of five minutes, the woffers led, 22 to 8.

Reserves Used

With 10 minutes to go, both teams sent in their reserves, with the score 49 to 25 in Oregon's favor. The halftime score was 34-22, Oregon. Both teams used a man-for-man defense.

High-scoring Dick Wilkins, Oregon forward, was the game's stand-out star, with 15 points, while his teammate, center Ken Hays, was close behind with 14. Bob Jorgensen, Washington guard with 11 points, was high point man for the Huskies.

Both teams play again here tonight.

Los Angeles, Jan. 27 (UP)—The University of California at Los Angeles Bruin basketball squad today was even up with the University of Southern California for the season after ringing up a 41 to 36 upset win over the heavy favored Trojans on their own boards last night.

The Trojans, who haven't won a game in the UCLA gym since 1943, held an 18 to 15 lead at half-time but the Bruins came back in the second half, scoring seven points in an explosive 2½ minutes of play before the final whistle.

Welfare Group Endorses Move

Portland, Jan. 26 (UP)—The purpose of legislation to remove the $40 ceiling on assistance to old age pensioners today had the endorsement of the Oregon state public welfare commission.

Under the proposal, the present ceiling would be removed in favor of payment of grants on the basis of physical needs of each recipient.

It was pointed out there are no ceilings on aid to blind and needy children.
