San Francisco, May 21 (AP)—If the man on the mound means as much in the game of baseball as we give him credit for, then the Seattle Rainiers have suddenly blossomed out as a definite threat in the Pacific coast league pennant race.

Last night Guy Fletcher turned in a one-hitter as the Rainiers blanked Los Angeles, 2 to 0, to take a 2-1 series margin. That performance on top of Dick "Kewpie" Barret's seven-inning no-hit, no-run perfect game Sunday shows the Suds can knock any team out of the bunting—if they don't win it themselves.

Mighty San Francisco bowed to Oakland last night for the second time running, 2 to 1, ending a 21-inning scoring drought on a single tally in the ninth frame.

Padres Smothered
At San Diego the Hollywood Stars smothered the Padres under a 20-hit attack, winning 13 to 2. Sacramento made it two straight over Portland, dropping the Beavers 8 to 2.

Fletcher, in annexing his third win against three losses, yielded only a single in the fourth inning, struck out four men and issued only one free pass to first. Losing pitcher Dewey Adkins also turned in a creditable chore, granting the Suds five hits, and striking out eight batters.

Aldon Wilkie earned his fourth victory at Oakland, granting the Seals only eight scattered hits and scoring the winning run. Loyd Christopher homered for the other Acorn tally. Lefty Al Lien was charged with the loss.

Hits Four Times
Don Ross hit safely four times in six trips to lead the Hollywood batting attack on the Padres. Lou Kahn homered with two on and singled for his fourth run-batted-in of the evening. Pete Gebrian was the winner, although he gave the Pads 11 hits. Jess Flores chalked the loss, but Bob Kerrigan and Phil Walden helped him earn it.

Babe Dahlgren homered with two aboard at Portland to form the backbone of a juicy, seven-run Sacramento second-inning. Fenton Mole hit a round-tripper for the Ports. Lou Tost was the winning hurler, granting seven safeties. Duane Pilette lasted only until the fatal second to receive the loss.

Coasting Along In The Sport World

Oakland, Calif., May 21 (AP)—Two coaches who have dominated American crew racing for the past quarter of a century send their teams out against each other here Saturday in the Pacific coast collegiate championships.

It will be Coach Al Ulbricksen and his University of Washington eight against Coach Ky Ebright and his University of California shell.

It's the first major test of the important Olympic year for the two crews and just how the teams fare will in all probability have something to do about who will represent the United States in the coming London Olympics.

Ulbricksen's Washington club is the defending Olympic champion—having won the last race at Berlin in 1936. Ebright coached Olympic champions in the two preceding games, in 1928 and 1932.

Mentors of both shells are of the opinion they have what it takes to win the American crown this year. The California crew recently set a record for two miles at the Oakland estuary.

Both crews will be made up mostly of more-or-less inexperienced talent. California has five sophomores, two juniors and a senior; Washington has four juniors and four sophomores.

Neither college shell did too well last year, the Huskies finishing third in the Poughkeepsie regatta and California fourth. However both coaches have been aiming for the 1948 season—Olympic year.

On the Husky team, reading from stroke to bow, are Charlie McCarthy, Rod Johnson, Donald Landon, Norman Buviak, Capt. Bill Works, Bob Young, John Audett and Ed Hearing. The club averages 184 pounds per man and six feet, 3 1/2 inches in height. The cox is Bob Lee, 115-pound, 23-year-old senior.

California will go in with Ian Turner at stroke, followed by Dave Brown, Darrell Welch, George Ahlgren, Lloyd Butler, Dave Turner, Jim Hardy and Jack Stack. This crew has an average weight of 185 1/2 pounds and six feet, three inches in height. The cox is Ralph Purchase, 122 pounds, five feet, seven inches—and 31 years old.

Vale, Ore. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. James Hawley have no worries about how to heat their home during cold eastern Oregon winters. A natural hot water flow near the Hawley home has been harnessed to pipe heat into the house.

ville where he will be employed in the mill.

Harold Miller, Shell Oil company driver, purchased the old Mc-Una ranch several weeks ago.

On the sick list in the community are Mrs. Glen DeJaniver, who is receiving treatment in Corvallis, Frank Allen, who is ill several weeks, and Mrs. Tom Wallace, who is ill with the flu.

Mrs. L. Danison returned recently from her month's visit with her son, Lewis, and his wife in Sacramento, Calif.

Mrs. L. Danison left last week for Medford for a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Mayfield and their infant son.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hohnstein, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cox, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Stoffel, Mrs. Martha Horsell, Miss Betty Koth and Arthur Horsell are members of the Alfalfa grange, who were present at the visitation of the granges Friday at Redmond.

Mrs. L. Danison received a call from her daughter in Ohio on Mother's day. Mrs. Danison also received an electric stove as a gift.

Mrs. Ruby Mayfield returned last week from Medford after spending three weeks there with relatives. Mrs. Mayfield is at present in Redmond.

Quick Death Play Faced by Golfers

St. Louis, May 21 (AP)—The boys who make playing golf their business set out grimly today to eliminate each other in the first round of match play of the 30th annual PGA championship where big money rides on every stroke.

A field of 64 play-for-pay stars, who survived qualifying rounds Wednesday and Thursday, faced two rounds of sudden death play today. When dusk halts the shooting, there will be only 16 players left in competition and, if the toney follows the pattern of other years, some of these will be surprises.

Prime objects for upset fever over the par 71 Norwood Hills course were defending champion Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, and burly Stewart (Skip) Alexander, a 29-year-old Lexington, N. C., challenger who finished as medalist.

Makes 70 Score
Alexander, who slashed one stroke off par with a 70 on his first round, rattled the regulation figures on his second go at the 6,426-yard layout. He toured the first nine in 32, three under par, but really started to roll on the second half of the course. He birdied four of the first six holes, five of the next eight and was eight under par with only one one hole to play.

Needing only a par to the 63 record for 18 holes in PGA play, set by Ferrier at Portland in 1946, Alexander found the 18th too much. Had he made the par to tie the 63, he would have shattered the 134 with which Ferrier won the medal two years ago.

Instead, young Skip twisted his second shot off line into a trap. Then he two-putted from 15 feet for a bogey and a 64. Still it was enough to win the $250 prize and the Alex Smith memorial trophy with a record-tying 134.

2 Perfect Scores Made by Gunners

Two members of the Bend Trap club turned in perfect scores in a practice shoot yesterday afternoon and three other gunners made scores just short of perfect.

In the 100 per cent class were Everett Rambo and N. R. Gilbert. Each broke 25 targets out of 25 trapped. Lloyd Magill, Dr. J. C. Vandeventer and Bill Hyatt turned in scores of 24 each.

The next practice of the club will be held Sunday, on the grounds south of town.

St. Louis Cards Bombard Brooks; Pirates Win 13-0

New York, May 21 (AP)—Take the National league's best pitching staff, add a hitting spree that has boosted the club's batting average 22 points in six games, shake a little of the old "gas-house gang" spirit and you may have a pennant formula.

At least that was what the happiest guy in town, Manager Eddie Dyer of those cannonball Cardinals, was thinking today as he and the high-flying Red Birds left for Boston and an important series with the Braves.

"We were due to start hitting and now if the pitching holds up we can't ask for much more," said Texas Eddie after the Cards bombarded the Dodgers, 13 to 4 for a sweep of the three-game series in Brooklyn and the club's sixth straight victory.

Dyer Protests
The "gas-house spirit" boiled up yesterday when the Cards became incensed over what Dyer insisted was the intentional beaning of catcher Del Rice by relief pitcher Hugh Casey, normally a control expert, previously had hit Whitey Kurovski in the back with a pitch and when Rice was felled and shaken up badly, Dyer protested that Casey should be ejected from the game. He argued so long that he was thrown out himself—an unusual situation for the mild-mannered Texan.

Gets Four Runs
Rice, before being felled, drove in four runs with a pair of doubles as Howie Pollet coasted to his fourth straight victory, a victory which put the Cards 2 1/2 games ahead of the second place Giants.

The peppery Pirates also put on a big hitting show at Boston, getting 17 safe blows including Ralph Kiner's ninth homer in a 13 to 0 triumph over the Braves. Six-hit pitching by Howard Fox gave the Reds a 3 to 1 victory over the Giants at New York with rookie Virgil Stallcup supplying the punch on three singles and a walk.

The Cubs, backed by Bill Nicholson's triple and double and Roy Smalley's first major league hom-

Shooting Grounds Being Improved

The improvement work on the Summer lake public shooting grounds scheduled for this season by the Oregon state game commission is well under way, game officials report. At present the Pioneer Construction Co. of Portland is operating a 3/4-mile drag line constructing two miles of dike. Two and one-half miles of road will also be graveled by early summer. The new dike and water control systems that also will be installed this summer will complete the Ana river diversion so that nesting and hunting areas can be better controlled.

Graveling of the dikes that were constructed last year also will be completed before this year's waterfowl season. These will serve as improved access roads for the hunters.

The Browns battered six pitchers for 18 hits to whip the Washington Senators, 17 to 7, in a St. Louis night game.

Salem Senators Defeat Chiefs

(By United Press)

Calvin McIvin was the victor in a 10-inning pitching duel last night as the Salem Senators came from behind to squeeze past the Wenatchee Chiefs, 4 to 3, after the rains finally allowed a full Western International league schedule.

Spokane moved into fifth place in the loop with a 3-to-2 win over the Yakima Packers.

League-leading Tacoma emerged victorious in the "battle of the giants," downing second-place Bremerton, 8 to 3. Cy Greenlaw was the winning pitcher, giving up nine hits.

The Victoria Athletics made mince-meat of the cellar-dwelling Vancouver Caplans, parlaying 17 hits into an 18-to-6 victory.
