

2 Control Bills Go to Senate for Final Revisions

By Eric W. Allen, Jr.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Salem, Ore., March 9 (U.P.)—Two control bills requested by the state liquor commission were in the senate for final concurrence in house amendments today, while the senate defeated compulsory unemployment compensation by all employers in the state.

The liquor bills, (SB's 144 and 145) passed the house yesterday after a battle similar to the one the day before on senate bill 117. They came out on a divided report and the house fight was over the substitution of the minority report for that of the majority.

The minority report recommended amendments which leave the law little changed, while the majority amendments give the commission extended powers and make compulsory jail sentences and fines for second offenses in certain liquor law regulation violations.

Report Defeated

On SB 144 the motion to substitute the minority report for that of the majority was defeated 42 to 17; on SB 145 the same motion was defeated 46 to 16. Both bills passed 42 to 16 and 45 to 14.

During the debates, Rep. John Hall challenged the constitutionality of the measures as amended by the majority of the committee. Proponents of the bills said they were needed by the commission to enforce the law adequately.

The house also killed a bill which would specifically permit corporations to engage in the practice of optometry through employment of licensed optometrists. The bill was indefinitely postponed after the house refused to substitute a favorable minority committee report for the majority "do not pass" report. The vote was 45 to 14.

Rep. Stanhope Pier, speaking for the minority favorably report, said that the bill merely protects those establishments operating on that basis in 1942. No new ones can be started, he said, nor can they expand.

Case Cited

If the bill did not pass, Pier said, it would "stifle competition" and cited a case current in Klamath Falls where an optical company was being attacked through the courts as illegal.

The senate voted 17 to 13 against the compulsory coverage bill for jobless insurance. A minority of three committeemen (Paul Patterson, Chessman, Wallace) sought "do pass" recommendation and passage on grounds all employees were entitled to coverage, that labor and employer groups agreed in its favor, and if the principle of protection was sound for employers having four or more workers, it was the same for a lesser number.

The committee majority (Newberry, Zurcher, Rand, Fatland) argued successfully the federal principle was meant to stop big gaps in unemployment, the various exemptions precluded universal coverage, relatively few firms under four workers had unemployment problems, and that small employers did not want the liberalization.

The Power and the Price

The power of the invasion armada stands out in ironic contrast with the scene on Two Jims beach, Marines of the Third Division, covered with their ponchos, lie on the beach they gave their lives to win. A few thousand yards away the battle still rages. Marine Corps photo.

He Doesn't Like Snow Shoveling

There's snow everywhere—except on those two driveway ribbons. And not an ounce removed with a shovel. Joseph C. Keane of Pittsburgh, Pa., placed a series of hot water pipes under the driveway. Results: 15 inches of snow disappeared in two hours at a cost of 60 cents for fuel. He uses an anti-freeze compound to prevent melted snow from freezing.

Trucking Weight Revision Opposed

Salem, Ore., March 9 (U.P.)—Oregon already is more liberal in trucking weights than other western states and the highway commission is opposed to further liberalization for logging trucks, the senate roads and highways committee was told last night in discussion of house bill 275.

Commission representatives said granting another 6,000 pounds under a graduated fine system would benefit willful violators of present laws and break down highways and bridges more rapidly.

Fred Packwood, representing logging interests, said his industry was trying to curb deliberate violators and sought to prevent dumping of overweight logs at weighing stations. He said the proposal would permit trucks to continue to their destination and that overloading would not be profitable because of fines.

Housemaid Tells Of Nazi Tortures

Paris, March 9 (U.P.)—A housemaid witness at the trial of eight French gestapo agents was under arrest today after testifying she was the mistress of the German chief and watched the tortures of her countrymen.

Testimony of the girl, pretty Marie Rose Helvedts, aroused so much protest from the audience in the crowded courtroom that she was charged with being an accomplice of the defendants.

"Since I was the mistress of the German chief Karl Hogg, I knew exactly what was going on," Miss Helvedts testified after explaining that it had been her job to bring food to the prisoners during the tortures.

Torture Explained

She said the gestapo agents used three stages of tortures.

"First, the victims were brought to the chief's office for an interview and were beaten with a flat bed spring," she said.

"If they refused to talk they next were placed in a bathtub full of water and held under while the water was allowed to drain out.

"If they still refused to talk, the victims were hung by the heels from a ceiling and swung against a red hot steel plate on the wall."

AMERICAN HEROES

WHILE reconnoitering at night on the western front, Sergt. Arthur G. Volonte, New York City, stumbled into a German patrol consisting of an officer and seven men. Sergt. Volonte told the officer that they were surrounded and the Nazis followed him back to the American commander. The sergeant has been awarded a Silver Star for gallantry. Americans buy War Bonds to help men like that to win this war.
