Deer Plentiful In Special Area

Deer were plentiful in the Crooked creek area of Lake county when the special four-day season opened this past week end, according to reports from returning hunters, one of whom was Lloyd Douthit, Bend. He and his brother, Herbert Douthit, Oregon City, got their deer on the opening day of the season.

The four-day season was opened in the Crooked creek area by the state game commission to thin out some large herds of deer that have been doing extensive damage to crops along Crooked creek. Two hundred special tags were available to hunters, and it is believed that all 200 were in the small area when the four-day season opened. "It sounded like a trap shoot," one hunter said, referring to the opening-day barrage.

Deer taken in the area were in excellent condition, the hunters said. Many of the deer had been feeding cultivated fields, with crops so badly damaged in some areas that they were not harvested, the hunters report.

At least one Bend hunter returned with a California deer. He was Earl Wood, who hunted in the Modoc region of northern California and returned Saturday with a 190-pound, four-point buck. Wood was with a party of Malin hunters.

Bend Resident Dies in Portland Archibald Colin McLaughlin, 46, a native of Miles City, Mont., and a long-time resident of the Bend community, died yesterday at St. Vincent hospital in Portland, where he recently underwent a throat operation. Mr. McLaughlin had been in the hospital for about ten days. He was an employe of the Miller Lumber Co. in Bend.

Rosary services will be held Tuesday at 7 p. m. at the Niswonger & Winslow chapel, and funeral rites will be held from the Catholic church with Father William Coughlan in charge. Burial will be in the Catholic division of the Pilot Butte cemetery.

Mr. McLaughlin is survived by his wife, Edith; two children, Mervin and Marilyn, at home, and two step children, Robert C. Thorup, of San Leandro, Calif., and Donald T. Thorup, of Castro Valley, Calif. Also surviving Mr. McLaughlin are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colin McLaughlin of the Rock school community, east of Bend.

Two brothers also survive. They are John McLaughlin, Bend, and Lucien McLaughlin, of Redmond.

Holley spent Tuesday with his sister, Mrs. Bill Rachor and family. They returned in the evening. The Powell Butte baseball team defeated the Bend team in Bend last Sunday, 9 to 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chestnut of Bend spent Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rachor.

Ex-Haberdashery Owners Doing Quite Well Now

Independence, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. H. P. Fowler found a newspaper while cleaning house.

It was a copy of the Kansas City Star, dated Sept. 4, 1922. In it was an item about a home town man.

It was a "quitting business" sale advertisement for the Truman-Jacobson haberdashery shop at 104 West 12th street, Kansas City.

Both partners have done right well since that time. Eddie Jacobson is running a haberdashery on Kansas City's south side today. His one-time associate stops to see him when he's back home.

The former partner is Harry S. Truman, president of the United States.

Dewey Eyed Tom-Toms Thump Their Drums

Hastings, Neb. (AP) — A half dozen bobby-soxers have organized a Dewey-for-President club called the "Dewey Eyed Tom-Toms."

The girls, all in their teens, say their chief goal is to "convert" individual democrats to the republican presidential candidate.

Current activities include calls on democrats who the girls believe might be "converted," preparation of posters, and distribution of handbills.

Organizers and charter members of the Tom-Toms are Carolyn Justies, Barbara Jones, Shirley Wiederspan, Loveta Carolee Kissinger, Beverly Howland, all of Hastings, and Joan Clements, Lincoln.

WILD MEN NOT WILD SOUTH SEA ISLAND — Was the native coming out of the jungle a cannibal? On he came to take his stand beside the plane and talk. He told his wonder at the power of gas to lift the plane high and higher like a giant bird. Then he went on to tell how the island had been lifted. It seems they were cannibals until Christ came and lifted them. Killers and eaters of enemy islanders, they were. They had sunken away low and the man went on to tell what Christ had become to them. Out of it, at length, our pilot knelt there on the beach and received Christ into his heart as his own Saviour.

By a word, God can dismiss the universe and create another, for He is God. But created things are not His riches. You are His riches when you believe His word, that He put your sins on Christ, who died for you and cleared you. Believe down in your heart and God gives you new birth into eternal life.

Presidential Nominee Put in His Place

Columbia, S. C. (AP)—Gov. J. Strom Thurmond returned home to South Carolina squelched after he was nominated for president by the States' Rights democrats at Houston, Tex.

The 46-year-old governor exhibited the front page of a Houston newspaper which bannered his arrival in Texas. It carried a big, beautiful picture—of the governor's 22-year-old wife, Jenn. Thurmond thumbed through to page seven. There, sharing a much smaller cut with another man, was the presidential nominee.

Can we keep him, dear? He followed me home.
