New York, April 21 (IP—They may come down to earth with a crash, right in their own Comiskey park today, but the way the Chicago White Sox have been playing to date entitles them to a revised rating in the American league pennant picture.

At this time a year ago, the eventual pennant winners, the St. Louis Browns, were passed off just as lightly as the White Sox are now.

The Chicagoans have won only three straight, but that is enough to start the pennant bee buzzing in the bonnet of the ever-optimistic Jimmy Dykes.

Yesterday's 3 to 2 victory in the home opener against the champion Browns came the hard way with the chips down in the 10th Inning.

Gets Third Single
Outfielder Oris Hockett hit his third single, went to second on Johnny Dickshot's sacrifice bunt and scored on Roy Schalk's double, Ed Lopat, veteran southpaw, shaded Al Hollingsworth, Brownie lefty, in a duel in which both were hit frequently, but at scattered intervals.

The White Sox, who won only one game in their first seven starts last scason, have gotten three creditable pitching jobs from Lopat, Bill Dietrich, and Thornton Lee, another southpaw. And the hitting has been both pientiful and timely.

Also atop the American league with four straight victories were the New York Yankees, who beat the Senators at Washington in their home opener, 6 to 3. First baseman Nick Etten drove in that it no longer is a question of whom the club owners want, but whom they can get.

New York, April 21 (IP)—The field for the successor of the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis as baseball commissioner has narrowed down to such an extent that it no longer is a question of whom the club owners want, but whom they can get.

The two men who could have had the job have turned it down. James A. Farley eliminated himself in the deliberations of the special four-man committee which the major league gets set up to recommend Landis' successor. The money he is receiving as an executive with a soft drink manufacturing concern was too much more than the $50,000 a year the commissionership pays.

And Edward Grant Barrow decided against the job because of his health and his advanced years. He soon will be 77.

So it looks like Ford Frick, president of the national league, is going to get the job after all. He has been the only campaigner for opposition within his own league.

The situation is such that there seems to be doubt whether the major league club owners will be fans might have their doubts, realizing the temptation that these squares and the responsibility of the major league club owners will be fans might have their doubts, realizing the temptation that these squares and the responsibility of the major league club owners will be players might face, and knowing the commissioner is in conceivable even though it could happen.

Baseball never needed a commissioner missioner more. Within the next year dozens of service men are commissioner more. Within the next year dozens of service men are commissioner more. The situation is such that there seems to be doubt whether the major league club owners will be able to muster the majority of 12 votes necessary to select Landis' successor when they get together in Cleveland next Tuesday. The word from the pipe line department now is that the commission is going to recommend two men, Frick and Leslie J. O'Connor, who for years served as Landis' secretary.

A deadlock may develop since O'Connor is strong in the west, but has no support in the east If Frick cannot be named as a compromise candidate, the major the first structure of the sport lacks actual "high court" enforcement power to deal with such a situation.

So the magnates better look the field over again and choose in a candidate by the process of climation, if necessary. Frick has shown himself to be a capable baseball executive, is young and vigorous and missed getting the post at the February meeting—treportedly by just one vote. They haven't named a better man who would accept the post.

Bill Sheffold, Don Bushnell and Vern Clark, completed the group. Squad Is Small

The Bend team will not enter all of the relays, since the majority of events require a large number of sprinters, a scarce item on the squad. The only event that shown himself to be a capable baseball executive, is young and vigorous and missed getting the post at the February meeting—treportedly by just one vote. Well, the Rainlers are on the top of the heap in the Pacific coast league pennant chase—but not necessarily because of a slugging array of talent.

Last night was a good example.

The Rainiers won two from the Oakland Acorns, 3-2 and 2-0—on the strength of some very fine pitching by the veteran Carl Fischer and Glenn Elliott.

Fischer and Glenn Elliott.

Meanwhile, the Portland Beavers remained in a deadlock for first by taking a 2-0 win with the Hollywood Stars, winning the opener 1-0°and the nightcap 7-6.
