

Scout Camporee To Be Saturday

An outstanding feature of the scouting program, the Fremont district camporee, will be held in Shevlin park tomorrow and Sunday, with Virgil Moss, assistant scout executive for the Fremont district, in charge. He will be assisted by Bob Lamont of Klamath Falls, executive for the Modoc council, and Wayne Overholser, who will entertain as story-teller Saturday night.

The outing will begin at 2 p. m. Saturday with the setting-up of camp, arrangement of craft exhibits, dinner and clean-up. At 8 p. m. a campfire court of honor will be held, with each patrol to present a stunt not less than 5 minutes nor more than 10 minutes in length. Stunts will be judged, it has been announced. Each troop wishing to make awards should turn over its badges and certificates to the advancement chairman through Moss, those in charge stress.

Reveille Set
Reveille will be at 6 a. m. Sunday, with breakfast scheduled for 7 a. m. Following inspection, a service will be held at 8:30 a. m. The rest of the morning will be devoted to a scoutcraft activity program, including competition in scout pacing, compass trail work, photo stalking, judging and log chopping.

Dinner will be served at noon, followed by camp site inspection at 1 p. m. Awarding of ratings, retirement of colors, and the Scout oath will complete the program with dismissal at 1:15 p. m.

Those in charge of the outing have especially invited parents and friends of boys participating to attend.

OLSON WINS DISCHARGE
Another Central Oregon soldier has been discharged from the service because of having the necessary demobilization points, it was reported today by the United Press from Fort Lewis, Wash. He is T/4 Clair L. Olson of Gilchrist.

Airline Takes Passengers on Survey Flight to Northwest

(Northwest Airlines, which opens its New York to Seattle route June 1 is taking representatives of all New York newspapers, wire services and news magazines on a survey flight. This is the story of one passenger.)

By Mary Harrington
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Seattle, May 18 (UP)—You get a new perspective of your country on a flight from coast to coast—especially with a newspaperwoman as co-pilot.

There's something in the construction of a DC-3 passenger plane that lends itself unwillingly to hands which normally guide typewriter keys. Perhaps that's why six passengers became air-sick soon after I took over the controls outside Milwaukee on the first day of our press tour.

The wings go down and the ship rolls like a sailboat in a squall when you turn the steering wheel—or stick, as the pilots fondly called it—around sharply.

There's a feeling of great power in the sharp rise of the ship when you pull the stick against your ribs. Harrington, I said, you have missed your calling. Immediately, I was called back into the cabin.

It was a calm group that started at LaGuardia airport in New York early Tuesday, except for little Bill Hazlett of the New York World-Telegram. His son is an army pilot and Bill had never been inside a plane. I wasn't excited. My voice shakes a bit. It wasn't until we left Minneapolis Wednesday morning that the feeling changed. The country seemed different, bigger somehow, and the very earth below seemed to have great power. The mountains and river, the lakes that looked like puddles after blue rain made the National Geographic seem pallid. The plane purred softly, along with us passengers, as we landed at Billings, Mont.

The day before I asked a New York taxi driver to help me carry my suitcase, and portable typewriter. He told me to—let him alone. He was a busy man.

Everybody in Billings was there. The Black Horse troop—28 Shrine horsemen. The Chamber of Commerce—mounted. The kids on ponies. What could they do for us, they asked. It was the west. Ask Justin Gilbert of the Mirror. He branded a calf.

We flew to Spokane yesterday for lunch, and then above the Grand Coulee dam which was massive even at 5,000 feet. Across the Cascade mountains.

Last night I learned what pudgy, hominidistic Croft Hunter, Northwest Airlines' president meant when he said that "the northwest has the rest of the country beat six ways from the middle." We came to Seattle. A huge B-29 factory, men with plans finished for post-war trade with Russia and the Far East. Men ready to drill for oil within three months. Packing industries—but a clean city.

It was a new world to me. A world with everything in it you might want but can't have. Does anybody want to hire a gal reporter?

MEETING POSTPONED
The Junior and senior Young People's Fellowship of Trinity Episcopal church will not meet this Sunday evening because of the baculaureate at the high school gymnasium. The next meeting will be with the members of both groups at the church at 6 p. m. on Sunday, May 27, when they will proceed to Shevlin park for an evening picnic. All are to bring their own lunches and coca-colas.

Paris Reports Nippons Given Red Ultimatum

(By United Press)
The often inaccurate Paris radio today broadcast a report attributed to Ankara, which said Russia had served an ultimatum on Japan, demanding surrender on allied terms.

The Paris broadcast, recorded by the United Press in New York, said:

"The Ankara radio reports that according to diplomatic circles in San Francisco the soviets handed an ultimatum to Japan, declaring that should Japan not surrender to the allies at the latter's conditions, the soviets would be obligated to side with the allies."

Baby Contest News

We took so many baby pictures (there were hundreds of them) during our Third Annual Mother's Day Baby Contest, that we swamped the finishers. It will still be several days before all can be finished and the pictures turned over to the judges for judging.

In the meantime, please be patient—for we're sure you want the finishers to take time enough to do the best job possible.

The FREE picture which each entrant will receive, beautifully mounted, cannot be delivered until after the judges have made their final decision.

As soon as the judging is finished results of the contest will be announced in The Bulletin and over KBND, and the prizes awarded.

And now that the contest is over and we are not so busy—why not stop in for a glamorous Hollywood portrait of yourself?
