

Yanks Fine Home Team, But Road Record Not Good

By Carl Lundquist

New York, June 2 (AP)—Yankee stadium, the huge pincers-shaped baseball palace that has caught many a pitcher in its grip, would be just the place to win an American league pennant, manager Joe McCarthy of the Bronx Bombers reasoned today—if only his team could stay just there.

The Yankees at home are more menacing than a pyromaniac in a match factory, but the same opposition which trembles at the thought of facing them here has little fear of them on the road.

Coming home after a sorry road trip in which they won only two out of eight games against the western clubs, they did an immediate about-face and picked up 10 victories in 12 starts, starting off their stand with an eight-game winning streak.

Detroit Wins Pair
Detroit was the only club to cause the Yankees trouble in their home diamond, picking up two victories in a series of three. But New York got back in stride against new opposition yesterday and defeated the Cleveland Indians, 9 to 2.

The Yankee record at home to date is 16 won and four lost, a pennant winning pace in any circuit. The only catch is that on the road, including appearances against the so-called weaker eastern teams, they have won seven and dropped nine.

Against two Cleveland pitchers they made 14 hits good for 22 bases, making it a simple matter for Floyd Bevens to win his fourth game against one defeat, a neat-five hit job. That enabled him to equal his 1944 record of 4-1, which he established after coming up late in the season from Newark.

Red Sox Win
Two "free runs," forced in on walks with the bases loaded, gave the Boston Red Sox a 6 to 4 victory over Detroit. Emmett O'Neill, Red Sox pitcher, assumed his victory with a three-run homer to pace the winners.

Sigmund Jakubi turned in his best effort of the season, blanking the Athletics at Philadelphia for a 4 to 0 Brown victory.

Rookie pitcher Walt Holborow walked in the winning run in the 11th at Washington to give the White Sox an 11 to 9 victory.

Phillies Defeated
Pittsburgh, helped by the five errors of the sieve-like Philadelphia defense beat the Phillies, 6 to 5.

The Cards rallied in the ninth to hand streaky Bill Voiselle of the Giants his third straight loss, 4 to 3, at St. Louis. Voiselle had won eight in a row prior to his defeat.

Mort Cooper, making his second start for the Braves, was leading the Cubs, 6 to 1, in the fourth when rain washed the game off the books.

Twilight Softball Play Plans Made

Action in Bend's newly-organized Senior softball league will open Monday at 6:45 p. m. on Harmon playfield, with a jamboree to be the feature of twilight play. All teams are scheduled to play in curtailed action, making it possible for fans to get acquainted with teams and players.

Only players 21 years or older will be eligible to play in the new league, with the exception of service men home on leave or furlough.

On the teams that will swing into action Monday night will be many players familiar to fans. Stars of other years will include Sonny Joanis, Bob Douglass, Walt Douglass, Elmer Brown, Bud Russell and many others. There are also many new comers who turn in a top notch brand of ball.

Navy to Play
The Camp Abbot navy squad has a star studded aggregation headed by Izzo, hard hitting outfielder, and others who are terrific, to say the least. They will be tough to beat, local fans concede.

Managers of the various teams are being asked to have their money on hand Monday night. On Tuesday night, the first two teams playing Monday night will finish their game. Wednesday, the second two teams playing in the two-inning jamboree games Monday will finish their contest, and on Friday the last two teams will fight it out to a finish.

League contests will be played thereafter on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, with all games set to start at 6:45.

There will be no admission charge to the games, and the public is being invited to join in the twilight fun, it is announced by Pope McCarthy, publicity manager for the new Senior softball circuit.

Portland Beavers Win 5 to 0 Game

(By United Press)

Pacific coast league hurlers turned in two shutouts last night as the Portland Beavers defeated Seattle 5 to 0 and the Sacramento Solons shellacked the San Diego Padres by the same score.

Southpaw Roy Helser stretched the Beavers' league leadership to a comfortable four and one half games as he set down the second-place Rainiers down with five hits. It was Helser's 10th victory of the season. Gene Babbitt of the Solons held the Padres to four bingles, while in Los Angeles 18-year-old hurler Ken Hicks turned in another four-hitter for a 9 to 2 win over Hollywood.

Seals Win Again
In the remaining league contest manager Lefty O'Doul's underdog San Francisco Seals won their fourth victory in five starts with a 5 to 2 victory over Oakland.

Infield errors and a miff by San Diego pitcher Bob Ferguson gave the Solons their first run, another error and hits by Lillio Marcucio, McElreath and Ted Greenhalgh netted them three more in the fifth stanza.

Gus Suhr, who got three hits in as many times at bat, and Neill Sheridan, whose double in the fourth scored the second run of the inning, led the attack against their former teammate, Sam Gibson who was forced to retire in the seventh.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 2 (AP)—A whirl on the sports-go-round:

A horseman whose dope is usually all out of the right feed bag reports from Kentucky's hard-boiled country that Col. E. R. Bradley is so set on winning his fifth Derby with his well-named colt Burning Dream, that he is lining up the services of the greatest money jockey in the business, Eddie Arcaro. . . . dark and dangerous Eddie has won the blue grass gallop twice before, in 1941 when he set the Derby record of 2:01-2/5 for the mile and a quarter on Whirlaway, and in 1938 on Lawrin. . . .

If the Washington Senators don't want rookie pitcher Walt Holborow after his lapse in walking home the winning run against the White Sox last night, the New York Department of Sanitation will be glad to have him back. Holborow, who has appeared three times in relief for the Nats, was a star finger for the White Sox and their big game with the police department is coming up. . . .

In the first big league game Mike Tresh of the White Sox ever caught, breaking in with Chicago back in 1928, he suffered a finger injury. That taught him a lesson about handling pitchers and since that day he never has had another hand injury. He attributes his luck to the big, well-padded mitts modern-day catchers use, which he says the pitchers don't like because the ball doesn't whack loudly when their fast ball zips in. But that doesn't bother Tresh as long as the "pillow" can keep him from getting the gnarled hands characteristics of veteran catchers. . . .

Pitcher Dave Ferriss of the Red Sox, probably the most sensational rookie ever to break into the big time when he seeks to complete his cycle of beating every club in the American league by facing the Senators at Washington. Ferriss, who hasn't met the Senators, is a confident kid who feels that the only thing that may beat him is his old bugaboo, asthma, which caused his discharge from the army air forces. In his last two games, the dust of the diamond caused him to "choke up" physically but not mentally. Manager Joe Cronin was ready to relieve him both times but the youngster insisted on finishing, winning one of the

Dynamite Fisted Fighter Injured

Chicago, June 2 (AP)—Elmer (Violent) Ray's climb to fistic stardom was temporarily halted today as he nursed a broken finger suffered in winning a 10-round decision over heavyweight Larry Lane of Trenton, N. J., at the Coliseum last night.

Ray, a dynamite-fisted negro heavyweight from the Florida everglades, broke the little finger of his left hand in the second round of the fight. But he went on to batter and maul Lane into a daze and win the unanimous decision.

It marked his 30th straight victory and enabled him to remain undefeated in three years of professional scrapping. The injury forced his manager, Tommy O'Loughlin, to cancel Ray's scheduled 10-round bout against Gunnar Barland in St. Paul next Friday.

How They Ran

New York, June 2 (AP)—Here's how Kentucky derby candidates fared yesterday:

Darby Duluth—third in three-quarter-mile race at Churchill Downs.

Sandslinger—second in three-quarter-mile race at Churchill Downs.

Tough Target—also ran in three-quarter-mile race at Lincoln Fields.

Day—won three-quarter-mile race in 1:16 at Lincoln Fields.

Burning felled elm trees and slash, and all elm trimmings, helps control the Dutch elm disease that has already destroyed many thousands of trees in the northeastern section of the United States.
