

Nelson Winner In Golf Playoff With McSpaden

By John Lewis Stone
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New Orleans, La., Feb. 14 (UP)—Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., the Mr. Consistency of golf who chills opponents with his feverish brand of play, was $1,333.33 richer today after winning the $5,000 New Orleans open in a playoff round against Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford Me.

Nelson, who last year set a new money winning record for a golf professional, and McSpaden completed the regulation 72 holes with identical scores of 284, making the extra 18-hole playoff necessary. Yesterday Nelson was practically unbeatable.

Makes Good Score

Long off the tee and precision like in his accuracy with irons, the former Texan fired a seven-under-par 65 to make McSpaden's highly creditable 70 look poor by comparison. Nelson had McSpaden four down at the start of the back nine yesterday after turning the first round in 32, five under par. Regulation figures proved no obstacle on the back nine either, Nelson carding a two-under par 33 coming home. McSpaden, Nelson's most persistent challenger this year, went out in 36 and back in 34.

The winner, three strokes down at the start of the final 72 holes on Monday, sank 12 and 15 foot putts with consistency.

Very few of the professionals remained for the final round—most of them moving on for a practice round at Gulfport, Miss., where the annual Gulfport open begins on Thursday. That too is a $5,000 event.

Winners Listed

McSpaden picked up $933.33 in war bonds (all prize money was issued in war bonds) for finishing in second place.

Other bond winners were: Claude Harmon, Grosse Pointe, Mich., 289, $733.33; Sam Snead, Hot Springs, Va., 290, $600; John Bulla, Chicago, 291, $466.66; Denny Shute, Akron, O., Jack Groat, Chicago, Henry Picard, Harrisburg, Pa., and John Revolta, Evanston, Ill., all with 293, $330 each; Craig Wood, Mamaroneck, N. Y., Sammy Byrd, Detroit, Ky Lafoon, Chicago, and Sam Schneider, Corpus Christi, Tex., all with 294, $180 each; Ed Dudley, Atlantic City, N. J., and Mike Turmesa, White Plains, N. Y., each with 295, $113 each.

Receiving $66 for their efforts were Willie Goggin, New York, 296; Bruce Caltel, Absecon, N. J., 297; Leonard Ott, Denver, Colo., 297; Chick Butan, Birmingham, Mich., 298, and George Low, Clearwater, Fla., 298.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Albany Bulldogs To Battle Bears

By J. R. Williams

The Lava Bears will meet their third Willamette valley opponent of the year when they square off with the Albany Bulldogs in a week-end series here Friday and Saturday nights.

Coached by Clyde Martin, former Redmond mentor, the Bulldogs boast only an average record for the season. Both Eugene and Corvallis won from the Albany team. Bend edged the Corvallis team in their season opener and were trounced by the Axemen the following week-end. On the basis of the Bear's recent showing the games this week-end should be about a toss-up. If they are on the upswing, as their Saturday showing against Prineville seemed to indicate, the Bears may be able to turn back the Martin men.

Higgins III

Hard luck again struck at the local squad this week with the announcement that big Bill Higgins was out with chickenpox.

Harold Smith, regular guard, was able to return to the starting lineup Saturday night, to bring the Bears back to full strength for the first time in several games. The loss of Higgins who has started most of the games at center, again weakens the Bears.

School officials announced that Don Faucett of Portland will work the series. In the search for officials to handle the district tournament Central Oregon school men are attempting to look over outside men. Faucett is a close well recommended by Emil Piluso and Frank Heniges, both highly regarded in this region.

TO QUIT TRACK

Great Lakes, Ill., Feb. 14 (UP)—Clarence (Buddy) Young, national collegiate and big ten sprint champion said today he had decided to give up track competition for the duration.

"I won't have time to do justice to competition," said Young, who was inducted into the navy last week.

NEW REASON FOR ARSON

New Hampton, Ia., (UP)—When Clarence Schueller, 12-year-old farm hand, was arrested on charges of arson, he told officers he was "tired of batching," and set fire to farm buildings formerly tenanted by Herman Schwickerath to "scare Schwickerath" into moving his stock from the farm so he wouldn't have to care for it.

Today's Sport Parade

By Buford Sommers
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Portland, Ore., Feb. 14 (UP)—They're developing a new game in Portland sports circles. It's a audience-participation wrestling.

The essentials for playing this game are few and simple: for the few, two wrestlers such as Ted Christy of Hollywood and Dr. John Bonica of Fort Lewis, Wash., and for the simple an audience simple enough to endure it. For pawns, in a few policemen, who came, add on passes.

Christy and the good doctor introduced this sport here the other night, but its acceptance won't be known until the members of the participating audience are disentangled one from another.

Before the audience can participate certain preliminaries are necessary. Dr. Bonica, of genial mien and cherubic face, must become provoked to the point where he forgets the restraints of ropes and rules. This is difficult for Dr. Bonica, an awfully good natured guy and, in the name of fine sportsmanship, overlooks many an affront that would gall a man of lesser patience.

But Christy, once he gets his 21-inch neck bowed, is clever at arousing the beast in a man. By choking and hair pulling and eye gouging and finger twisting and a host of other shabby tricks to which referees are congenitally blind and which make a spectator's gorge rise, he plagues his opponent into a frenzy of vengeance.

At this point Dr. Bonica—who has never revealed whether he is a doctor of medicine or doctor of philosophy—hurls the foul Christy over the ropes and into the aisles. This is where the audience comes in.

The game then rages up and down the laps of the ringside spectators, amid a scared men and squealing women. The men curse and the women blanch. And Christy and Bonica grunt.

The other night the thing seemed to be getting out of hand, and matchmaker Cal Herman yelled for the boys to stop. The referee yelled for them to stop. Still the fight raged on. But by the time several policemen stepped in and made them stop, we knew the boys were on their last lap. They were on our lap.

Stop Dick Wilkins Is OSC Wacry

Corvallis, Ore., Feb. 14 (UP)—How to devise a sure-fire plan that will stop Dick Wilkins, Oregon's rangy and high-scoring forward, was the big problem today for A. T. (Slats) Gill, veteran coach of the Oregon State Beavers, as he prepared his charges for the third game with the Oregon team here Saturday night.

Wilkins ranks third in the northern division scoring race, not far behind Vince Hansen and Red Rocha, both of the Washington State and Oregon State teams, respectively. He scored a mere 19 points against the Beavers last Saturday.

Gill sent his squad through another heavy practice session today, with emphasis on defensive measures. Both man-for-man and zone defenses came in for considerable attention.

Idaho's Vandals Beat Washington

Moscow, Ida., Feb. 14 (UP)—The celebrated University of Idaho Vandals completed their series triumph over the University of Washington Huskies here last night with a narrow 36-35 victory in a northern division Pacific coast conference game.

It was the fourth straight defeat for the Huskies on their current road tour and the game did not alter conference standings.

The Vandals took the upper hand in the opening minutes, but the Huskies countered with a drive that gave them the lead, though scanty, for the rest of the contest. Washington narrowed the margin with shots by Bob Jorgenson and Dick King in the final seconds but Idaho stalled until the gun. The Vandals led at halftime, 19 to 13.

The Huskies meet the Gonzaga Bulldogs in Seattle Friday and Saturday in a non-conference series.

NATIONAL LEAGUE HOCKEY
(By United Press)

A three-goal second period gave the Boston Bruins a 3 to 2 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks and a tighter hold on fourth place and a Stanley cup playoff berth in the only national league hockey game played last night.

The 27,000,000 milk cows in the United States in 1943 produced nearly 55,000,000,000 quarts of milk or over 2,000 quarts each.

"REPORT ON BRITAIN"

By James McDonald, British Consul of Portland, Oregon

It's a big event... Have a Coca-Cola

...or having fun at the family reunion

Baby takes his first steps toward his dad home on furlough, and the family circle beams in friendly happy reunion. And, of course, there's Coca-Cola from the family refrigerator to add its life and sparkle. To visitors and family alike, the words Have a Coke are the signal for a friendly get-together. Plan to have a supply of Coca-Cola ready ice-cold in the refrigerator. Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—a happy symbol of a friendly way of life.
