Six Miners Die In Coal Cave-In

Dante, Va., May 21 (UP)—Six miners were crushed to death in a cave-in at the No. 2 mine of the Clinchfield coal corporation here last night, mine dispatcher J. M. Smith said today. Smith said that five other miners, including the foreman of the crew, escaped with only "scratches" in the cave-in. The dispatcher said that a "bump" or vibration in the mine caused an estimated 50 tons of coal to come crashing down on the six men. The UMW press bureau in Washington said Smith's report indicated the accident was caused by the collapse of supporting timber in a section of the pit.

Occurs at Night
Smith said the crash occurred about 8:50 last night in a section of the mine about three miles back from the entrance. It took a rescue party of about 40 men until 1:15 a. m. today to get out the crushed bodies, he said.

He identified the dead men as Arnold Vickers, Harold Barkes, Oakley Creiger, a man whose last name was Rasmick, Troy Phillips, and Duris Artrip.

Senate Sustains Truman's Veto

Washington, May 21 (UP)—The senate today sustained President Truman's veto and killed a bill which would have empowered it to order FBI investigations of persons appointed to key atomic jobs.

The bill had been vetoed by the president Saturday as "unnecessary and unwise" and an encroachment on the executive branch of the government. The vote was 47 to 29, four votes less than the two-thirds majority necessary to override the veto.

Morse Joins Democrats
Republican Senators Wayne L. Morse, Ore., and William Langer, N. D., joined 27 democrats in voting to sustain the president. Nine democrats voted with 38 republicans to override the veto. The measure would have given the senate members of the joint congressional atomic energy committee the authority to order the FBI to investigate appointees to the atomic energy commission.

H. L. Rasmussen Dies at McCloud

Word has been received here of the death last night in McCloud, Calif., of H. L. Rasmussen, 68, a former resident of Bend and a brother of George Rasmussen of this city. Death came suddenly after Mr. Rasmussen, head flier at the McCloud Lumber company plant, had returned home from work.

Mr. Rasmussen left Bend about 16 years ago, going to McCloud. He came here in early days from Bemidji, Minn., and was with The Shevlin-Hixon Company. Mr. Rasmussen was a native of Wisconsin.

The former Bend man is survived by his wife, Ella. Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

Negro Spiritualists Presented Here

A large crowd heard the program of negro spiritualists presented last night in the school gymnasium by former members of the "Wings Over Jordan" choir, well-known radio entertainers. Ensemble singing of the entire choir lived up to its feature billing, with volume ranging from shouts of jubilation to strains as tender as a mother's lullaby. Their resonance, rhythm and sincerity marked them as outstanding, according to those who attended. The program was sponsored by the Bend Ministerial association.

40 Club Members Going to OSC

Names of 40 Deschutes county 4-H members who will attend summer school next month on the Oregon State college campus were announced today by Paul J. Covey, Deschutes county club agent. The club members were selected from a list of approximately 85 entrants, and are eligible to attend the 33rd annual summer school, June 15-25, in Corvallis.

The following were chosen: Haley Pritchard, Anne Moore, Joan Fuls, Lawrence Allen, Adele vs. Bartlett, Larry Kribs, Doris Walker, John Klesow, Barbara Uphoff, Bernice Hergenroder, Patricia Brown, Violet Klobas, Darlene Hince, Doris Huettl, Agnes Thornburgh, Marilyn Van Matre, Lyle Harrison, Patty Williams, Jack Alley, Arthur Drake, Pauline Franks, Clara Sunkler, Judy Fuls, Kathleen Klesow, Harold Hohnstein, Leonard Hohnstein, Gary Strunk, Carl Wallace, Carol Glynn, Arthur Cole, Doris Holt, Clea Zeigler, Marjorie Davidson, Laurel Ray Davis, Ardis Shortreed, Richard Fix, Gene Peden, Dorothy Schamel, Darlene Anderson and Jimmy Lawrence.

Counties Given Quotas
Due to limited housing on the campus, each county in the state has a quota for summer school attendance, Covey said, and Deschutes county is allowed to send 40 youngsters. Probably an additional five delegates would be accepted, he added. The 40 delegates named were the first on the list, and if some are unable to attend, other members will be chosen to take their places, according to their standings. In addition to the 40 club members, Deschutes will have two club leaders attending as chaperons.

Tumalo

Tumalo, May 21 (Special)—Saturday, May 15, was clean-up day at the Tumalo cemetery, with local grangers turning out to prepare the grounds for Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Meyer of Long Beach, Calif., have bought the old Chauncey Becker ranch and have already moved here. Meyer is a nephew of Henry Meyer, who has lived here for a number of years.

The Loren Ballor ranch has again changed hands, this time the buyer being Earl Guernsey of Lebanon. The Guernseys plan to move here soon.

Sam Henry and his mother, Mrs. Joe C. Henry, and Miss Kathleen Ives of Bend, drove to Portland last Sunday, to visit Joe C. Henry, who is a patient at the Veterans' hospital.

Mrs. Fred Shepard returned home Sunday evening from Portland where she spent several days with her son, Keith, who is hospitalized at the Veterans' hospital.

"Family Relations" was the topic of the lesson led by Mrs. Dora Cooper, home demonstration agent, at the local extension unit meeting at Tumalo Grange hall last Tuesday. A potluck luncheon was held and Mrs. Cooper was presented a gift by the group.

Tom Sandwick is home for summer vacation from the Powellhurst college and Bible institute in Portland where he was a student the past school year.

A farewell party, honoring Carol and Patricia Baker, who are leaving soon, was held at the home of Helen Suhre last Saturday evening. Twenty-one young people attended.

Vern Hartford, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. L. A. Hartford, and Jerry Shepard, made a business trip to Salem Wednesday. Mrs. Hartford visited friends at Salem and the two boys went on to Portland, returning home that same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Maine and son, John, made a business trip to Scio Wednesday of this week.

Four ladies who attended the special sewing classes at Tumalo last month completed cotton dresses. Mrs. Leslie Kribs and Mrs. B. A. Chaney led the meetings.

A number of Tumalo people attended the oratorio "Elijah," in Bend Tuesday evening. Carol Baker, Carl Baker and Fred Shepard were members of the choral group.
