

Trip to Portland Due for Donors

Members of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority who have sponsored three trips for blood donors to the Portland blood bank, today announced plans for a fourth one to be made on April 20. Names of those volunteering to make this trip are to be registered with Mrs. Wayne Faddis at Wetle's store, it was announced.

According to Mrs. Faddis there appears to be an impression among men that only women are being sought for the trips. She made it plain today that men also are asked to donate their blood for use on the battle fields, and are invited to participate in the trips with women.

It developed today that two of the prospective donors who made the third trip to Portland last Friday were rejected because they were minors and did not have the written permission of their parents or guardians. Mrs. Faddis said that this is important, and they must have a signed card which will be furnished them.

Group Named

Those who last Saturday contributed blood were:

Catherine Her, Lucille Wood, Edith Dart, Betty Hampson, Leona Bryant, Eleanor Bechen, Elizabeth May, Mary Ellen May, Ruth Ann Terlisner, Mrs. Fred Mill, Mrs. Arnold DeCarufel, Hazel Hollenbeck, Mae Welch, Mrs. John Murray, Mrs. Allen Kramer, Mrs. C. H. Corbett, Mildred Hamner, Mrs. Emilla Smith and Mrs. W. C. Robinson.

Frances Young and Frankie Hogland made the trip but their blood was not accepted because they did not have the written consent of their parents. Mrs. A. J. Chute signed up to go, but was unable to make the trip.

City Meeting

K. E. Longballe, N. R. Gilbert, Vance Coyner and George Euston, of the constitution and bylaws committee of the Bend industrial fund committee, with Carl A. Johnson, chairman, and Don H. Peoples, secretary, attended the meeting. H. H. DeArmond, another member of the constitution committee, was unable to attend.

Understanding Sought

This group sought an understanding with the city commission as to the manner in which their fund of approximately $13,000 could be used with the city's $10,000 for the bringing of new payrolls to the city. The commis-oners explained that in placing the $10,000 in the present budget, it was understood that this money could be used only for the purchase of tangible things, such as sites and buildings. Therefore, it was pointed out, the Bend industrial group, composed of business men and others, could have no say in the disposition of the city money.

The commission, however, was invited to sit in with the civilian group, and thus be familiar with the manner in which the other fund is administered.

Since it was the opinion of those present that the city would probably not have occasion to use any of its $10,000 industrial fund before the end of the present fiscal year, it was suggested that the money be allowed to revert to the general fund, and that a similar, or larger amount be placed in the 1945-46 budget. At the same time, it was proposed that the city might liberalize the manner in which the money could be used, and thus permit a closer function of the two funds.

Barn Protested

Lt. Chester C. Myers, a veteran of Company I, who resides at 155

East Hawthorne avenue, appeared before the commission to protest alleged unsanitary conditions at the nearby cavalry barn. He said that "the place is a breeding place for flies," and that he feared for the health of members of his family.

N. R. Gilbert, a member of the Rim Rock Riders who keep horses at the barn, and who was present at the meeting, assured Lt. Myers that every effort would be made to keep the premises clean.

When City Manager C. G. Reiter reported that the state board of health had recommended that Bend have a city health officer, the commission voted to engage Dr. Wayne S. Ramsey, now county health officer, in that capacity.

Besides the visitors, the following officials were at the meeting: Commissioners Munkres, Loyde S. Blakley, Mayor A. T. Niebergall, City Manager Reiter, City Recorder George Simerville, City Attorney Ross Farnham, Fire Chief LeRoy Fox and Chief of Police Ken C. Gullett.

Marriage Offers Mount to Fifty

Stoneham, Mass., March 22 (AP)—Basil A. Trasker, 47-year-old father of three children, revealed today that he had received 50 offers of marriage as result of his newspaper advertisement for a wife.

"Being father, mother, and general factotum for my kids didn't give me much time to scout around on my own for a wife," Trasker said. "So I put an advertisement in the paper."

Trasker, who is unemployed, was divorced from his wife last week.

"I've had proposals from back bay divorcees, school teachers, business women, and one 80-year-old grandmother," he said. "I never realized there were so many lonely people in the world."

"I'm following up one," he smiled. "She had an awfully nice voice over the telephone."

War Loan Drive Plans Discussed

The utilization of quotas as a spearhead to launch the Seventh War Loan Drive in Deschutes county was emphasized yesterday by Wilbur M. Carl, deputy manager of the state war finance committee, who conferred with chairmen of the local committee at a noon luncheon held in the dining room of the Pilot Butte Inn.

Carl suggested dividing all industries and business organizations in the county into group classifications and holding a series of meetings with the top managers of all firms to lay the groundwork for the seventh financial campaign.

"I know of no better postwar planning in the world than having a backlog of bonds in this community," Carl declared. "It's the best insurance for stable, progressive peacetime enterprises."

Koiso Tells Japs Grave Days Ahead

Tokyo, March 22 (AP)—Premier Gen. Kuniaki Koiso told the Japanese DIET today that the policies of his government "admittedly have been inadequate," with the nation not able to plan and produce "as much as we desire."

Koiso's surprising admission came as the Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri Hochi warned that the fall of two Jima and increasing heavy American air raids on the homeland have confronted Japan with its "gravest crisis since the beginning of our history."

The premier's statement and the newspaper article were disseminated by the Japanese Domei agency and recorded by FCC monitors.

State Healthiest, U. S. Data Prove

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Rep. Harris Ellsworth, R., Ore., said today he was grateful to selective service for proving that the Pacific coast—and particularly Oregon—is the healthiest place in the nation.

The percentage of men rejected for physical reasons in Oregon was the lowest of any state in the Union, Ellsworth said.

"Only 24.4 per cent of those examined in Oregon were rejected," he said. "This figure is far better than the national average which is 39.2. I am grateful to selective service for compiling this information."

Lag Is Reported In Fund Drive
