

Blind Family Keeps Home Neat as Pin

Stoughton, Wis. (AP)—One of the neatest homes in the neat little community of Stoughton, Wis., is cared for by four persons who never see the results of their labors.

The four—two brothers and two sisters of the Erdahl family—all are deaf, dumb and blind, yet they manage their household chores with practically no assistance.

The youngest, Mabel, has the job of keeping her brothers and sister in touch with the outside world because she has learned to read Braille. She also adds to the family income by selling her dainty crochet work.

The task of caring for the furnace and supply the house with kindling falls to Clarence, 48, who can split wood as easily as if he could see his woodpile.

Earl, 51 is the family gardener. He also fetches water from a next-door pump by following a clothes-line as a guide.

The family's meals are prepared by Clara, 55, who can cook a tasty dish on the stove invisible to her. Moving with sure steps, she also keeps the home in first-rate order.

Born deaf and dumb, the Erdahls early learned to become independent despite a double handicap. Then, as each neared the age of 20, his eyesight began to fail and he had to learn to live in an invisible as well as silent world.
