Army to Release Its Older Men

Washington, April 24 (P)—The war department announced today that army enlisted men 42 or older may be discharged from the service upon application.

Application for discharge by such men will be rejected only if they are undergoing disciplinary action or require further medical or surgical treatment, the war department said.

Eligible soldiers overseas who apply will be returned to the United States for discharge at the carliest practicable date.

The war department estimated

The war department estimated approximately 50,000 soldiers are cligible to apply.

The new policy does not apply to officers, but there already is provision for surplus officers to be discharged.
