

Crash Landing Avoided With Skill, Coffee

By Lloyd Tupling (United Press Staff Correspondent) Headquarters, Fleet Air Wing Four...

The flying skill was displayed by Lt. John W. Pool of Corpus Christi, Texas, aided by Ensign Bernard Rieley of Pottsville, Pa., who wheeled into a cloud bank after the cannon shell from a Japanese fighter exploded inside their stubby-winged plane.

Pool headed the plane down but as soon as the wheels were lowered for a landing—creating pressure on the hydraulic system—the hydraulic fluid squirted from the explosion-shattered feedline, spraying the interior of the plane with an oily fluid.

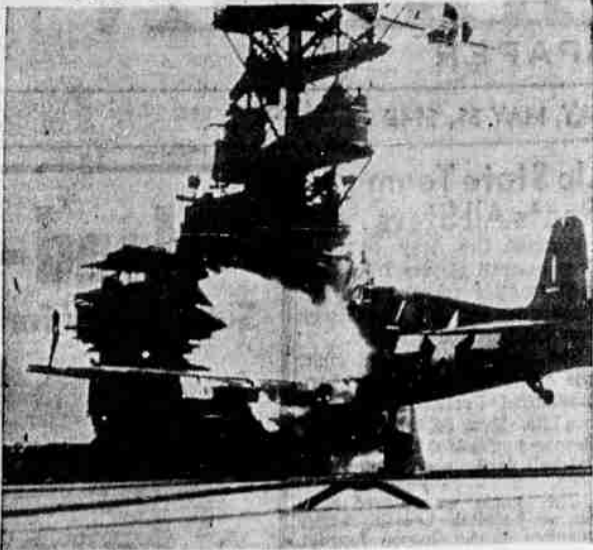

"I thought we had hit the water for sure," Warner said. Pool took the plane up and circled the field, and the engineer, Charles Scott of Turlock, Calif., squeezed the broken line with his pliers to stop the leak.

"But we still needed some fluid to make up for the 'juice' lost, so we could get the flaps down," Pool said. "Luckily we'd been too busy on the way back to drink our coffee or cans of orange juice—one of which was conveniently torn open by a shell fragment.

The crash crew stood by as Pool brought the plane in low for a perfect landing, holding the wheel-less tail up until the plane slowed down and the tail clattered over the landing mat.

The crew jumped out and headed for the interrogation room. "I'll be along in a minute," Rieley said. In a moment he joined the group. In his hand was a small crucifix.

And the Pilot Walked Away!

Flame flares out as gas tank of this Navy Hellcat explodes and the stubby-winged plane smashes into island of Pacific Fleet carrier when the tailhook of plane failed to catch wire soon enough. Pilot Lt. (jg) William Bailey, Wilson, S. C., walked out of the plane unhurt. U. S. Navy photo.

Wisconsin City Finds G.I. Joe Is Undecided About Post-War

Richland Center, Wis. (UP)—Post-war planners had best be cautious in "experting" about what G.I. Joe will want after the war because a survey made by ordinary citizens of this northern Wisconsin community revealed that even Joe doesn't know the answer.

The group decided to ask the fellows who count what they thought about their postwar desires and mailed questionnaires to about 400 men for whom they had addresses. The first 150 replies have been studied and tabulated.

G.I. Joe admits he doesn't know what he wants but he guesses, and loads his guess heavily with "ifs" and "buts." The only thing about which he is sure is that he wants a job and not a dose. "I've cut my own swath so far!" one answered.

A private explained it this way: "I'm glad you're interested. I'm grateful, too. I actually don't know, and it is my personal observation and conviction that there are a helluva lot of young fellows, more or less footloose, who are in the same boat." "Seen New Places"

"If the whole country didn't know where it was going prior to Dec. 7, a few years ago, I doubt if we can reasonably be expected to know where we're going when it's over. We've seen a lot of new places and new faces since we went away. Some we've liked—some we've hated."

"Most of us will find our way back, except for those for whom there will be no postwar world or pink questionnaires—only a mouth full of foreign mud and a gold star somewhere." Although vague in many respects, the replies did give sufficient information to show indications, O. J. Snodgrass, Richland Center man who proposed the study, explained. He said the questionnaire asked the G.I. Joes where they would settle, what work they wanted, whether they had a job lined up, whether they planned to return to school, whether they would need living quarters and financial assistance.

Of the 150 tabulated, 31 said they would need no financial aid or were uncertain about it. Almost all, with the exception of those who would need loans to buy property, indicated they would not need financial help if they could get a job. And they wanted a job.

63 P.C. Returning. Sixty-three per cent said they would return to Richland county; others were undecided, had jobs elsewhere or would go where the best opportunity called. Twenty-seven want farms; 15 wish to become established in business; 19 are or will be set up in professions; 25 want skilled jobs; three

Baker Man Held After Gun Play

Baker, Ore., May 31 (UP)—An autopsy and inquest was scheduled late today for John Dignin, 55-year-old Baker laborer, who was shot to death yesterday in an altercation with C. C. Cox of Baker. Cox was held in custody by state police while they investigated his report that he fired in self-defense when Dignin threatened him with a hammer. Cox is a long-time Baker resident and has been identified in mining activities for many years. The shooting occurred in the Cox apartment, Coroner A. Lm. Schroeder said.

that. If the local boys follow through on their replies, Richland county will have one truck driver for every four citizens and one policeman for every truck driver. There were 74 who definitely want to own their own homes; 60 men said they would need living quarters and 22 others said maybe they would, too.

With those replies as a guide, a community rehabilitation committee is planning to find jobs for veterans, planning financial aid, local projects which will employ them, locating farms and businesses to be available for purchase after the war.

GI SQUARES HIMSELF

Harrisburg, Pa. (UP)—Dr. Horace G. Giesel, principal of John Harris High school, was overwhelmed when a former pupil who has been in the armed service for three years walked into his office and handed him $3.75. "Remember," the student said, "I broke a big lamp shade in school that cost $3.75, and here's the money."

LEGAL NOTICES

Notice of Timber Sale

Sealed Bids, in duplicate, on forms provided therefor, marked outside "Bid Whitewater Logging Unit" and addressed to the Superintendent, Warm Springs Agency, Warm Springs, Oregon, will be received until 2 o'clock p.m. Pacific War Time, July 17, 1945 for the purchase of timber on a tract in Township 10 South, Range 9 and 10 East, and Township 11 South, Range 9 East. The unit includes about 18,422 acres with an estimated stand to be cut under the light selection method of 75,000, 600 board feet, log scale, of ponderosa pine, sugar pine, and western white pine, of which ponderosa pine is more than 99 percent of the total. In addition to the pines, the unit contains about 46,500,000 board feet of Douglas fir, larch, cedar, and other species but these will not be cut except as necessary in clearing roads, construction of bridges, camps and other logging development purposes. All timber of these species cut prior to March 31, 1946, will be paid for at two dollars per thousand feet B.M. Scribner Decimal C Log Scale. Each bid must state the price per thousand feet, Scribner Decimal D Log Scale that will be paid for ponderosa pine, sugar pine, and western white pine timber that will be cut and scaled prior to March 31, 1946. Prices subsequent to that date are to be fixed by the Secretary of Interior in accordance with the procedure described in the contract. No bid of less than five dollars and twenty-five cents per thousand feet B.M. for the ponderosa pine, sugar pine, and western white pine will be considered. Bids will be limited to the maximum prices allowed by the Office of Price Administration under its "Maximum Price Regulation 460—Western Timber" which became effective as of August 31, 1943. This regulation is on file in the Office of the Superintendent, Warm Springs Agency, Warm Springs, Oregon, and is available for review. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank in the amount of $20,000.00 payable to the Superintendent, Warm Springs Agency, Oregon. The deposit will be returned to unsuccessful bidders, applied as a part of the purchase price of the successful bidder, or retained as liquidated damages if the bidder shall not execute the contract and furnish satisfactory bond for $20,000.00 within sixty days of notice of acceptance of bid. The right to waive technical defects and to reject any and all bids is reserved. If more than one bidder submits the maximum bid allowable under O. E.A. regulation 460, the contract may be awarded to the bidder most in need of timber for the continued production of lumber for war purposes. This sale is being made for the purpose of preventing serious losses from beetle attack and the contract will require the payment of cash penalties for failure to comply with minimum cutting requirements except when relieved therefrom by the officer approving the contract. The contract will specify that all designated timber shall be cut and removed from the unit prior to April 1, 1954. It will be necessary for the successful bidder to transport logs and equipment to and from the Whitewater logging Unit across National Forest lands. All bidders should contact the Forest Supervisor, Deschutes National Forest, Bend, Oregon in regard to access road construction requirements. For copies of the contract, regulations, map of the sale area, blanks for submission of bids, and other information, apply to the Superintendent Warm Springs Indian Agency, Warm Springs, Oregon. Dated this 1st day of May 1945. Oscar L. Chapman, Assistant Secretary of Interior. 139-145-150-28-46 Buy National War Bonds Now!
