

Blix Donnelly's Seven-Hit Job Helps St. Louis

By Carl Lundquist
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, May 22 (UP)—Sylvester (Blix) Donnelly lacks four inches and 34 pounds of matching Morton Cooper's height and bulk, but he gave convincing evidence today that he may be able to step into the big fellow's shoes on the St. Louis Cardinal pitching staff.

The little midget from Olivia, Minn., a wiry 166-pounder who stands five-foot, 10 inches tall, had been a major disappointment to Manager Bily Southworth until he stepped out last night and handed the Brooklyn Dodgers a 4 to 0 beating on his own grounds.

May Aid Team

That victory, coming at the end of one of the shakiest Cardinal road trips in years, may be the morale-lifter the team needs to get back into the pennant picture. It projected Donnelly into the team's pitching plans because he had all he needed to win any game—a good curve, a zipping fast ball and fine control—and he didn't tire as he usually does.

Prior to last night he had dropped four games in a row and in three of them he had been hit like a batting practice pitcher. Had he failed last night Southworth might have been tempted to give up on him or relegate him to a relief role, an assignment in which he was brilliant against the Browns in the 1944 world series.

With Max Lanier in North Carolina preparing for army induction, Cooper under suspension and sulking in St. Louis, and George Dockens being treated for arm trouble, the Cards were in desperate straits for pitchers.

Cards Win Six

Donnelly's seven-hit job gave the Cards a record of six victories and seven defeats for the trip. He struck out six men. By winning the Cards evened a score against Dodger rookie Tom Seaver, who shut them out to win his first major league game two weeks ago. He held the Cards scoreless for five innings again last night, but they scored twice in the sixth on a single by Dave Bartosh, an error by Catcher Mickey Owen and Buster Adam's pop-up near the plate, a walk to Ray Sanders and a double by the Cards' number one clutch man, George Kurowski. Donnelly added another run on a double in the ninth when Bartosh also singled in a run.

Losses Shutout

Ernie Lombardi's two homers weren't enough to start the New York Giants off with a victory in the first stop on their road trip at Pittsburgh but they deprived Max Butcher of a shutout and he had to settle for a 5 to 2 victory.

The Pirates gave Butcher a three-run working margin in the first inning, Jack Barrett's triple and Tommy O'Brien's double producing the runs. Butcher gave up only four hits, but the two by Lombardi were tremendous blows over the left field fence, putting him in the major league home run lead with nine. It was Butcher's third victory.

There were no other major league games scheduled.

1 Hit Wins 11-4 League Ball Game

Binghamton, N. Y., May 22 (UP)—A search through baseball records today failed to reveal anything to equal Binghamton's 11 to 4 victory over Scranton on one hit in the Eastern league last night.

The goats of the performance were Ted Hopke and Bob Clark, who shared pitching duties for Scranton and served up 15 bases on balls. The walks, combined

March Field, Cal., May 22 (UP)—Lt. Johnny Baker has his work cut out for him.

The former University of Southern California all-American pitcher who last week was appointed to succeed Maj. Paul Schissler as football coach at Randolph field has only two players—both reserve backs—left from the team last year, the nemesis of the Pacific coast.

It will be difficult for fans to forget that for the past two years the flyer gridders have been rated among the nation's top ten teams. It will be even more difficult for Baker to maintain that standard since he's lost more than two dozen players from last year's squad.

"Fans should not expect a national championship team, or reasonable facsimile next fall," Baker warned, "because of the current scarcity of grade A players."

"All of the four air forces teams, including ours, have lost heavily in personnel," the new coach explained.

Although an all-American, Baker is best remembered for the 42-yard field goal he kicked in 1931 which gave the Trojans a 16 to 14 victory in the closing seconds of a game against Notre

What made the goings-on even stranger is that Scranton leads the league and Binghamton is in last place.

Ex-Catcher Now In U. S. Uniform

Fort Lewis, Wash., May 22 (UP)—Private Henry R. Camelli, 30, arrived at the Fort Lewis processing center yesterday and was earmarked for the medical corps.

"I can't understand how they drafted me with two torn cartilages," the former Pittsburgh Pirate catcher said.

Asked if he would play for the Fort Lewis Warriors this season, Camelli answered, "If I didn't play for $1,500 a month on my own team why would I play here?"

Home Run Beats Portland Beavers

By United Press

The Los Angeles Angels were finally showing signs today of backing up the experts who tabbed them as the club to beat for the Pacific coast league championship.

The Angels now are in fifth place, eight games from the top, but they gave their followers every reason to be optimistic when they scored five runs in the ninth inning last night to edge out the leading Portland Beavers, 9 to 8. The big blow was pinch hitter Johnny Moore's homer with the bases loaded. The Angels took the abbreviated series by a 4-2 margin and expect to continue the pace tonight when they move into the domain of the Seattle Rainiers.

Seals Held Place

The San Francisco Seals remained firmly anchored in seventh place by splitting a twin bill with Seattle. The Rainiers took the opener, 9-4, but Lefty O'Doul's men annexed the nightcap, 3-1.

Two triples by Neil Sheridan couldn't help the Seals in the opener which Seattle iced with four runs in the third inning. Joe Demoran was the winning pitcher. In the finale, the Seals held onto a two-run lead garnered in the second on a walk to Joe Sprinz, singles by Ben Guinitti and Sheridan, a fielder's choice and a wild pitch by Sylvester Johnson.

Seattle won the series, four games to two. The Seals engage Portland the rest of the week.

Other openings tonight find San Diego at Oakland and Sacramento at Hollywood.

FOOD CUT ORDERED

London, May 22 (UP)—The British food ministry ordered a new cut in the national food ration today and announced that it will be applied also to German prisoners of war held in the United Kingdom.

The principal cuts on the home front will be in oils and fats, in which shortages have become critical.

17-Year-Old Leads Pacific Pitchers

By United Press

Seventeen-year-old Ervin Palica moved to the front of the Pacific Coast league pitchers with six victories and one defeat. The Seattle rookie passed Portland's Jack Tising, who absorbed his first defeat after three wins. San Diego's Carl Dumler and Vallie Eaves, with nine triumphs each, set the pace, and Eaves' 79 strikeouts were also the best.

Young Anglers Get Instruction

Progress of Bend's school for young fishermen was reviewed at today's luncheon meeting of the Lions' club in the Pine Tavern by Wilfred Jossy, who was largely responsible for the organization of the school. Primary purpose of the school, Jossy explained, was to educate boys in the art of fishing, and also to further the principles of conservation and sportsmanship.

Over 250 are enrolled in the school at present, Jossy reported. They range in age from 10 to 14 years. Subjects covered in the first class included a study of game laws and a discussion of conservation of wild life. Tonight, in the high school, the second class will be held, under sponsorship of the forest service. The third class will deal with basic instructions in fishing, the fourth class will include instructions in the use of the casting rod and the fifth class will cover the proper use of the fly rod, with John Wetle as instructor. Boys passing the final oral examination will receive honorary memberships in the Deschutes Sportsmen's association. Frank B. Wire of the state game commission will show movies at the final session.

Jossy declared that the tourist trade could be Bend's biggest industry.

Clarence Bush, chairman of the clothing drive, expressed his appreciation for the cooperation given by the Lions, Elks and others in the drive.

Mechanical cotton picking is made more practical if preceded by a newly tested process which removes the leaves by dusting with calcium cyanamide.
