

Seals of 'Frisco Lacking Pitchers

By Hal Wood
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
San Francisco, March 16 (UP)—Upon the ability of owner Charley Graham to round up a capable pitching staff appears to hinge the championship chances of the San Francisco Seals in the 1945 Pacific Coast league baseball scramble.

Eight regulars who carried the Seals into a tie for third place last year and then went on to win the governor's cup playoffs, will be at their same old stands when the season opens March 31.

Manager Lefty O'Doul, while refusing to admit that the league will be weaker in 1945, is certain it won't be any stronger.

"And my boys should be considerably improved this year with the extra seasoning," says O'Doul, "if we can get the pitching."

Big Three Gone
Gone from the mound staff of 1944 is the "big three"—Tom Seaver, Ray Harrell, and holdout Bob Joyce. This trio won 66 of the 86 ball games the Seals won in 1944.

To take their place, O'Doul to date has only two campaigners of proven worth. They are Ken Brondehl and Ken Miller, a pair of high-grade moundmen obtained from the New York Giants.

Uncle Charley Graham has a deal on the fire with the Giants to obtain three more talented slingers—but nothing has come of it yet.

Behind the plate will be veteran Joe Sprinz and Bruce Ogdrowski, possibly assisted by rookie Bud Rosa or Rocco Cardinale. At first base veteran Gus Suhr is back—faced with opposition from slugging Battle Malone Sanders, a tested minor league star. Sprinz and Suhr are both "over age" on their draft status.

Veteran Back
Another veteran, 4-F Del Young will be at second; Joe Futernick, the club's leading hitter last year, will be back at short; and at third Johnny Cavalli apparently will get the call.

For the outfield, O'Doul has a wide choice of talent. Nell Sheridan, the $50,000 beauty awaiting 1946 delivery to the Giants, may be the star. Others are all veterans of past years: Willie Enos, Hank Steinbacher, Ben Guintrini, Emil Mailho, Jimmy Ripple and Bernie Uhalt—if he reports.

There are few likely looking rookies on the Seal squad of 50 at the present time. Dick Elliott, a 22-year-old service dischargee, seems the best of the young pitchers; while Eddie Ghilardi, who can play at first or in the outfield, appears the choice of the others.

Suarez to Face Rugged Battler

Portland, Ore., March 16 (UP)—Johnny Suarez, who has done everything asked of him as far as Portland fight fans are concerned, comes up against his acid test tonight when he clashes with rugged Cecil Hudson, California negro, in the 10-round main event of a boxing card at the Portland auditorium.

Suarez since coming to Portland has scored four sensational triumphs, climaxed by a knockout over tough Joey Parsons in his last trip into the squared ring.

Hudson, on the other hand, comes with a record showing victories over such fighters as Jimmy McDaniel and Rodolfo Ramirez, and appearances in New York's Madison Square garden.

The preliminaries tonight will bring together Dave Johnson and Sam Glover, heavyweights; Norman Finch and Kelly Jackson, middleweights; and Leo Shertlock and Frankie Campbell, welterweights.

Coasting Along in the Sport World

By Gene Friedman
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Los Angeles, March 16 (UP)—All the publicity given to Pete Gray, sensational one-armed outfielder for the St. Louis Browns, is particularly important now with the realization that some servicemen are going to return without an arm or a leg.

The fact that Gray was able to overcome the handicap of having only one arm, play brilliant baseball for the Nashville team and earn his way to a tryout in the major leagues cannot help but be an incentive for men who find themselves in similar situations.

More recently comes the story of a serviceman who lost a leg, who is planning to pitch for the Washington Senators.

Here in Los Angeles a pair of civilians, both handicapped, have mastered the art of living normal lives and have passed on what they have learned.

The two men are Louis Leo Jones, 51, and Frank De Silver, 38. Jones hasn't had any legs since he was 15. He is in the concession business, plays golf in the high 80's, and is a crack swimmer.

De Silver, an auto salesman, has only one arm. He likewise plays 80 golf, badminton, tennis and billiards and carries an impressive 161 bowling average.

Jones walks most places on wooden legs but uses a motor scooter to get around more quickly on the golf course.

Both Jones and De Silver admitted early bitterness, but have learned their lives weren't ended. They pass on to handicapped veterans their understanding:

"You'll have to get used to people feeling sorry for you—it's very tough at first, but will wear off. After a while you'll get so you can do many things you never dreamed you'd be able to do when you first lost a limb or limbs.

"This comes after you win the mental battle you're going to have with yourself, which is very rough at first, but smooths out with time.

"Perseverance is a prerequisite—you might as well realize that. Start off easy and after a while you'll be nearly normal again."

Jones and De Silver are serious about their goal—serious about having challenged Bing Crosby and Bob Hope in a handicap match for war charities.

Favored Quintets Tourney Victors

Salem, Ore., March 16 (UP)—If the Oregon state "A4" high school basketball tournament runs as true to form as the opening round yesterday, it will be Washington high school of Portland against the Medford Tigers in the finals Saturday night.

While the underdogs of yesterday's opening round tossed in a few scares, all the favored teams came through with victories and were scheduled to tangle tonight in semi-final battles.

Washington whacked the Eugene axmen, 45-32; Baker eked out a 33-32 triumph over Newberg; Medford rolled over Vernonia 44-29; and Oregon City dunked Hillsboro 43-25 in the opening round yesterday afternoon and last night.

Games Billed
The Washington crew from Portland draws the Bulldogs from Baker in the first half of tonight's semi-final slate while the Medford Tigers, who have run their undefeated victory string to 27, square off with the strong Oregon City cagers in the second game.

Meanwhile, Oregon's "big four" in "B" high school circles swing into action tomorrow afternoon in the first round of their fight for the "B" championship. Clatskanie, reigning as pre-tournament favorite, squares off with John Day and Arlington faces Reedport in the opening games.

NATIONAL LEAGUE HOCKEY
(By United Press)
The Boston Bruins clinched fourth place in the national hockey league and the last Stanley cup playoff berth which accompanies it last night by defeating the Chicago Black Hawks, 5 to 3, before more than 15,000 fans in Chicago.

In the other game played, the second place Detroit Red Wings gained their first triumph in two years over the champion Montreal Canadiens, winning 2 to 1, to end a victoryless streak of 20 games against the Canadiens.

RODMAN ON COMMITTEE
Madras, March 16 (Special)—Fred L. Rodman of Madras, a veteran of world war I, has been named a member of the Jefferson county veterans farm loan certifying committee, announced Ashton Forest, F. S. A. supervisor in charge of Redmond, Princeville and Madras offices.

Birds in perched nests usually are helpless for many days after being hatched, while the young of birds that nest on the ground are able to run and feed soon after hatching.

Kalama Defeated
Longview knocked Kalama out of the tourney by taking a 36-31 decision. Bert Neib... Bellingham had too much height and ruggedness for a game South Kitsap quit, taking a 41-32 decision. Snohomish provided a real thrill when they overcame a five-point fourth quarter deficit to eliminate John Rogers of Spokane, 32-30.

North Kitsap manhandled Wenatchee to give the Panthers their second and final defeat, 42-34. Lake Washington (Kirkland) had little trouble with Yakima, is in no better condition after he

Portland Eagles Win Over Stars
Seattle, March 16 (UP)—The Portland Eagles evened the northwest hockey semi-finals at two games apiece last night by taking a rugged contest from the Seattle Stars, 8-5.

The rivals play in Portland tonight and return to Seattle Sunday for the sixth game of the best-of-seven series.

Portland scored twice within the first three minutes, Red Conn and John Millar beating goalie Percy Jackson with close-in shots.
