San Francisco, Sept. 21 (AP)—The celebrated, bitterly protested "pine-tar" game of Aug. 14 will receive a brief but just burial tonight when the Pacific Coast league-leading Acorns meet the San Francisco Seals for a half-inning replay.

The miniature game will begin with the bottom of the ninth with San Francisco at bat and trailing 3 to 4. If the Seals score, the contest will continue until a decision is reached.

The replay was ordered by league president Clarence (Fats) Rowland, who upheld Skipper Lefty O'Doul's protest that the umpires should have cleared the field of both Acorn hurler Ralph Buxton and his alleged pine-tar glove.

The Acorns pocketed a half-game lead last night by trouncing the Sacramento Senators 6 to 1 behind the eight-hurling of right-hander Jack Salveson. Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto, who slammed his third homer of the year, and Mel Duzebau sparked the Acorn hitting attack.

The Seals will play Seattle after tonight's replay, Portland will battle Los Angeles, and the Hollywood Stars will meet the San Diego Padres. Oakland and Sacramento will not play tonight.

Golden Bears Will Fly East

San Francisco, Sept. 21 (AP)—Unhappy Pappy Waldorf, the blimp-sized coach of the University of California Bears, announced today that he believes the airplane is here to stay.

As a consequence he'll make his first flight since 1932 when he went up in a "one motor or less" job at Des Moines, Ia. Waldorf will board a big Skymaster with 37 of his University of California footballers en route to Baltimore to play Navy on Saturday.

The plane leaves Oakland airport Thursday morning and will arrive in Washington, D. C. The team will visit the White House Friday morning and will work out Friday afternoon.

"We'll have with us an essentially sound team—but there are a lot of loopholes in it," wails Pappy. "Our line was a disappointment in the Santa Clara game. Our blocking was comparatively poor."

JACK in the CORNER

By JACK HALBROOK
Now a cooking expert comes along and says "can-openers-cooks" are among the nation's best. That should make this year's bride-crop as happy as vegetarians in a carrot patch. More than 26 billion cans of food were sold in the U. S. last year . . . and nowadays you can get anything from pheasant to hash in cans. No longer does mother hand down her favorite recipes to her daughter. She just points out the canned goods shelves in the local market. The variety is there, time is saved, and hubby's relieved of the processes of experimentation. Looks like a cook's best friend is her can opener.

But here I am up in Seattle to meet Henry Ford II, so I (and mama, too) won't worry about cooking for a couple of days.

There are 166 Ford dealers and 42 Mercury-Lincoln dealers up here with one thought in mind.—What is it? Why, that's simple—getting the big boy in the corner and twisting his arm for more units.

Me? Oh, I wouldn't do that. I have a much more refined form of torture—if I can just get him alone. But you know how much chance I will get.

A Colorado dentist is producing false teeth for sheep. And anyone who gets a nuttin' chop from one of these old timers will probably need a new set of molars, too. Ever Little Bo-Peep would have appreciated the courteous service offered at HALBROOK MOTORS, Minnesota & Bond. Are you sure your brakes will hold? Don't guess. Be sure. We can tell you just how good your brakes are in a few minutes. All work and necessary parts guaranteed. Drive in for protective safety brake service. Phone: 880.

THE WORRY WART

Corvallis Team Lists Experience

A big line, a small backfield and lots of experienced players is the way the Corvallis Spartan team, which will meet the Lava Bears here Friday night, is described.

Heading up the line are two good-sized tackles, George Jefferson at 205 pounds and Bill Champlin at 210 pounds. Jefferson formerly played with the Spartan Jayvees and Champlin was a letterman transfer this year from Seattle. At ends are John Roth, 161, former Jayvee player and Art Larsen, 166, who earned a letter at halfback last year.

Center is filled by a two-year letterman, Jack Van Loan, at 183 pounds. Guards are Del Spencer, 160, and Dave Bucy, 167, both of whom saw varsity service last year.

Fullback for the Spartans is Del Scott, Jr., 164-pound son of Coach Del Scott and understudy to Sam Baker last season. Bob Ott, last year's quarterback, is again a first stringer. Halfbacks are Garland Sprick, 148, and Ray Nordyke, 159, both of whom have shown plenty of speed.

In addition the Spartan first string is backed up by a strong reserve squad.

The Corvallis outfit uses a single wing back offense and scored two touchdowns from this system last Friday in defeating Springfield, 14 to 0.

Graham Named Most Valuable

Los Angeles, Sept. 21 (AP)—San Diego's home run king, Jack Graham, today was named the most valuable player of the Pacific coast league.

The slugging outfielder received nine 20 votes in a poll of baseball writers in the eight loop cities. San Francisco's Jack Tobin was second with six.

Graham, although sidelined for six weeks after being beamed by a pitched ball July 25, still retained the lead in the four-bagger department with 48, 46 of them from before he was injured. The league record is 60, set by Tony Lazzari with Salt Lake City in 1925.

Graham will receive a $1000 cash prize and the Charles H. Graham plaque from League president Clarence Rowland at San Diego Sunday.

Others receiving votes were Nick Etten, Oakland, 2, and Charley Silvera, Portland; Dee Moore, Sacramento, and Gene Woodling, San Francisco, one each.

Football Briefs

Eugene, Sept. 21 (AP)—The University of Oregon Webfoot, fresh from a 55 to 7 warmup triumph over Santa Barbara State, began preparing for their next game with Stanford at Palo Alto Saturday.

Corvallis, Sept. 21 (AP)—Chances are that Oregon State will make use of Dick Gray's passing ability when the Beavers meet USC Friday night in Los Angeles. Gray completed six passes in a row as Oregon State beat Idaho, 27 to 12, last week end.

Seattle, Sept. 21 (AP)—The University of Washington Huskies held secret practice today in preparation for Saturday's game with University of Minnesota. Coach Reg Root said the Huskies would do their hardest work of the season so far during the week.

Pullman, Sept. 21 (AP)—Guard Ken Kier was out of the Washington State college lineup today as the Cougars resumed practice. Kier broke a bone in last Saturday's clash with UCLA.

Moscow, Sept. 21 (AP)—The University of Idaho Vandals today set about trying to correct weaknesses shown in Saturday's game with Oregon State. The Vandals leave Thursday for Salt Lake City to play a night game with University of Utah on Saturday.

Berkeley, Sept. 21 (AP)—The University of California Bears brushed up today on punting and punt returning. Halfbacks Charlie Sarver and Frank Brock did the kicking. Backs Billy Main, Paul Kackley, Jack Swanner and Jackie Jensen were on the receiving end.

Palo Alto, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Stanford Indians had three fullbacks on the injury list today. Bud Klein broke his nose in practice; Bill de Young had a possible dislocated shoulder, and Bruce Van Alstine had a sprained ankle.

Men's Teams In Semi-Finals

Portland, Sept. 21 (AP)—Houston, Tex., and Portland, Ore., moved into the semi-final bracket of the men's world softball tournament today under auspices of the American softball association.

Houston blanked Seattle, Wash., 4 to 0, last night to gain the semi-final berth while Portland drubbed Lafayette, Colo., 6 to 0.

In consolation games, Stockton, Cal., eliminated Vancouver, B. C., 5 to 3, and Springfield, Mo., knocked out Bridgeport, Conn., 8 to 0.

American League Pennant Battle Remains Close

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Boston's buoyant Red Sox, who were perilously close to submersion, continued to float atop the American league today on a timely lifebuoy thrown them by southpaw Mickey Harris.

Harris, who has been anything but brilliant this season, came through with a neat four-hitler yesterday to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 7 to 2. Making his first start since Aug. 29, he yielded two unearned runs in the first inning but checked the Tigers after that to register his seventh victory against 10 defeats.

Boston collected 12 hits off Freddie Hutchinson, including Vern Stephens' 28th homer of the season. The Red Sox scored a run in the first and two more in the third on the second of Dom DiMaggio's four hits, Stan Spec's two-base hits plus a Tiger error. Three more runs were added in the fourth on Johnny Pesky's two-run single and a pop fly by Ted Williams.

Yanks Also Win
The New York Yankees remained in the thick of the pennant race by scoring a hard-earned 8 to 7 triumph against the sixth-place St. Louis Browns. Allie Reynolds, New York starter, was chased when the Browns built a 4 to 1 lead in the first three innings and southpaw Joe Page came on to gain credit for the victory. Joe DiMaggio singled in the two deciding runs in the eighth after having clouted his 39th homer in the fourth. Billy Johnson also homered for New York while Al Zarilla hit for the circuit for the Browns.

The Indians held on to second place, however, by downing the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 3 in a night game at Cleveland. Rookie Gene Bearden got credit for his 16th win, although he needed relief by Russ Christopher in the seventh. The Indians backed up their pitcher with 11 hits and five double plays.

Dodgers Now Second
Burt Shotton's Brooklyn Dodgers took undisputed possession of second place in the National league with a 4 to 2 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. Brooklyn scored all of its runs in the first inning when they knocked out Hank Borowy on two walks, doubles by Pee Wee Reese and Gene Hermanski and a triple by Gil Hodges. Southpaw Cliff Chambers relieved Borowy and yielded only two more hits. Elwyn (Preacher) Rowe registered his 11th victory as he scattered eight hits, one of them a ninth-inning homer by Bob Scheffing.

Rain permanently cancelled a scheduled game at Boston between the league-leading Braves and lowly Cincinnati Reds.

In a doubleheader between the Pirates and Phillies, Philadelphia won the opener, 5 to 2, behind the six-hit pitching of rookie Robin Roberts. Pittsburgh's only runs came on homers by Bob Chesnes and Frank Costello. Del Ennis and Willie (Puddin' Head) Jones homered for the Phils.

The Phils also took the night game, 7 to 4, to make it six straight losses for the Pirates. Lou Possehl, recently called up from Toronto, went the route, yielding eight hits, among them homers by Wally Westlak and Ed Stevens. Ennis cracked another homer, his 30th.

Indianapolis Speedway Burning Up Stands

Indianapolis (AP)—The Indianapolis motor speedway is starting fires to prevent fires.

Officials burned half of a big grandstand around the famous track where the 500-mile races are held each Memorial day. They said they would destroy other wooden grandstands and replace them with concrete and steel sections to reduce fire hazards.
