

I.C.C. Requests Safety Devices

Washington, March 21 (AP)—The interstate commerce commission today ordered the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railway to show cause by May 15 why it should not install adequate safety devices on its line between Wishram, Wash., and Bend, Ore.

The order accompanied an ICC report of an accident near Oakbrook, Ore., Feb. 1, when two freight trains collided head-on because of the failure of an engineer to obey a written train order. The engineer and another employee were killed and six injured.

The report also referred to another accident on this line in January, 1942, in which two employees were killed and three injured. At that time the ICC recommended that adequate safety devices be installed. Neither of the accidents would have happened if the road had provided proper mechanical means to prevent two trains from occupying the same section of track, the ICC said.

F. S. Besson, Jr. Youngest General

Brig. Gen. Frank S. Besson Jr., 34, son of Col. S. F. Besson who is now in command of Camp Abbot, is now the youngest ground or services forces general in the American army, it was learned here today.

Besson was made a brigadier general in ceremonies at the Persian Gulf command headquarters in Teheran, Iran, according to a news account in a Portland paper, which was accompanied by a photograph showing Besson receiving his silver star.

A graduate of West Point in 1932, Gen. Besson before the war spent considerable time in flood control work on the Willamette and Columbia rivers, perfected the steel air force landing mat, and developed stream-crossing equipment.

When he was promoted, Gen. Besson gave credit for his success to the men under his command, who engaged in the delivery of supplies to Russia.

Camp Being Set Up for Workers

Establishment of a small camp to house conscientious objectors to be employed in puddling and priming the North Unit Irrigation canal, was begun today on the ditch about 10 miles northeast of Bend. Bureau of reclamation officials said that they planned to house between 15 and 20 of the men now stationed at the Wickup camp, in the new location. As work necessitates, additional men will be added, it was said.

Several small buildings, formerly C.C.C. structures, which were used for headquarters during the Fourth corps army maneuver, have been moved to the site. They will be shaped to form a dormitory, mess hall, showers and an office, it was reported.

Veteran of Air War Visits Here

Ribbons for active aerial duty on 63 missions in the South Pacific, stars for the first engagement at Rabaul and Kaveing, and the group presidential citation are on the tunic of Sgt. Dayton K. Crosswhite of the U. S. marine corps who arrived on a troop transport in the harbor of San Francisco recently and is spending the week in Bend.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crosswhite, former resident of Bend, Sgt. Crosswhite fought overseas with a marine air wing as radio gunner for 10 months, becoming familiar with the Bismark Islands, New Ireland and Bougainville.

Men Say Prayers
"We really said our prayers," the sergeant commented, "when we were shot down 70 miles below Rabaul. The enemy shot our life rafts from under us, killing the first pilot and the navigator. We survivors floundered in the sea for half an hour before being picked up by a navy PBV."

Sgt. Crosswhite will return to overseas duty following a six months rehabilitation period at Cherry Point, North Carolina. He attended the Bend high school, graduated from Prineville high and enlisted in the marine corps January 4, 1943. His aunt, Mrs. A. P. Hull, is a resident of Bend.

Ex-Bend Resident Suddenly Stricken

Hesco F. Murphy, for 20 years a Bend resident and an employee of Brooks-Seanlon Lumber Company Inc., for that length of time, died last night in a Salem hospital, local friends were advised today. Mr. Murphy, who moved to Jefferson about a month ago, was suddenly stricken, and was unable to rally following an operation, according to reports.

The body is being brought to Bend by the Niswonger and Winslow funeral home, but the date of the funeral, to be held here, has not yet been set.

Mr. Murphy, who was 50 years old, is survived by his wife, three daughters and three sons. The daughters are Mrs. J. Youngblood, San Francisco; Mrs. M. K. Bue, Seattle; and Mrs. Jay Morgan of Bend, who is now in California visiting her husband who recently returned from overseas. The sons are Sgt. Jack Murphy, now in the south Pacific; Lt. William Murphy, with the army air corps at Courtland, Ala.; and George Murphy, who soon will graduate from the Bend high school.

Mrs. Murphy, who only last week left to join her husband in Jefferson, was reported to have been with him when death came.

Conchie Assigned Job in Hospital
Portland, Ore., March 21 (AP)—A liberalized policy in dealing with conscientious objectors was in force in the Portland federal court today.

Federal Judge Claude McColloch revealed the new procedure in placing 27-year-old Kenneth D. Taylor of Farwell, Tex., on probation for the duration of the war and six months thereafter, or not to exceed 10 years.

Offenders of this sort previously have received county jail or penitentiary terms and remanded to the custody of the U. S. attorney general.

Sent To Hospital
Judge McColloch said in the future conscientious objectors tried in Portland will be turned over to the federal probation office of the U. S. district court and their activity will be determined by probation officials. In Nunn's case, he is being assigned to duty in a tuberculosis hospital in The Dalles, Ore.

"It has been the policy of the attorney general in the past, through the department of justice," Judge McColloch commented, "to place 'conchie' in road camps or similar detention areas and to give them a choice of working in hospitals or other places after they have been confined for 30 days."
