

Local News

TEMPERATURE
Maximum yesterday, 49 degrees.
Minimum last night, 24 degrees.
TODAY'S WEATHER
Temperatures: 10 p. m., 32 degrees; 10 a. m., 38 degrees. Velocity of wind: 10 p. m., calm; 10 a. m., 12 miles.

Chester Lantz, chief electrician's mate, was made a chief following his graduation this week from a navy school in Washington, D. C. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lantz of Redmond and a graduate of Redmond high school, the new chief enlisted in 1940 and was ordered to school following a long tour of overseas duty.

Mrs. Anne Forbes has returned to her home in Bend from a visit to Portland and Salem.

There will be no meeting in the Carroll Acres Tuesday to do Red Cross sewing, because of a lack of materials. The meeting was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Cary W. Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Herring and daughter, Miss Mildred Herring, returned last night from a business trip to Portland. Mrs. Frank Graven, who accompanied them to Portland, returned to her home in Seattle. Mrs. Graven had been visiting her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Padgett.

The Rebekahs will hold a regular meeting at 8 tonight in the I.O.O.F. hall.

The Wee Women's club will meet at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow with Mrs. Hubert Bartlett.

The Emera club will meet at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Masonic hall.

Group three of the I.H.S. group of the Women's council of the First Christian church will meet at 8 tonight at the home of Mrs. R. P. Jones, 727 Portland avenue. Lt. Charles Robert Hagen, injured in south Pacific action with the 41st division, is spending a week in Bend with friends. He will return to Baxter general hospital in Walla Walla following leave.

Cpl. John S. Crawford is home on furlough from the southwest Pacific. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Crawford, 46 East Norton street.

E. H. Crowley of Madras was a Bend visitor yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ware of Redmond came to Bend yesterday where Ware entered a local hospital.

Judge C. L. Allen, of the Deschutes county court, left this morning for Salem to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Association of Oregon counties. He was accompanied by E. E. Varco and A. E. Stevens, county commissioners, and Audrey E. Perry, county watermaster. The group planned to return tonight.

Mrs. Vern E. Sington has returned from Tacoma, Wash., where she visited her husband, Vern E. Sington, seaman 2/c.

M/Sgt. Tommy Amundsen, stationed at the Redmond army air field, last night was a guest at the Pilot Butte inn.

Guy W. Martin of Silver Lake, was here today transacting business.

Lt. Glen L. Ryland of the Redmond army air field, visited Bend friends last night.

The Royal Neighbors will meet at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, Feb. 19, at the Moose hall. It was announced today. Members of the refreshment committee are Mrs. Lucy Billadeau, Mrs. Ethel Burleigh and Mrs. Adaline Crowell.

The entertainment committee is made up of Mrs. Mary Youngberg and Mrs. Minnie Wise.

The regular social evening of the Bend Eagles lodge and auxiliary next Thursday night will be featured by a basket social. It was announced today by Mrs. W. M. Loy, president of the auxiliary.

Instead of the regular buffet dinner served by the auxiliary, the baskets will be auctioned, Mrs. Loy said. The social begins at 9:15 o'clock, following the lodge's business meeting.

W. L. Fowler, area supervisor of the state unemployment commission, is spending today at the local office. He will be in the office all day tomorrow after which he will return to The Dalles, where he is now stationed following a recent transfer from Klamath Falls.

Robert Isham, seaman 2/c, who recently completed boot training at Farragut, Ida., is now attending signalmen's school at Bainbridge, Md., according to information received by his mother, Mrs. Edna Isham. He enlisted in August.

Sgt. John F. McCunn is con-lined to the Redmond army air field hospital with an attack of tonsillitis.

Mrs. J. N. Weaver of Lincoln, Neb., is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. E. Stevens.

S/Sgt. Bruce Dyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Dyer, is spending a furlough here after completing the paratroopers school at Fort Benning, Ga. The sergeant was transferred to the paratroopers nine weeks ago.

Dance every Friday night, Carroll Acres. Night Owls orchestra. Adv.

Jo Ann Thomas, Mgr. of Beauty Quest, is back at work and welcomes customers and friends. Adv.

There will be no dance Saturday night at the Eastern Star Grange because of the meeting being held by the Pomona Grange. Adv.

Charles Stearns Gets New Rating

Bushnell general hospital, Brigham City, Utah, Feb. 9—Promotion of Pfc. Charles F. Stearns of Bend, Ore., to the grade of corporal, was announced here today by Colonel Robert M. Hardway, commanding officer of the hospital.

A carpenter before his entry in the army at Portland, Ore., Dec. 9, 1942, Cpl. Stearns is assigned to duties as foreman in the hospital warehouse here.

His mother, Mrs. Olive Stearns, and his wife, Mrs. Jean Stearns, reside at 1125 Ogden, Bend, Ore.

RAIL CENTER ISOLATED

London, Feb. 9 (UP)—The Soviet high command reported tonight that the Red army surrounded Arnswalde, big rail junction 40 miles southeast of Stettin, and the Baltic coastal town of Elbing in East Prussia.

OIL PLANTS RAIDED

London, Feb. 9 (UP)—More than 2,150 American bombers and fighters raided synthetic oil plants, armament factories and rail yards deep in Germany today in a shattering blow at the heart of the Nazi war machine.

TWO COACHES OVERTURN

Houston, Tex., Feb. 9 (UP)—Two coaches of the Sunset Limited, a Southern Pacific Los Angeles-to-New Orleans passenger train, overturned in Englewood yards on the outskirts of Houston today, injuring an undetermined number of passengers.

CHIMES IRK JUDGE

Springfield, Mass. (UP)—Probate Judge John A. Denison complains that the municipal chimes ringer disturbs his divorce hearings by playing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Senate Approves Big Truck Bill

Salem, Ore., Feb. 9 (UP)—A two-year extension of the "big truck" laws in Oregon passed the senate today after a move failed to make the extension for four years.

The two-year vote was unanimous but the upper house split 18 to 10 against a minority committee report that war-time experience with the larger trucks justified a permanent four year extension. The majority report was accepted and the rules suspended to permit immediate passage of the bill (SB42) to the house.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

Sen. Frank Hilton, Portland, vainly argued the truck and trailer limits of 60 feet in length and 12,500 pounds in weight provided in the bill had worked out to advantage in the three war years and should be permanent because highway officials agreed no excessive highway damage had been caused.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Pine Cone Bluebirds at Shevlin raised $40.29 for the polo fund. The girls were divided into teams of two and canvassed the camp. Rae LaVonne Gumpert and Donna Sue Shahan received the prize for collecting the largest amount. Mrs. Maurice Lyons is their guardian.

Wetomachick Girls of Wetomachick studied on Indian symbols and symbolism at their meeting. They are working hard to complete the first rank before the grand council fire is held in Redmond.

Unalutka The Unalutka group elected the following officers: Dolores Prater, president; Gwen Russell, secretary; Nancy Ferguson treasurer. The girls learned to tie the five square knots in succession at their last meeting. These girls are preparing to take the Woodgathers rank. Part of the meeting was spent working on afghans for the Junior Red Cross.

Dakonya Dakonya girls worked on the Camp Fire songs at their last meeting. They are learning them for the grand council fire. This group will not meet Monday, February 12, as their guardian will be out of town.

Katawasteya All members of the Katawasteya group are asked to attend an important meeting Monday after school. Matters of interest to every girl will be discussed. Miss Harris will lead the discussion. Mrs. Joe Elder will also attend.

GROUP MEETINGS Monday Katawasteya — Miss Harriet Harris, high school, 3:50 p. m. Juniper Jays — Mrs. Claude Cook, 214 Vine lane, 3:45 p. m. Dakonya — Mrs. Rella Henry, 319 S. Main, 3:50 p. m. Tuesday Unalutka — Miss Jean Webster, Reid school, 4 p. m. Oklhi — Miss Lilly Shipley, at home of Virginia Roley, 615 Florida, 4 p. m. Wednesday Wahanka — Mrs. Gail Baker, Kenwood school, 3:45 p. m. Wetomachick — Mrs. Don Priemeu, Carroll Acres, 4 p. m. Pine Bluebirds — Mrs. Gale Blakley, 1317 Harmon, 3:45 p. m. Oregon Trail Bluebirds — Mrs. Carl Erickson, 211 Drake road, 3:45 p. m. Thursday Cheskehamay — Mrs. Clifford Brown, 1237 Cumberland, 3:45 p. m. Bluebell Bluebirds — Rosella Knight, Reid school, 3:45 p. m. Oravateca — Mrs. E. W. Williamson, 27 Glen road, 3:45 p. m. Friday Iyopta — Mrs. Rees Brooks, 814 Harmon, 3:45 p. m. Sweet Pea Bluebirds — Mrs. W. G. Coleman, 1471 West Third, 3:45 p. m. Happy Times Bluebirds — Miss Charlotte Mullins, Reid school, 3:30 p. m.

Lincoln Birthday Topic for Talk

The observance of Lincoln's birthday will provide the theme for the 51st in a series of "Speak Up For Democracy" talks to be broadcast over station KBND at 6:00 p. m. on Sunday, Feb. 11, under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The address will be delivered by Ray Cooper, member of Ponderosa Pine post No. 1643. On the same day a similar message will be heard on 464 other radio stations that are participating in this V.F.W. Americanism project.

"The anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln should remind us that we are fighting this war for the same ideals that impelled the great emancipator in his battle to preserve the union," Cooper pointed out. "It was Lincoln who proclaimed that no nation can survive half-slave and half-free."

Church to Vote

First Lutheran congregation is to vote after its 11 o'clock service Sunday on the question, "Do we favor participation in the teaching of the Bible in the Bend public schools in 1945-46?" Announcement of plans for the vote was made by Rev. M. A. Thompson, pastor.

Four Boys Held

Four Sisters youths were arrested there yesterday by W. F. McGregor, deputy sheriff, and lodged in the Deschutes county jail. They were charged with vagrancy today. They are Stanley D. Porterfield, 19; Jack N. Menear, 17; James W. Piggott, 17, and Charles N. Loyd, 16. The youths were arrested in a car driven by Loyd, who assertedly was without a driver's license.

War Briefs

Western Front—Big allied push starts on western front.

Eastern Front—Soviet forces battle through streets of Kuestrin in drive to topple bastion barring road to Berlin.

Air War—American bombers attack Germany after RAF night raiders hit Berlin and oil plant at Poelitz.

Pacific—Americans start mop-up of Japanese remnants in south half of Manila.

Italy—Fifth army strengthens positions in west coast sector.

Four Boys Held

Four Sisters youths were arrested there yesterday by W. F. McGregor, deputy sheriff, and lodged in the Deschutes county jail. They were charged with vagrancy today. They are Stanley D. Porterfield, 19; Jack N. Menear, 17; James W. Piggott, 17, and Charles N. Loyd, 16. The youths were arrested in a car driven by Loyd, who assertedly was without a driver's license.

Church to Vote

First Lutheran congregation is to vote after its 11 o'clock service Sunday on the question, "Do we favor participation in the teaching of the Bible in the Bend public schools in 1945-46?" Announcement of plans for the vote was made by Rev. M. A. Thompson, pastor.

Four Boys Held

Four Sisters youths were arrested there yesterday by W. F. McGregor, deputy sheriff, and lodged in the Deschutes county jail. They were charged with vagrancy today. They are Stanley D. Porterfield, 19; Jack N. Menear, 17; James W. Piggott, 17, and Charles N. Loyd, 16. The youths were arrested in a car driven by Loyd, who assertedly was without a driver's license.

Church to Vote

First Lutheran congregation is to vote after its 11 o'clock service Sunday on the question, "Do we favor participation in the teaching of the Bible in the Bend public schools in 1945-46?" Announcement of plans for the vote was made by Rev. M. A. Thompson, pastor.

Four Boys Held

Four Sisters youths were arrested there yesterday by W. F. McGregor, deputy sheriff, and lodged in the Deschutes county jail. They were charged with vagrancy today. They are Stanley D. Porterfield, 19; Jack N. Menear, 17; James W. Piggott, 17, and Charles N. Loyd, 16. The youths were arrested in a car driven by Loyd, who assertedly was without a driver's license.

Church to Vote

First Lutheran congregation is to vote after its 11 o'clock service Sunday on the question, "Do we favor participation in the teaching of the Bible in the Bend public schools in 1945-46?" Announcement of plans for the vote was made by Rev. M. A. Thompson, pastor.

Four Boys Held

Four Sisters youths were arrested there yesterday by W. F. McGregor, deputy sheriff, and lodged in the Deschutes county jail. They were charged with vagrancy today. They are Stanley D. Porterfield, 19; Jack N. Menear, 17; James W. Piggott, 17, and Charles N. Loyd, 16. The youths were arrested in a car driven by Loyd, who assertedly was without a driver's license.

Church to Vote

First Lutheran congregation is to vote after its 11 o'clock service Sunday on the question, "Do we favor participation in the teaching of the Bible in the Bend public schools in 1945-46?" Announcement of plans for the vote was made by Rev. M. A. Thompson, pastor.

Four Boys Held

Four Sisters youths were arrested there yesterday by W. F. McGregor, deputy sheriff, and lodged in the Deschutes county jail. They were charged with vagrancy today. They are Stanley D. Porterfield, 19; Jack N. Menear, 17; James W. Piggott, 17, and Charles N. Loyd, 16. The youths were arrested in a car driven by Loyd, who assertedly was without a driver's license.

Church to Vote

First Lutheran congregation is to vote after its 11 o'clock service Sunday on the question, "Do we favor participation in the teaching of the Bible in the Bend public schools in 1945-46?" Announcement of plans for the vote was made by Rev. M. A. Thompson, pastor.

Four Boys Held

Four Sisters youths were arrested there yesterday by W. F. McGregor, deputy sheriff, and lodged in the Deschutes county jail. They were charged with vagrancy today. They are Stanley D. Porterfield, 19; Jack N. Menear, 17; James W. Piggott, 17, and Charles N. Loyd, 16. The youths were arrested in a car driven by Loyd, who assertedly was without a driver's license.

Church to Vote

First Lutheran congregation is to vote after its 11 o'clock service Sunday on the question, "Do we favor participation in the teaching of the Bible in the Bend public schools in 1945-46?" Announcement of plans for the vote was made by Rev. M. A. Thompson, pastor.

Four Boys Held

Four Sisters youths were arrested there yesterday by W. F. McGregor, deputy sheriff, and lodged in the Deschutes county jail. They were charged with vagrancy today. They are Stanley D. Porterfield, 19; Jack N. Menear, 17; James W. Piggott, 17, and Charles N. Loyd, 16. The youths were arrested in a car driven by Loyd, who assertedly was without a driver's license.

Church to Vote

First Lutheran congregation is to vote after its 11 o'clock service Sunday on the question, "Do we favor participation in the teaching of the Bible in the Bend public schools in 1945-46?" Announcement of plans for the vote was made by Rev. M. A. Thompson, pastor.