

Legislators Near Long Session End

Salem, Ore., March 15 (AP)—Oregon's most long-winded legislature tentatively set tomorrow night for adjournment and today tackled the handful of remaining major issues on the calendars.

The senate rushed to the house bill (SB 89) revamping the state's public health activities, refused to extract from committee a firemen's pension bill (SB 207), and passed a bill (SB 333) raising the state's share of pari-mutuel betting taxes, only to have notice given the latter bill may be held up for reconsideration tomorrow.

The house passed the final bill (SB 117) in a series to give the liquor commission greater control powers. The lower house finished 11 items on the 16-bill calendar during the morning session but the senate cleared only four out of 44 and any adjournment tomorrow will be because the upper house could not wade through the last-minute logjam that soon. Today was the 67th day of the session, longest in history.

Wac's Best Gift Was Pair of Shoes for G.I.

Denver (AP)—Wac Cpl. Rae Lanphere of Denver never thought there would come a time when she would welcome a pair of G.I. shoes, or a bar of soap instead of flowers or a box of candy. That was before she joined the Wacs.

Back after serving in Australia and New Guinea, Cpl. Lanphere tells of living in tents and wearing men's G.I. khaki pants and heavy shoes—which usually were borrowed from some generous soldier.

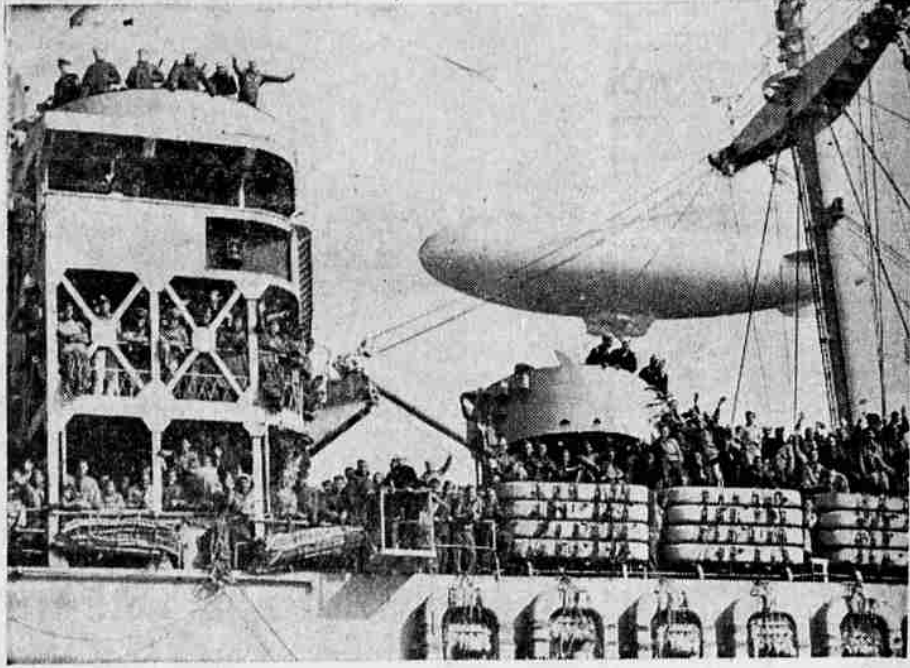

When she wasn't working as a stenographer in a photo intelligence detachment, this veteran spent her free time in army hospitals. There the Wacs talked to the boys, wrote letters for them, and read to the men whose eyes had been injured.

Cpl. Lanphere says she would rather date a G.I. in a combat zone in the south Pacific than a soldier in this country. She says, "Out there the boys haven't seen white women for so long that they treat them like queens."

JUST WHAT HE NEEDED

South Bend, Ind. (AP)—"This is worth a million dollars of medical attention," were the words of Pvt. Eugene Barkowski, son of Edward Barkowski, when he saw his childhood playmate, Pfc. Jack Petersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Petersen, walk into the army hospital ward in Paris where Barkowski was recovering from shrapnel wounds. Petersen had just recovered from pneumonia.

From Hell of Jap Prison to Golden Gate

Back from the hell of three years imprisonment in the Philippines, the first large group of American prisoners liberated from Cabantuan prison camp cram the rails of their transport as they enter San Francisco harbor. They cheer wildly as a navy blimp soars above their transport.

Bend Price Panel To See OPA Films

Under the supervision of Mrs. Connie H. James, district volunteer specialist from the Portland office of the OPA, a training course for price panel assistants will be held here Friday night in the local war price and ration board office, at 8 o'clock. Two educational films, one dealing with the work of price panel assistants, and the other with the preparation of meats, especially the lesser known cuts, will be shown. The meat film, in color and sound, is new and has not yet been shown in Portland.

Cadets Complete First Aid Work

The Civil Air patrol cadet first aid course has been completed and standard first aid cards will be issued to the cadets who satisfactorily finished the work, it was announced at this week's meeting of the CAP in the Bend high school quarters. John Mogan has been instructor of the class.

The cadets stood inspection at the start of the meeting, after which they were given 45 minutes of outside drill. The cadets then marched up Bond street from the high school to the Civil Air patrol headquarters in the Bank of Bend building. At headquarters, a course in navigation was conducted by Lt. Ollie Bowman.

A training film, "Aerial Navigation—Maps and Compass", was shown and discussed.

Bend Sailor Now In Idaho Hospital

Ronald Ballantyne, who was seriously injured at sea during a storm off the Philippines last Nov. 10, is improving at the U. S. naval hospital at Farragut, Idaho, according to his mother, Mrs. Esther E. Ballantyne, who has returned after visiting him. Mrs. Ballantyne was accompanied to Idaho by her daughter, Mrs. Roland F. Gallagher.

After being transferred to various ships at sea, Ronald reached San Francisco in February and was assigned to the Farragut hospital. Before he was injured, the sailor took part in actions in American and Asiatic Pacific theaters of war. He witnessed the sinking of the U. S. carrier Princeton.

Lapine Camp Men Seek Court Help

Portland, Ore., March 15 (AP)—Alex H. Penner, Bremerton, Wash., and B. L. Gillman, Borger, Tex., failed in their attempt to secure their release from the Lapine, Ore., civilian public service camp, when Federal Judge James A. Fee sustained a demurrer to their petition.

The two men claimed they had been classified "wrongfully" as conscientious objectors instead of as ministers, the classification they had asked for. Judge Fee gave them 10 days to file a new petition in denying them writs of habeas corpus.

Federal Income Deadline Is Here

From the office of A. E. Hill, deputy collector of internal revenue in the county courthouse comes a reminder that the end of the 1944 filing period is nearing for tax payers who wish to file before the deadline date. This is the final day for filing.

Hill announced that his office will remain open tonight until the last tax payer is waited on.

How Sober Hoskins Got His Name

Everybody kids Sober Hoskins about his name. Of course, they allow that it's appropriate. Sober never drinks anything stronger than a glass of beer. And a harder worker in the fields there never was.

"Shucks," says Sober's dad. "We named Sober 'Sober' just because he looked that way when he was born. Like we called his sister 'Gay,' and his other sister 'Prissy.' And it's had its effect on all of 'em," he adds with spirit. (Prissy is the old maid in the Hoskins family.)

Maybe we should use such names more often. And one I'd like to add is "Tolerance." If we all had Tolerance for a middle name, and lived up to it, we'd have a better, happier world.
