

Lashing Storms Menace Nome

NOME, Alaska, Nov. 21 (AP)—A committee appointed by Mayor Luther Dunbar today said it was necessary that federal assistance be forthcoming in building a suitable breakwater for protection against storms or Nome would have to be discontinued as a city.

The statement was contained in telegrams sent to government, state, and Alaskan officials requesting federal aid in repairing damage caused by two recent severe storms.

The telegrams said "the unprecedented destruction of Nome by two severe storms within three weeks, preceded by the havoc of last year's storm, makes absolutely necessary federal aid in building a suitable breakwater or discontinuance of the city."

Nome merchants are "unable to withstand the expense of yearly constructed defenses to cope with the rapid erosion of the Nome beach, and present city tax revenue is inadequate to aid in repair work," the telegrams said.

Officials estimated the damage caused by the two storms the past three weeks amounted to more than $500,000.

Family in Tent Loses Daughter

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP)—S. L. Wells, war veteran, today was still looking for housing after his 5-year-old daughter died of pneumonia while his family was living in a navy surplus tent to which it had moved after being evicted from their home.

The girl, Delores, died at a hospital after the family of five had moved into the 16 by 16 tent. Mrs. Wells also has been under a doctor's care. The Wells have two sons, Gary 8, and Dickie, 7.
