

Hotels, Courts Due for Census Bureau Visits

Bend's hotels, tourist courts and camps soon will receive an official call from a representative of the U. S. census bureau and operators will be asked to report on their 1948 receipts, payroll and employment, number of rooms or rental units and other basic data.

The information will be obtained in connection with the nation-wide census of business now being conducted. The operators will be asked to subdivide their overall receipts figure for 1948 into totals for: Room rentals (or rentals of cabins), sales of meals and non-alcoholic beverages, sales of alcoholic liquors, wine, and beer, sales of other merchandise (gasoline, oil, tobacco, etc.), receipts from other sources such as laundering, storage, etc., and sales and excise taxes.

Data Extensive
The operators will also be asked to state the number of employees receiving quarters and meals as part of their compensation according to the following classifications: employees receiving living quarters free; employees receiving three meals daily free; employees receiving two meals daily free, and the employees receiving only one meal daily free.

Also, the information about the number of employees customarily receiving tips will be requested under the following classifications: Employees paid for the full work week, and employees paid for less than the full work week.

Operators are required by law to provide the information requested of them. The census law imposes penalties for failure to report, or for reporting false information.

The data obtained by the census are published only in summary form, and in such a way that no individual operations are revealed. No government agency except the census bureau has access to the reports of the operators. The data contained in the individual reports cannot be used for a basis of regulation, taxation, or investigation.
