MAN ARRESTED

R. L. Hamilton, of Prineville, was arrested last night by city police on a drunk charge. He was lodged at the city jail, with bail set at $15.

Officers of the Bend and Prineville encampments, I.O.O.F., were installed at a joint ceremony last Saturday night at the local Odd Fellows hall. Installing officers were Harry Howard, district deputy grand patriarch; A. B. Burleigh, district deputy grand senior warden; Robert Warden, district deputy grand junior warden; D. N. Graham, district deputy grand high priest; Louise Carmichael, district deputy grand scribe, and W. D. Roe, district deputy grand treasurer.

The following officers were installed for the Bend encampment: Paul Crocker, chief patriarch; R. J. Leader, senior warden; K. L. Arnold, junior warden; D. N. Graham, scribe; J. A. Walker, treasurer; Ora Allingham, guide; Martinus Anderson, first watch; Grant Satsbury, second watch; Chester Johnson, third watch; Charles Roley, fourth watch; Clinton Snodgrass, inside sentinel, and Fred Ellingsen, outside sentinel.

Prineville

Prineville officers who were installed include the following: M. G. Muskopf, chief patriarch; Nathan Niskherm, senior warden; Wallace Bird, junior warden; Henry T. Joethke, scribe; John Meyers, treasurer; Raleigh Maupin, high priest; Lloyd Chele, guide; Louis Enyart, first watch; Harry Watt, second watch; George Crosswhite, third watch; Vern Higgins, fourth watch; Fred Houston, inside sentinel; Ralph Powers, outside sentinel; Miles Puddy, first guard of the tent, and Roy Smith, second guard of the tent.

After the installation there was dancing, with music by Frank Gray's orchestra, and refreshments were served.

Open House Held At Allen School

Annual open house at Allen school was held last night in connection with a regular meeting of the P.T.A. Over 200 people were present. After the meeting, visits were made to the classrooms, where pupils' work was on display.

J. W. Bushong, city school superintendent, spoke on the school building program in the city, and Ford Hunnell, Allen principal, outlined activities at his school. Joe Slate, P.T.A. president, was in charge of the meeting. The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Bertha AlLee's room, who had the largest percentage of parents at the meeting.

Plans were made for a P.T.A. social night Friday, Nov. 11, when an "apron and overall" party will be held. Entertainment will feature games, square dancing and other activities. Bill Barton was appointed chairman in charge of arrangements, with Mrs. Loy Cole, Mrs. Wallace Van Hise and F. E. Hutchins also named to serve on the committee.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hawthorne, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Plummer.

Rehearsals for 'Go West' Changed to Theatre Stage

Rehearsals for "Go West," the fast-moving benefit review sponsored by the Lions' club, have been moved to the stage of the Tower theater for final staging polish, thus making more certain than ever two finished and well-timed performances on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Jan. 25 and 26, the sponsors have announced.

"Go West" is scheduled to start promptly at 8:30 p.m. for two hours of side-splitting comedy and mad merriment sure to please the most exacting theatergoer. Those who have never seen just how a national radio broadcast is presented from key stations such as Chicago, New York or Hollywood, have a treat in store for them. With Jim Bushong as master of ceremonies and network announcer, Alva Goodrich, Ken Cruickshank, Stu McDonald, Stan Scott, Sig Skavlan and Kessler Cannon as radio comics, there can be little doubt as to the fun in store.

This scene comprises the last half of the production and includes a singing chorus including the following: Carl Erickson, George Freeman, Herb Peterson, Bill Naylor, Claire Douglas, Jack Layton, Jack Sherrell, Don Denning, Frank Settemeyer, Jeff Carter, Jim and Phil Lanzaratta, Francis Brest, Leonard Van Leuven, Percy Madden, Ted Holliday and Don Pence. This group will be augmented by an intensely rehearsed sextet called "Five Bees and a Honey"—Mary Fowler, Pat Blackley, Ann Nelson, Audrey Bailey, Peggy Terwilliger and Susie Gilfillan.

To further enhance the artistic and musical portion Heien Allen, Jo Ward, Jack Sherrell, Percy Madden (of that deep bass voice), Stan Scott, Kessler Cannon and the Bend Gleemen quartet—Gail Sigmund, Bob Hocker, Randall Craig and Bill Taber—will feature special song numbers. The accompaniment for the production will be in the capable hands of Greta Nelson, Wilson George and Fred Dallas.

Joe Morgan, general chairman of the show, is most generous in his high praise of the cast of 80 and the members of his various production committees. Don Pence and Len Standifer have done a masterful job of selecting the talent, which has been rehearsing under the direction of "Cy" Perkins of Geller productions, Hollywood, for the past several weeks. Reserved seats for the production may still be obtained at City Drug. There will be a special students' matinee for all Bend students, including high school students, Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m.

Church to Hold Annual Meeting Power Dam

The annual congregation meeting and election of officers of Trinity Episcopal church will be held at the parish hall on Sunday at 8 p.m. Reports will be presented from every department of the church, and elections will be made to the vestry, replacing the rotation retirement of A. J. Glasgow, Walter G. Peak and Ward H. Coble. Delegates will also be elected to represent the parish at the District convocation at Hood river in April. All members and friends of the parish are invited to be present, and following the business meeting, to join in an hour of fellowship. Rev. George Bolster, pastor, said refreshments will be served by women of the church.

Harold J. Eidemiller, secretary of the Jefferson Water Conservancy district board, expressed a belief today that the proposed power dam will not interfere with plans for a dam on the Deschutes above the mouth of the Metolius river that would generate power for the lifting of water over the 800-foot rim to Madras lands. This proposal was reviewed at a conference in Prineville late in 1948, with Senator Guy Cordon present. A preliminary study of the proposal was made by the bureau of reclamation, and the data have been forwarded to the bureau's regional office in Boise, Idaho. The bureau dam in the Deschutes gorge is being considered to provide supplemental water for the North Unit. Immediate action on the proposal was urged in 1948 when major leaks developed in the Wickiup storage basin, where North Unit water is impounded.

Project Backed A survey of the North Unit country, with Madras as its center, this morning also indicated that people of that area will support the move by the power companies to erect a big hydroelectric plant in the deep Deschutes gorge, northwest of Madras. Power will be abundantly needed on the new project, it was pointed out. Nestor Seaman, Madras resident long active in fish and game, expressed his personal opinion that sportsmen of the area will not oppose in the move to develop more power in the Deschutes gorge. The power dam proposed by the corporation would be a concrete arch structure, and would back water up the gorge a distance of 7.2 miles. Howard W. Turner, Madras, is vice president of the corporation, which is headed by Maj. Gen. Thomas Robins, formerly of the U. S. army engineers as president. Turner has long been interested in the development of the North Unit.

Former Resident Of Bend Dies

Jess Claypool, former Bend resident who lived in Ontario for the past five years, died Wednesday morning at an Ontario hospital, where he had been a patient. He was 60 years old. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in Burns.

Mr. Claypool was employed by The Shevlin-Hixon company when he lived in Bend. He is survived by a brother, W. E. Claypool, of Bend, and a sister, Mrs. Albert Altnow, of Drewsey. His wife preceded him in death several years ago. Guy Claypool, of Bend, is his nephew.

New Chevrolet To Be Displayed

A product of three years' development work and more than a million miles of engineering research, the 1949 Chevrolet goes on display in dealer show rooms over the nation Saturday. Locally, the showing will be at the Bend Garage Co., local Chevrolet dealer.

Two of the new cars have been assigned to the Bend Garage Co. They were unloaded here this week from a railroad car at night and have been under cover since. The cars will be on display all day Saturday and through the evening hours. The display will continue next week. Members of the Bend Garage Co. staff viewed the cars in San Francisco this past week.

The latest Chevrolet model has been completely restyled. It is lower, wider and more distinctive than any previous series, the local dealers report. Numerous body and chassis improvements are included. Two new series of cars, the Fleetline and Styleline, are included.
