A. M. Phelps, 82, Dies in Vancouver
A. M. Phelps, 82, a native of Marion, Iowa, and a resident of Bend from 1930 until 1944, died this morning in Vancouver, Wash., where he made his home for the past year with his daughter, Elizabeth Phelps. Marshall S. Phelps, 411 Congress, Bend, is a son, and he left for the Washington city shortly after word of his father's death was received.

Also surviving is one grandson, Edward Phelps, Bend; three sisters, Mrs. Clara McConnell, Council Bluffs, Iowa; Mrs. J. E. Youel, Prattsburg, N. Y., and Mrs. Winne Baskerville, Bismark, N. D., and two brothers, Myron Phelps, Van Wert, Iowa, and William H. Phelps, Omaha, Neb.
Mr. Phelps came to Bend in 1930 from Heppner, and was in the employ of The Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Company Inc. here until 1944, when he retired. Mr. Phelps was preceded in death by his wife, Rosa, who died in Bend last March 30. Mr. and Mrs. Phelps were married in Iowa on August 25, 1889.

Funeral services will be held in Bend. Arrangements have not yet been completed.

Panel Conference Set for Tonight
A meeting of the newly formed community service panel of the Bend war price and ration board will be held tonight in the local OPA office, part of the Deschutes county library building, at 8 p.m. Mrs. George Simerville, chairman, has announced. It is expected that about 14 members will be present. This panel meeting was erroneously announced Saturday as having been set for March 7.

On March 7, the third annual dinner honoring OPA workers will be held in the Pine Tavern, under auspices of the OCD. Plans for this dinner are now nearing completion.

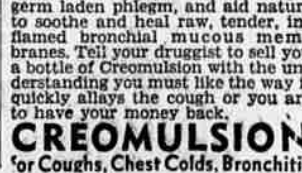

Traffic Accidents Gain in Midstate
Traffic accidents and resultant deaths gained last year in Crook, Deschutes and Jefferson counties, according to statistics released today by Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell, Jr. In the three counties there were five fatalities as against four in 1943 and three in 1942. There were a total of 373 accidents in 1944 in the three counties, divided as follows: Crook, 53; Deschutes 307 and Jefferson 13.

In the three counties in 1944, a total of 68 persons were injured in traffic accidents, the report states. By counties, they were divided: Crook, 6; Deschutes 47, and Jefferson 15.

Captain Rickard Kiwanis Speaker
Bend Kiwanis club members, meeting for their weekly noon session at the Pine Tavern, heard addresses today by Capt. Grant Rickard, training and liaison officer coordinating civilian air patrol with the army air force program, and by E. C. Parker, Kiwanis lieutenant-governor. The program was in charge of Tom Brooks. Parker gave suggestions for the year's activities at a meeting of the club board of directors, held immediately after luncheon hour. Earlier he presented a certificate of appreciation to Howard W. George, past-president of the Bend club.

Capt. Rickard, here from headquarters in San Francisco, stressed the importance of civilian air patrol training for youngsters who may later be in army training. "Anything you can do for them now will be repaid tenfold in the progress they will make when they come under actual army routine," he said.

He added that the part civilians play in the war is just as important as that of the armed forces. "Don't let down," he pleaded. "This war isn't going to be over in the next few hours. Don't let good news make you overly optimistic. The fight may be going on for a long time yet."

Progress Reported
Late reports said the Yanks were well beyond Golzheim, five miles northeast of Dueren, and moving steadily forward against somewhat disorganized opposition. The Germans in that sector appeared to be falling back at top speed behind the Erit river line 6 1/2 miles to the east, sowing huge minefields in their wake.

Armored and infantry divisions of the U. S. Ninth army farther north made their closest approach to Cologne along the Juelich-Cologne highway where they captured Steinstrass, 17 miles west of Cologne and moved on more than a mile to the east.
