Prineville Camp Fire Girls Observe Week With Programs

Prineville, March 20 (Special)—Reports from local Camp Fire Girls, Bluebirds and Guardians indicate that the observance of National Camp Fire week—March 11 to 17—was livened by a stepped-up program, sales and ceremonial procedure.

Members attended the community church in a body wearing service uniforms. Guardians sang "The Sheltering Flame" preceding a brief review by Rev. W. N. Byars of organization aims. His sermon dealt with "Why and How We Worship."

Display In Window Throughout the week there has been an attractive display in the J. C. Penney store window including a ceremonial gown, a service uniform, samples of handcraft and honor beads of the seven crafts.

Early in the week the girls sponsored a city-wide doughnut drive selling 661 dozen supplied by the Bake-Rite bakery of Bend.

Bluebirds are making pin cushions and learning spatter printing while several Camp Fire groups have adopted as their service project the selling of tags for the annual Crook county library tag day. All girls are working on their personal count books.

Last Wednesday Guardians hiked out of town to practice building four types of fires and the preparation of several camp fire foods. Tomorrow a guardian council fire will mark the culmination of the nine weeks training course given by Mrs. William Morse, Jr., field secretary. Twelve guardians will receive certificates off Trail Seekers rank.

Mrs. Morse announces that the complete set of Camp Fire books and supplies for the lending library has arrived and that the former charter membership of 140 has been upped to 175.
