The Tawanka group of Shevlin completed the requirements for the first rank at their meeting

Russia for "indispensable clarification" of the Crimea conference communique.

An official announcement said the request was made in notes presented today by the French ambassadors in Washington, London and Moscow to the governments to which they are accredited.

The notes were approved by the cabinet which met this morning, with Gen. Charles De Gaulle presiding.

Points Presented

The chief points on which clarification was asked were understood to be:

1. Whether France will take part in the San Francisco confernence on exactly the same basis as the big three—in other words, as an "inviting" rather than "invited" party.

2. Whether France will have the status of full equality with the big three in the military occupation of Germany and on the control commission in Berlin.

3. Whether France will be invited to sit with the representatives of the big three at any control commission in Berlin.
