

Red Federation Of Trade Unions Plans New Drive

By Lyle C. Wilson
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 12 (UP)—The anti-American world federation of trade unions, for which the late Sidney Hillman stood sponsor here, is organizing today another assault upon just about everything this country holds dear.

This Moscow-managed performance will take place publicly in Rome on June 29. On that date the world federation (WFTU) will hold its second world congress under the presidency of Giuseppe Di Vittorio, boss of the Italian general federation of labor.

Watching over the Italian's shoulder to see that all goes well will be WFTU's general secretary, Louis Saillant, a Frenchman who rarely is out of step with the communist party line.

Moscow Inspired

The WFTU is a Moscow device designed to obtain communist control over the world labor movement and, ultimately, to establish its authority to the extent that it could pull world-wide strikes in any industry for political purposes. It is a vital part of the communists' world revolutionary machinery. Pending the revolution and the time when it can girdle the world with a strike call, the WFTU has busied itself obstructing the foreign policy of the western powers and supporting the policies of Soviet Russia.

Gullibility Shown

With a gullibility which did not distinguish his operations in the field of our own domestic politics, Hillman led the CIO into the WFTU in October 1945 with loud cheers and expressions of confidence. The American Federation of Labor tabbed the WFTU from the start as a communist front, and poorly disguised at that. So did some of the American press. But Hillman had his fling at trying to cooperate with the communists and he died too soon to know that he had made a serious blunder.

Last January under the leadership of James B. Carey, the CIO pulled out of the WFTU, claiming

Columbia Valley Plan Defended

Washington, May 12 (UP)—Rep. Henry Jackson, D., Wash., today defended the proposed Columbia valley authority as an agency that would be friendly both to business and labor.

"CVA would be authorized to cooperate with business, but not compete with it," Jackson said in a statement. "The Tennessee valley authority has widespread support from business men after 15 years of experience with it."

He said CVA bill provisions regarding labor are "more liberal than those contained in the TVA and Bonneville power administration laws."

Penny Breakfasts!

Los Angeles, May 12 (UP)—Two price-warring drugstores served breakfasts for a penny apiece today.

The war began a week ago when one drug store opened across a busy street intersection from the other in the Westchester district. Price cuts on some 50 items followed, hitting the one-cent breakfast bottom yesterday.

Store managers Tom Carpenter and T. Z. Mays kept shuttling back and forth across the street, checking each other's prices and cutting their own.

Both said they were being backed "to the limit" by the chains which own their stores.

'Seeing Things' in Illusion Exhibit Proof of Normalcy

PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—If you think you're seeing things, you're normal. If you don't, you're not.

That is the state of affairs at Franklin Institute here.

The institute put on the largest collection of illusions on earth to prove that illusions are normal, and fun.

There was an uphill goldfish bowl, a room that tilted the rest of the world crazily, a stationary automobile that moved and roses that were there, only weren't. Or you could watch a talking head—with no body to support it—or a motionless flag appearing to wave.

Psychologists estimate that 20 per cent of the population is illusion-blind and can't recognize them. If one sees an illusion it proves normalcy.

It's time to worry when one doesn't see them.

The illusions at the institute were baffling, until they were explained.

It was puzzling to pass your hand through a pot of roses and never touch a rose. They weren't in the pot. They were behind it. It was ridiculously easy to understand, once it was explained. Mirrors.

The same explanation disclosed the secret of the talking head, the trick seen at nearly every sideshow. The body belonging to the head was cleverly concealed in a glass case.

The tilted room dropped your stomach down to your knees. Its 13-degree angle made a goldfish bowl suspended from the ceiling look like as though it were hanging uphill.

Your body tried to stand vertical to the earth but your eyes tried to tell your mind that the room was vertical. Later you got used to the idea and were able to stand without leaning dangerously. But when you walked out of the room the rest of the world was tilted.

Robert D. Horner, Bend, has been cited to appear in municipal court on a charge of operating a car while in possession of a void driver's license. James E. Jones, Klamath Falls, was arrested on a charge of operating a car equipped with an inadequate muffler.

STOPS PURSUIT

Chicago, May 12 (UP)—Police today sought a man who held up two dry cleaning shops and forced women clerks to doff their brassieres to delay pursuit.

Mrs. Anne Berwin, 29, said the tall, blond bandit ordered her to take off her sweater and brassiere. He took $40 from the cash register, threw the clothing into another room, and fled.

The other victim was Mrs. Margaret Voeltz, 28. She found her brassiere in a trash box after the holdup man escaped with $35 from her shop.

RATES UNCHANGED

Salem, May 12 (UP)—The state industrial accident commission has adopted the same rate schedule for employers who contribute to Oregon's workmen's compensation fund for the 1949-50 fiscal year as was in effect last year, Chairman Paul E. Gurske announced today.

Under the workmen's compensation law it is mandatory for the commission to adopt contribution rates for employers by March 15, effective the following July 1.
