

Officer Warns Of Diphtheria

The recent diphtheria outbreak in Molalla which affected nearly 50 persons and resulted in one death should be considered by the people of Oregon as tragic but convincing evidence of the urgent need for the greatest possible extension of adequate safeguards against the disease, Dr. W. S. Ramsey, Deschutes county public health officer, emphasized today in a statement dealing with the menace of diphtheria.

"We advise parents to take their children to their family physician for immunization," he declared. "In addition, the Deschutes county health department offers immunization every Friday from 1 until 3 p. m. in the health department offices in the courthouse."

The first and most important line of defense against diphtheria as outlined by Dr. Harold M. Erickson, state health officer, is routine immunization of all children before the age of one. Children who were not immunized during infancy should also receive toxoid injections, the official said.

Since raw milk was suspected by some health officials as the agent responsible for spreading the disease in Molalla, Dr. Erickson admitted it was only natural for people to cite the epidemic in support of the present agitation for universal pasteurization of fluid milk. While he personally advocates pasteurization of milk and other dairy products, the state health officer said that, in the case of a milk-borne diphtheria outbreak, pasteurization should be regarded as a secondary issue. Non-availability at the present time of pasteurizing equipment has been given as the principal reason for not requiring pasteurization of all fluid milk.

Non-availability of toxoid cannot, he stressed, be cited by parents as a reason for not having had their children and themselves immunized against diphtheria.

All-Metal Food Locker Planned

Plans for the construction of an all-metal food locker system for Bend were announced here today by Louis H. Helphrey, who added that he is now negotiating with the war production board for the acquisition of the necessary materials for the plant. Helphrey said that he could not divulge the location of the plant at this time, other than it would be erected in a convenient downtown location.

A war production requisite is that at least 65 per cent of the lockers to be installed must be rented in advance, which would then assure at least 300 to 500 units in the original installation.

A feature of the proposed new locker plant will be a quick-freezing unit, enabling depositors quickly to draw the heat from the product, almost instantly sealing in the natural flavor. Helphrey estimated that persons using the new lockers will save from $75 to $150 annually. And the all-metal construction permits of constant cleanliness and is a safeguard against pilfering, he said.

Signup Urged

The war food administration requires that at least 60 per cent of the lockers be rented in advance before construction of 300 units will be permitted. Since there are a few more of the lockers yet to be rented, Helphrey urged those interested to sign up promptly as this will expedite construction of the plant.

Helphrey, who is at present Deschutes county veterinarian service officer, is a veteran of the present war, having served as a major in England before being medically discharged. He is also former manager of the Medo-Land creamery here.

9th Reaches Elbe

In American hands and seven more of German's 20 largest cities—Hamburg, Bremen, Dortmund, Duisburg, Dusseldorf, Leipzig and Magdeburg—were by-passed, under direct attack or imminently threatened by the allied sweep. The swift capitulation of the McDermott reported that the juncture with the red army might be effected before nightfall tomorrow if the Germans failed to rally their disorganized forces for a delaying defense fight on the Elbe.

The link-up would split Germany in two, seal the fate of Berlin and probably end all organized enemy resistance except perhaps in the "islands of resistance" in the Bavarian redoubt, along the North sea coast and in the Ruhr.

Do You Need a Locker? Modern Food Locker Plant Planned For Bend, Says L. H. Helphrey

The latest type food locker system of all-metal construction is planned for Bend, L. H. Helphrey, who will be owner of the plant, announced today. The installation is subject to War Production Board approval, Helphrey said, and at least 300 of the 500 units in the original installation must be ordered in advance. While the government is very interested in food conservation, he said, it can only issue priorities for the construction of needed locker space when at least 60% of the lockers to be installed are rented in advance.

Quick Freezing Unit

A feature of the new plant will be a quick freezing unit which has not been here-to-fore available in Bend. Quick freezing withdraws the heat from the product almost instantly and seals in the natural flavor. It kills bacteria and foods can be kept in their natural freshness for many months.

All-metal lockers and drawers will be used exclusively in the new plant. This type of locker is always brilliantly clean, pilfer-proof and there is far less dehydration of foods stored. Metal lockers came into use at about the start of the war and few installations have been made since that time. According to available information, metal lockers afford users food savings of from $75 to $150 a year.

While he was not in a position to announce the location, Helphrey said that the new plant would be in a convenient downtown spot where ample parking space is available. Such a location, he pointed out, would allow patrons to make purchases in local downtown stores and place them in lockers for future use.

The War Food Administration requires that at least 60% of the new units must be rented before approval will be granted for installation. This means, Helphrey said, that he must have definite orders for 300 units. According to a survey, he said, there are now hundreds of people in and near Bend who need locker space but have been unable to secure it. The WPB insists that renters must be producers of food, that is they must be operators of farms, supervise such operations or those who grow foods normally stored in lockers. Under the later classification, Bend folks and those in rural areas who grow victory gardens could in most cases qualify.

Rent Placed in Escrow

Under the regulation, those who desire a locker shall pay a year's rent in advance and all money received shall be placed in escrow in a bank. In this case, Helphrey said, all checks should be made payable to the Bank of Bend. This bank will hold all money until such time as the lockers are ready for use.

The yearly rent for the door-type all metal lockers is set at $10 and for the large drawer lockers the rent is $12.

So that clearance can be received and installation started at an early date, Helphrey urges those desiring locker space to fill in the application and mail it at once. Choice locations will be reserved in the order that applications are received, he said. For further information, telephone 857-J or 113.

Pine Forest

Pine Forest, April 9 (Special)—The Pine Forest grange met in regular session April 3 with visitors present from the Eastern Star grange. They were Worthy Master and Mrs. E. D. Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Walters and Homer Brown. The Eastern Star grange has invited the Pine Forest ladies degree team to put on the third and fourth degrees sometime soon at the Eastern Star meeting. The executive committee gave a report on the re-decoration of the Pine Forest hall, and nearly $300 was allowed for the job. Edna Ives was given the obligation in the first and second degrees. After the meeting the social hour consisted of songs acted out, grange work questions, and a table with a number of articles on it. After passing the table in a line, each person was called on to write what they saw. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Straughn, Mrs. Her and Mr. Gless.

The Y. G. R. has been disbanded for a while because of not enough young people, but will reorganize at any time when enough are interested.

Mrs. Lucile Smead attended grange for the first time since her serious illness. She was accompanied by her daughter, Maizie.
