

U. S. May Cancel Aluminum Deal With Canadians

Washington, May 16 (AP)—Recommendation by the war production board for cancellation of more than half of the Shipshaw aluminum contract with Canada indicated today that negotiations may be started soon to end the entire deal.

The WPB yesterday asked the Metals Reserve corporation to cancel the optional portion of the 250,000,000 (M) pound aluminum contract, leaving only 100,000,000 (M) pounds that this country is still obligated to buy from the Aluminum Company of Canada.

Sen. Guy Cordon, R., Ore., said today he was "hopeful" the WPB would act favorably on the recommendation of the senate small business committee that the necessary negotiations be undertaken to release the United States entirely from the contract.

Called "Mistake" The committee also is seeking to learn why the government originally financed vast expansion of the Canadian Aluminum company's Shipshaw facilities for protection of aluminum when it could not meet U. S. demands.

Othman Visits Federal Chief; Finds Wrist Watch Misplaced

By Frederick C. Othman (United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, May 16 (AP)—The time has come to tell you something about the biggest businessman there is.

When he orders up shellac he buys $24,000,000 worth of it. He operates 920 factories in 46 states and heads so many corporations he is fixing a list so the senate can learn which does what.

He wears gold-rimmed glasses, a black suit and black tie with a small red stripe. The biggest banker in history looks like a banker ought to look.

You wouldn't step up to him and call him, "Bub." He's an efficient man. Ninety-nine out of every 100 wrist watch wearers wear same on their left wrists.

He wears his wrist watch on his right, or writing paw. The time of day is in front of him always, even when he's writing checks, which I should judge is most of the time.

He told the senators how some of the money's been spent. Jotting down millions and billions in figures is confusing to me; if you don't mind I'll spell out some of the loan administrator transactions:

Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes told the committee on Monday that the "deal was a mistake in judgment from beginning to end" and that the office of production management (forerunner of WPB) ignored proof he submitted showing domestic plants could attain the stepped-up output for war purposes.

Naphthalene flakes are used to keep mole-crickets from seedbeds.

His Defense Plant Co., one of the outfits he wants to fold up, now owns seven billion dollars worth of factories scattered all over the land.

So far his Defense Supplies Corp., has bought nearly three billion dollars worth of aviation gasoline, plus war materials. His Metals Reserve Corp. had to buy up a stockpile of scarce metals for war and ran smack-dab into the OPA's price ceilings.

For the record, Sen. Robert F. Wagner of New York has introduced a bill doing away with the Defense Plant Corp., the Metals Reserve Co., the Rubber Reserve Co., the Defense Supplies Corp., and the Disaster Loan Corp.

"I also think it would be a good idea if we could have a king of survey of the RFC," said Sen. Robert F. Taft of Ohio. "It is so big and conditions have changed so rapidly that now it is impossible for anybody to discover what powers it has and what powers have ceased."

Snyder, the St. Louis banker appointed by President Truman to head the biggest business ever, didn't argue that. He said he'd get up a survey for the senators. Then he glanced down at his ever-ready watch and got out of there. He didn't say where he was going, but my guess is that he had some more checks to sign.

Rule in Germany

(Continued from Page One) brought out the following points: Local government courts will continue to function under German law until the military government issues full directives.

The tendency of military courts will be to impose maximum sentences which can be lightened rather than letting culprits off with a light penalty which cannot be increased.

Washington experts are considering both long and short-range policies, and no announcement of them can be expected until other powers are consulted.
