

Ward Threatens Action on Taxes

Chicago, March 22 (UP)—Montgomery Ward and Co. will discontinue making tax returns or payments on sales in seized properties "unless Wards is assured that future tax collections will be paid to it," H. L. Pearson, treasurer of the firm, warned the army today.

Pearson, in a letter to Maj. Gen. Joseph Byron, army manager of the seized properties, accused the army of collecting sales and excise taxes from customers without paying them "to the proper authorities, nor to Wards."

The army seized Ward's properties in seven cities Dec. 28 to enforce war labor board directives.

Pearson said the company asked Byron on Feb. 7 to make arrangements for reporting and paying taxes for the seized properties. He said he asked assurance that all necessary tax returns and payments "will be promptly and fully met by the army" but no reply had been received.

Assurance Asked

The company, he declared, has continued to make the necessary tax returns covering such sales. But, he warned, if the army does not repay the amounts "which Wards has advanced in payment of taxes the army has collected, and "unless Wards is assured that future tax collections will be paid to it," by tomorrow, the company will stop making tax returns or payments on sales in the seized properties.

In another statement the company charged that the army paid from its own funds over $2,000,000 (M) more than it appropriated during its first month of operation of the seized properties.

Previously, the army had notified Wards that the government planned to release to the company $2,275,000 (M) in time payments made since the seizure. The government also planned to release other disputed collections estimated at $900,000, the firm was told.

Alaskan Valley Scene of Crash

Headquarters, 11th AAF, Alaska, March 22 (UP)—A land rescue party climbing to the scene of the crash of an army C-47 in Cathedral valley today reported little progress in the search.

Of six aboard the plane, two were believed alive. Two army surgeons and one chaplain parachuted to the wreckage after a circling plane sighted it through the Aleutian fog.

The lost plane presumably struck a mountain while en route to the Aleutians from Anchorage March 18. Names of those aboard were not released.
