Stock Trading Lowest of Year

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Stock prices softened today as trading volume slackened to around the slowest pace of the year.
 Sales in the first four hours totaled only 300,000 shares, or a pace of less than half a million shares for a full day. The small turnover reflected the usual week-end considerations, plus the drawn out uncertainty over the Berlin situation.
 Sometime during this week, moreover, the industry turned out its 100,000,000 automobile since the day the first car rolled off under its own power late in the 1890's.
 Good earnings reports this week were highlighted by the statements of Standard Oil of Ohio, which reported a rise of more than 90 per cent in net income for the first half year; Pure Oil and Cremeries of America.
