Enrollment Ends For Adult Classes

Classes for adults in typing and shorthand, which started Jan. 22 at the Bend high school and will continue for eight weeks, are progressing in a highly satisfactory manner. A. W. Nelson, coordinator of trades and industrial relations for the city school system, said today. The adults, who meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, are enthusiastic over the courses and are anxious to learn as much as possible, Nelson added. Enrollment is now closed as the classes are filled.

The following are studying shorthand from 5 to 6 p. m. on those days under the direction of Miss Mary Bugar:

Betty Ann Brandon, Lois Brant, Mary J. Brown, Elsie Chute, Mrs. Loren Cox, Henrietta Denman, Ingrid Gehrman, Genevieve Hilgen, Anna May Hogt, Salveig Jensen, Louise Jungquist, Irma Klinghammer, Anna Kulstad, Frances Matich, Thelma O'Day, Lillie Shipler, Beatrice Spencer, Emily Spencer, Vida Welch, Annette Wells.

The typing class, which meets from 4 to 5 p. m. three times weekly, is made up of Lois Brant, Louise Brogan, Mrs. H. E. Beach, Mrs. Elsie Chute, Ruth Cook, Henrietta Denman, Walnah Francis, Genevieve Hilgen, Anne Kulstad, Ingrid Gehrman, Mrs. Carl A. Johnson, Lillian Loggan, Mrs. D. J. 96 Persons Die In Rail Wreck

Mexico City, Feb. 1 (UP)—The National Railways announced that 96 persons were killed and 63 injured today when a freight train collided with a special passenger train crowded with Mexicans making the annual pilgrimage to the shrine of San Juan De Los Lagos in the state of Jalisco.

The wreck occurred between Polotitan and Cazadero, about 100 miles from here, the railway reported.

The National Railways traffic manager said that the freight crashed heavily into the rear of the passenger train.

Doctors, nurses and ambulances were rushed to the scene from Queretaro, nearest big city, while relief trains left Mexico City for the wreck site.

Torchy Valentine

All snazzy pin-ups for servicemen are not Hollywood glamor gals, as witness black-haired, brown-eyed Elaine Torch, above, a secretary at the Ohio Tool Company, Cleveland. She was selected as the Valentine Pin-Up for 600 of the plant's men now in service.

Two Brothers Meet in States For First Time

Forest Lake, Minn., (UP)—Ole Lee, 76, and Ole Lee, 55, are full brothers, which isn't the only remarkable fact concerning them. They never had seen each other until they got together for a Christmas vacation at the farm of the younger Ole two miles northwest of here.

The circumstance of their having the same name resulted from the belief of the parents that the older son had died after leaving his home in Trondheim, Norway, to go to sea in 1888, when he was 19.

Two years later the younger Ole was born, and named in honor of his older and supposedly deceased brother.

Young Ole came to the United States in 1910, lived at Fargo, N. D., for a time, homesteaded in Montana and eventually took up his present acre farm here. While living in Montana he met a man who said he knew another Ole Lee, in Spokane, Wash., and that there was a striking resemblance between the two. A series of letters resulted in the meeting here.

Ole the elder had come to the United States in the '90's, lived at Albany, N. Y., and Minneapolis, before going on to Spokane in 1905 to learn the watchmaker's trade.

The brothers found that there had been still another parallel in their lives. Each named his oldest son Arnold.

SERVICES ARE HELD
Graveside services were held here Monday for the infant daughter of Pfc. and Mrs. A. F. Juras. Mrs. Juras, the former Margaret DeBoer, is a patient at the St.

Charles hospital, where the baby was born Sunday. Her husband recently returned to the states from New Guinea and is now stationed in Virginia.
SOME OF BOTH
Bellaire, O. (UP)—Brief reports have become well known in this war. And one written by Sgt. Angelo DeLuca is no exception. From somewhere in Germany to his wife in Bellaire, Sgt. DeLuca wrote: "It looks like Christmas here, but it sounds like the Fourth of July."

We nip trouble in the bud

And we save money for you while we do it—because under our C-Y-C service we catch those little troubles before they turn into major repair jobs.
Meanwhile, we Conserve Your Car—keep it running as it should —by taking care of all periodic adjustments which so many car owners seem to forget about.
All you have to do is drive it in regularly. Tomorrow's a good day for your first FREE inspection. Let's see if we find any buds that need nipping!
