

Milton Babich Gets Life Term On Murder Count

Milwaukee, June 21 (AP)—Milton Babich, 19, began serving a life sentence today for murdering Patricia Birmingham, 16, to conceal that he made her sister, Kathleen, 18, pregnant out of wedlock.

Babich, a handsome former high school honor student, was raced to the Wisconsin state prison at Waupun early today, less than three hours after a jury of 10 men and two women found him guilty of first degree murder.

The slight olive-skinned youth stood rigid and grim last night as Judge Herbert J. Steffen handed him the mandatory sentence required by the conviction—life imprisonment. He turned pale when the conviction was announced but won back composure quickly.

The judge added the words "at hard labor" to make his sentence stiffer.

Wisconsin has no death penalty.

Appeal Planned

With time off for good behavior, Babich will be eligible for parole in 11 years. His attorneys said they would ask for a new trial. Failing in that, they will appeal.

In what was believed to be a record time of one hour and 19 minutes, the jury found Babich guilty of shooting Patricia to death in his family's car last Feb. 10 in a premeditated attempt to stop her "tattling" about the fact that Kathleen was carrying his baby without marriage.

Babich and Kathleen eloped on March 18, two days before coast guardsmen found Patricia's body where he had dumped it in the Milwaukee river, weighting it down with a 38-pound concrete block.

Kathleen turned a violet scarlet and burst into hysterical sobs as the verdict was announced. She expects to bear her baby next month.

Mother Unforgiving

"Oh, what lies!" she shouted, and then sobbed, "Lies, lies, lies!" But her mother, Mrs. Katharine Birmingham, was unforgiving.

"He got what was coming to him," she said.

The trial's ending precipitated an open break between Kathleen and her family.

As the verdict was read, Babich's family burst into weeping, then crowded around Kathleen to comfort her where she sat next to Babich's older brother, Victor.

When her mother came to embrace her, Kathleen brushed her away without a word and then left the courtroom with her in-laws, apparently intending to live with them until the day Babich can return to her and their baby.
