Pine Waste Study Looms for Region

sive research might be made of use of lodge pole and Ponderosa pine waste in Central Oregon, a telegram was received today by the Bend Chamber of commerce from U. S. Senators Wayne Morse and Guy Cordon, reporting the passage of a bill in congress pro-viding $1,228,900 for such experi-mental work. Of this sum, apmental work. Of this sum, ap-proximately $50,000 will be furn-ished the Pacific northwest for est and range experiment sta-tions at Portland, it was said.

The senators explained in their telegram that the bill as originally submitted had been greatly submitted had been greatly slashed in the house, and that Cordon and Morse had appeared before the subcommittee on appropriations and protested. When the measure reached the senate $227,520 was added to the appropriation. Returned to the house, it passed on a poll vote.

Proponents of the bill had asked for $1,500,000.

Telegram Received
The telegram said in part:
"Passage of the measure now will permit establishment of a forest utilization unit at the Pacific northwest forest and range experiment station."

cific northwest forest and range experiment station."

The experiment station, operated in connection with the forest service, is headed by Dr. J. Alfred Hall, blochemist, and former assistant director of the national wood experiment station at Madison, Wis. The Madison plant had been concentrating largely on production of alcohol from wood.
