

Bend's Tourist Hospitality Gets Praises in East

Bend's annual tourist host school is doing its part to uphold Central Oregon's reputation for gracious hospitality. If favorable mention in a recent issue of "The Pittsburgh Press" can be considered a criterion, Mrs. H. E. Schurman, the former Ruth Perry, of Bend, mailed a copy of the paper to George Childs, of Georgia Childs hardware, where Mrs. Schurman was employed for several years as bookkeeper. Mrs. Schurman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perry, of Bend.

In his column, "Here in Pittsburgh," John Troan, press staff writer for the paper, commented that "... people in Bend are anxious to make the visitor feel at home the moment he hits town. So they have a 'school' where the natives most likely to rub elbows with the tourists are taught the proper etiquette." He suggests that Pittsburgh might find it advantageous to adopt the idea which he ran across last summer "out in Bend, a beautiful little oasis on the fringe of the Oregon desertland."

Bank Cashier Admits Thefts

Seattle, May 12 (AP)—Ross Ellsworth Worley told federal bureau of investigation men today how he had embezzled approximately $35,000 from the Bothell State bank during the past 20 years.

Worley, 56, said he made false entries in the bank's books and took the money in small sums throughout the years. He has been employed by the bank as cashier for 28 years.

Bank president Dean Worthington said the loss was discovered Monday morning by the Federal Deposits Insurance corporation which was investigating the bank's books.

Worthington notified the FBI who immediately arrested Worley after his oral admission. J. B. Wilcox, special agent, reported.

Worley eagerly gave details of the long-term embezzlement.

"This has been preying on my mind for years," he said. "I am certainly relieved now that it's all over."

He was charged with violating the federal reserve act; specifically for making false entries.

Worley posted $2,000 bond and went into seclusion in his $20,000 home.

He was arraigned yesterday before U. S. commissioner John Burns and faces a possible sentence of five years in a federal penitentiary or $5,000 fine, or both.

Chlorophyll, the green-colored substance of most vegetables, performs a function of photosynthesis in plant life but acts as a regulator of metabolism in man and animals, it is now thought.

Cloverdale

Cloverdale, May 12 (Special)—The Cloverdale garden club met at the home of Mrs. Charles Trachsel Wednesday afternoon, May 4. The business meeting was conducted by the vice chairman, Mrs. George Billingsley, with 10 members present and Mrs. Frank Arnold, Mrs. Wisley Keevy, Mrs. C. W. Martin, Mrs. Willard Cyrus, and Mrs. E. A. Cyr as guests. Officers were elected with Mrs. John Williams as chairman, Mrs. Lloyd King, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Jack Hamrick re-elected secretary-treasurer. Mrs. John Williams showed the group how to make a crescent flower arrangement, using apple blossom sprays, with a red azalea as center interest, and green leaves for back ground. The members brought flower plants to sell among the group. Refreshments of cookies, coffee and lemonade were served by the hostess.
