Whistling Girls Are Huntresses, States Professor

Washington, March 5 (UP)—Don't feel too flattered if the girls whistle at you, mister: it's probably because they've lowered their standards. Whatever the reason, the fact is some girls have taken to whistling at men and you can blame it all on the manpower shortage.

Dr. Henry Bowman discusses the subject in the April issue of the American Magazine and comes up with some startling insights. He is director of the division of home and family living at Stephens college, Columbia, Mo.

Bowman says many a girl has become a huntress, boldly seeking dates and even proposing marriage. They'll whistle at a passing male and try to date anything "that grows whiskers" — or peach fuzz.

Action By Senate Kills Pay Bills; Busy Days Ahead

By Eric W. Allen, Jr. (United Press Staff Correspondent) Salem, Ore., March 5 (UP)—The Oregon senate today killed salary raise bills for high state officials.

Acting on "do not pass" recommendation of the joint ways and means committee, the upper house opened the 9th week of the 43rd legislature by shelving bills which would have made the following raises:

HB 263, governor, $7,500 to $9,000; treasurer and secretary of state, $5,400 to $6,000; attorney general, $5,400 to $5,750.

HB 262, supreme court justices, $7,500 to $8,000.

HB 258, real estate commissioner, $4,200 to $4,800.

SB 251, adjutant general, $4,800 to $6,000.

From four to eight "no" votes were recorded after Chairman Dean Walker of the ways and means group explained that all high salaries were considered uniformly and Oregon was found to rate well with other states.

He indicated the only salary raise bills to be favored will be for the state superintendent of public instruction, labor commissioner and state engineer.

Bill Killed The senate also killed a bill (HB 273) to require judges to impose maximum penalties, leaving the matter of parole or probation to the parole board.

Two special orders of business were slated for house consideration later today. One would revise the transportation code to tax common carriers on the basis of ton-miles, and has a divided committee report. The other is on house joint resolution 10, to provide for an interim committee to study juvenile delinquency in Oregon.

The senate tomorrow will debate Sen. Marshall Corbett's re-appointment bill, which would give Klamath county a senator to itself, and eliminate Sen. Rex Ellis' 19th senatorial district, with re-grouping in other eastern and central Oregon counties.

Tax Study Sought A senate bill introduced would appropriate $25,000 to finance the approved resolution to set up a tax study commission, as recommended by Gov. Earl Snell.

The senate labor and industries committee approved bills to permit two seasonal jobs to count for jobless benefits instead of only one as previously (SB 261), and scheduled night hearings this week on legislation liberalizing workmen's compensation.

This is the 57th day of the session, and members were hoping against hope they could finish their business by Saturday, with prospects bad.

A great deal of important legislation is pending before both houses which most members believe will take another 10 days or two weeks. Included are several tax and school bills, senate action on milk control measures, house debate on alcohol control legislation, old age assistance limit changes (now in the potent ways and means committee) and many less important bills.

Imagine the added horror of this war without the Red Cross!

Thousands of War Prisoners would be forgotten. That they have not been abandoned to their fate in this war is the achievement of your Red Cross, which has constantly reached them, even in Japan, with morale-building parcels of food, extra clothes, medicines, cigarettes and other comforts. More and more of your dollars are urgently needed to keep our men in life, health and hope until they can be brought safely home!

Thousands at front would be tormented by home worries. Millions of fighters bleed the Red Cross for relief from anxiety. Each week thousands of messages pass between Red Cross Field Directors with the troops and Home Service workers in home towns—emergency questions about wives, children, sweethearts or parents. Your dollars will bolster fighting spirit.

Suppose the Red Cross had never been created

THERE would now be no Army of Mercy to save and comfort the millions of lives wrecked or dislocated—all over the world—by earth's most destructive war. No millions of pints of blood would be collected for plasma. No millions of heartened, sustaining food packages would be delivered to despondent Allied war prisoners. No emergency messages from home would reach our men. No giant hand of compassion would be outstretched to help the victims of flood, famine and hurricane. Only chaos would be left in the wake of battle and catastrophe—if the RED CROSS' hand of mercy were withdrawn!

It is up to you to give—in gratitude that your RED CROSS was created—and grow to keep pace with the world's anguished need.

Give your dollars now—give more than ever before!

Thousands would die from loss of blood where they fell. This is the first war in which the folks at home actually saved lives at the front. Surgeons General of the Army and Navy say blood plasma has been the foremost life-saver in this war. The Red Cross, through your blood donations and money, has collected and distributed millions of pints to the medical service.
