Oregons Hopeful Of Beating Idaho In Title Contests

Eugene, Ore., March 6 (IP)— With seats for the impending Ore-gon-Washington State basketball series already as scarce as hens' teeth, both teams have started intensive preparations for the northern division championship series to be held at Pullman and Eugene. Coach John Warren's Oregon underdog victors over Oregon State last Saturday are feeling encouraged over their prospects of defeating the WSC Cougars, who tied them by defeating Idaho twice last weekend.

twice last weekend.

According to agreement of the graduate managers, the opening game of the series will be at Pullman next Saturday night. The second game—and the third one, if necessary—will be played the following Friday and Saturday at Fuene.

4 Tax Measures Go Into Hopper

Salem, Ore., March 6 (IP) — A series of four important bills, sponsored by the taxation and revenue committee, was up for house consideration today. They would set up the machinery to provide $14,000,000 for schools of the state during the next blennium. The bills, drawn at the sugges-tion of Sen. Dean Walker, chairman of the senate ways and means committee, were due for "speed-up" action merited by their importance.

11:40—News 11:45—Traffic Safety 12:00—Al Donahue's Orchestra First of the series was HB 145—levying a five-mill property tax outside of the six per cent limitation, to raise an estimated $10,000; formerly incorporated, which have recently been operating as unin-corported municipalities. 000 during two years for the build-ing program of the state board of higher education.

The next, HB 146, would allow $8,000,000 (instead of $5,000,000) to go to the schools from the income tax surpluses.
