

Soldier Refuses To Bear Arms

Camp Roberts, Calif., Feb. 7 (AP)—Pvt. Henry P. Weber, former Vancouver, Wash., shipyard worker under sentence of death for refusing an officer's order to drill, told a reporter today he was "willing to do anything to get the war over, as long as I do not have to kill other people."

Revealing he had been court-martialed and sentenced to six months hard labor for a similar offense previously, Weber said he had asked army authorities in vain for a transfer to non-combatant duty three or four days before he refused to drill here. A general court martial last Friday sentenced Weber to be hanged for willful disobedience of an officer.

Revolutionary Mind
"I have a revolutionary mind," said Weber, a member of the ultra-left wing socialist labor party. "Wars are caused by the society in which we now live. That society can't prevent a third world war."
"I am interested in a world in which all men can live peacefully, but to be a good soldier you have to learn to hate and kill, and I do not feel it is right to kill other people."
"With a revolutionary mind you cannot hate and kill," Weber said the socialist-labor party aimed at "peaceful revolution."

Case Investigated
Meanwhile, Ernest Besig, San Francisco director of the American Civil Liberties union, announced the organization is investigating the case.
"Weber's looks like a plain case of erroneous induction into combat service," Besig said, "and our records show that the army instead of hanging men in such cases has actually given them honorable discharges."
The death sentence must be reviewed by the general officer with court martial jurisdiction and finally by President Roosevelt.

Ex-Co. 1 Man, Here on Leave, Holds Sad Memory of Saipan

First Lt. Chester C. Myers, Bend soldier who was mustered into service with Co. 1, returned home on leave this week after more than two and a half years of service in the Pacific theater of war to meet for the first time a new member of his family, Gregory Eugene Myers, who was two years old last November. Little Greg Myers was just a bit suspicious of the tanned officer from the Pacific when he was first "introduced", but now the ice has been broken, and Greg knows that "Daddy is home."
Mrs. Myers and her three children, Benny, 9, Joan, 8, and Gregory are making their home here with her father, A. C. Bishop, for the duration, and Lt. Myers plans to spend his entire 30 day leave in Bend, before heading back to his outfit at an unnamed spot in the wide Pacific.
Although Lt. Myers, then Sgt. Myers, was mustered into service with Co. 1 back in 1941, he was transferred to the 27th division after winning his commission. In the Pacific, Lt. Myers saw his ma-face comedian act which was very good. Clifford and Douglas McCorkle, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Tom Fair, sang two duets. Chicken and noodles were served by the supper committee composed of Mrs. Paul Hanson, Mrs. Suhre, Mrs. Moody and Walter Lowe. Joan and Richard Moody were obligated in the first degree.

Mrs. Lee Goodrich of Cloverdale and Mrs. S. L. Hall attended the project meeting at the Bend high school last Tuesday under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Bueckli, home demonstration leader, and Miss Lucy Case, of the college extension department. The lesson was on main dish

The sum of $128 was cleared at the dance at Tumalo grange hall Saturday and this amount has been turned over to Mrs. J. F. Arnold, chairman of the infantile paralysis fund for Deschutes county. Music was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rair and Joe C. Henry Jr., of this community and by Rusty Modrell, of Redmond. Harvey D. Field, of Bend, accompanied by Mrs. Field at the piano, gave two vocal numbers which were greatly appreciated by the group. The large birthday cake was won by Gene Davis and a cake, given as a door prize, was won by E. W. Putnam who turned the cake back to be auctioned off. $3.00 was realized by this auction. Mrs. J. A. Blackstone, Mrs. H. A. Scoggin, Mrs. A. Chamberlin and Joe Henry assisted the committee in the kitchen. Committee in charge of the dance was Mrs. Fred Shepard, chairman, Mrs. W. D. Collins, Mrs. O. W. Grubb, and J. A. Chamberlin.

To Get Army?

Possible activation of a new U. S. army on the Western Front is seen in General Eisenhower's recommendation that Maj.-Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, above, commander of the 5th Corps, be elevated to the rank of lieutenant general. The promotion, now before Congress, would rank General Gerow with commanders of U. S. field armies.

Go West Wives, Advice of Solon

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—There may be no diaper valets or self-service groceries yet in the Marshall Islands but Rep. James G. Fulton, R., Pa., is confident that the Yanks could make it home if permitted to move their wives and children there.
The 41-year-old bachelor-congressman is advocating a plan to reunite families of men who are serving long periods of time in areas left behind by the war.

"As soon as shipping space becomes available I believe it would be a good plan to arrange for these men who are holding behind the lines areas to move their wives and children there," Fulton said.

Oregon Bus Scene Of Razor Slaying

Arlington, Ore., Feb. 7 (AP)—As aftermath of a razor battle on a crowded Union Pacific bus among three negroes recently discharged from the Bremerton, Wash., navy yard, one was dead today, another was near death and a third was held in jail here.
The dead Negro, his throat slashed, was Sylvester Reed, Evanston, Ill., and Henry M. Low, address not ascertained, was under treatment in a hospital at The Dalles, while David Poindexter of New Orleans, La., was held here.
Man Arrested
State policeman N. W. Smith said Poindexter was arrested after he fled from the eastbound bus as it arrived here Tuesday. He was apprehended at the telephone office by City Marshal Jack Hartford.
Smith quoted Poindexter as saying the other two had threatened his life.
When the fight broke out, the driver stopped the bus and took a razor away from Poindexter, Smith said.
Post-war air conditioning plans call for personalized temperatures, room by room. A dial, similar to that on the face of a radio, changes individual room conditions without affecting the balance of the building.
