Sacramento	42	68	.382

San Francisco, July 21 (UP)—This may be the week that the Hollywood Stars, who have been languishing in sixth place in the Pacific Coast league for more than two months, began a belated drive for the first division.

The Stars made a twin killing over Portland last night, 8 to 5, and 8 to 7, to move into a fifth-place tie with Seattle. The Rainiers sidled a notch by dropping an 8 to 6 decision to league-leading Oakland.

In other games, the San Francisco Seals notified the league not to bury them yet by twofolding San Diego, 6 to 2, and 13 to 3, to slip into third place. The orphan Sacramento Solons rose up from their cellar position to surprise Los Angeles, 5 to 3.

Get 28 Hits
Hollywood unleashed its batting power for the double victory over the Beavers, getting 28 hits for the evening, including Gus Zernial's 26th and 27th home runs. Ruggier Ardizola went the route for the pitcher-poor Stars and was never in serious trouble.

However, the Stars had to come from behind to cop the nightcap, scoring three runs in the last inning. Rip Russell's single was the key blow.

Pitcher Al Lien, who batted in only six runs all last year, got five R-B's for San Francisco in the second game against the Padres personally to hit and pitch the Seals to their first double win in almost two months. Besides his out-of-character hitting, Lien hurled a neat four-hitter.

Seals Mean Business
In the opener, consistent Bill Werle allowed San Diego only five hits. In both contests, the recently-derided Seals showed they meant business by fashioning big first-innings and were never behind.

Oakland kept 2 1/2 games ahead of the pack. The Acoras drove Seattle's starting pitcher, Guy Fletcher, from the mound in the seventh, breaking a 4-all tie with four runs. Earl Rapp starred for the losers with two triples and a pair of singles.

Sacramento refused to roll over for the Angels, banging out 13 hits, including homers by Babe Dahlgren and Jim Tabor and Al White's triple, double and two singles.

Lynn Leading Coast Pitchers
San Francisco, July 20 (UP)—Japhet (Red) Lynn, steady right-hander for the Los Angeles Angels, picked up another victory last week to pace Pacific coast league pitchers with a record of 13 wins and four losses, official statistics showed today.

George (Pinkie) Woods of Hollywood continued the circuit's strike-out king with 91 for the season.

Superior Cafe Scores 6 to 1 Victory Over Cashman Nine

Superior cafe finally played a game in its own rip-roaring fashion, pounding out 10 hits in drubbing favored Cashman's 6-1 behind the three-hit pitching of Leo Petz, who recently returned to the Superior fold.

In another rubber game yesterday evening, the Jaycees played good ball behind the one-hit pitching of Les Schwab to romp the Palace 5-2, and thus almost assure themselves of the first half championship in the Industrial league.

Having topped Superior once, Cashman's appeared over-confident, and Superior ran wild in the first inning, scoring five runs on three hits and two Cashman errors. That proved to be plenty of runs for Petz to work on, for he was nicked for only three hits and one unearned run.

Add One Run
Superior added one score for safety's sake in the sixth, although it looked as if every Superior man was out to fatten up his batting average while the opportunity presented itself.

The Jaycees came right back at the Palace after losing a 9-3 contest last week, coming from behind to score four times in the sixth stanza to win 5-2.

One Game Remains
The Jaycee win indicated that they would probably be the first half winners, although they have one game yet to play. The Palace loss leaves them in second place, one game ahead of All-State Realty.

The first hit and the first run of the game came across in the bottom half of the third when Jaycee shortstop McCarthy tripped to right field, then scored on Lermo's fly ball to center.

That made the Palace mad, for Jackie Robison came up with his team's only hit in that frame, while they scored two times, once on a wild pitch and again when Robison tallied on right fielder Mansfield's infield ball that the Jaycees decided to throw home.

That was all for the Palace. The Jaycees broke up the game in the last of the sixth with four runs off one hit and three Palace errors.

Hurls One-Hitter
The one-hit pitching performance by Schwab was the best game that has been thrown so far in softball play. Schwab struck out five while his mates gave him good support in the field, especially young Lewis McCarthy who had a field day at short stop, handling all his many chances without error.

Fans are once again reminded of the game next Tuesday evening when the world champion

Strict Discipline Annoys Olympic Team Members

By Leo H. Petersen

Southampton, Eng., July 21 (UP)—Two hundred and sixty members of the United States Olympic team, some of them a mite annoyed by the strict shipboard discipline of the last week, were at last on the soil of England today.

The group, comprising the bulk of the American squad for the games that start July 29, departed from the S. S. America this morning at 7 a. m. (2 a. m. EDT) after a smooth and somewhat dull six-and-a-half day voyage from New York.

The America arrived in port an hour before midnight last night, an hour ahead of schedule, but the athletes waited until this morning before marching down the gangplanks into buses and a special train that took them to training camps near London. Their morale generally was good, but slightly low as a result of what some members called "too strict discipline."

Avoid Incidents
While aboard the America, Olympic officials "leaned backward" to avoid any incidents such as marred the 1936 crossing to the games at Berlin.

Chaperones followed the women team members and walked the decks nightly. All the athletes had to be in their staterooms by 10 p. m. each night.

One battle-scarred war veteran commented bitterly, "they treated us like prep school kids."

The athletes also thought that the preliminary training program was a little too stiff, which may have inspired track coach Dean Cromwell's decree that nothing but limbering up would be done for the first two days ashore.

No Speed Allowed
"If I see anyone putting on speed, I'll get a fungo bat and take care of them for it," said Cromwell.

Avery Brundage, president of the U. S. Olympic committee, repeated his shipboard statement that this was his last year as head of the committee, a non-paying post which he said cost him "a conservative $20,000 each year."

The Americans drew a round of applause when they stepped down the gangplank attired in their navy blue and gray uniforms with the seal of the United States on their hats.

Sport Parade

By Oscar Fraley

New York, July 21 (UP)—Stout Steve O'Neill, the portly Irishman who manages the Detroit Tigers, rubbed a face which looks like a prize fighter's today and picked the Boston Red Sox to kayo the rest of the American league in the race to the wire.

"They've got power and they are really playing ball," O'Neill pointed out. "Give them one opening and they fall all over you. The team that beats them will win the pennant."

Steve made this prediction after his tattered Tigers had taken two out of the three-game series with the Yankees and on the heels of three drubbings in four bouts with the Sox.

Hopes for Stretch Run
Right now the big fellow doesn't give his club much chance of getting up there into the photo. The Tigers don't have the best infield in the league and they are rationed in the run department. Still, O'Neill hopes they might make a stretch run such as they did last season when they won the hottest thing in the circuit during the final month.

That lack of power has been a dead weight on the best pitching staff in baseball. Take the case of 20-year-old Art Houtteman, who should be one of the biggest winners in the league. Instead, young Art's record is 12 losses against only two victories.

Loses Close Ones
The sturdy Belgian boy with the blazing fast ball, cute curve and dazzling sinker has received an average of less than three runs a game. Three of his defeats were by low one-run deficits. He scored one victory in relief—driving in the winning run himself—and had to go 11 innings to top his second by a 2-1 count against the red-hot A's.

"It hasn't bothered him, though," O'Neill said. "He's a fine youngster and hasn't lost any confidence in himself."

Houtteman, a black-haired kid with a Joe E. Brown mouth which grins easily to disclose a lot of white ivory, sums it up as "just my luck."

When the club was on its way to Boston, Houtteman thought he might be able to change that luck by changing uniforms with third baseman George Kell. They swapped and Houtteman was knocked out of the box again—while Kell got four hits.

"See what I mean," Houtteman grins plaintively.

JOHNNY UNDER COVER

Memphis, Tenn. (UP)—Eleven-year-old John St. John told his friends that he was in the Cotton carnival parade but nobody saw him. Little John was concealed under the skirt of the rumba dancer aboard the Rio de Janeiro float. He was turning the crank to make the gigantic dancer's hips wiggle.

Louis Through With Fight Game

Detroit, July 21 (UP)—Joe Louis intent only on improving his golf game, delivered a knockout blow today to reports that he would return to the boxing ring for "just one more" defense of the heavyweight title against Gus Lesnevich in September.

"This is final," said the Brown Bomber, "regardless of what anybody says or writes. I'll not fight Lesnevich in September and I won't fight anybody else at any time."

"I've hung up my gloves in good," said Louis after a conference last night with co-manager John Roxborough and Marshall Miles and attorney Truman Conson, Jr.

The champion admitted that he had not yet sent a written resignation as champion to either the National Boxing association or the New York State athletic commission. But he seemed to attach little importance to the final gesture that would sever him from the title he won back in 1937 from Jimmy Braddock.

"I've got six months to send that letter," said the champ with a smile. "What's the rush?"
