Bend Lava Bears Sweep Team Honors in Hoop Jamboree; Prineville in Second Place

By Bob Sever
(Bulletin Sports Editor)

Coach Roger Wiley's Lava Bear hoop squad last night swept team honors in the annual central Oregon basketball jamboree by defeating Redmond, Madras and Prineville before a capacity crowd at the Redmond high school gymnasium. Tonight the Bruins will meet Madras on the latter's floor.

The Bruin hoopers opened the evening's competition, which marked the beginning in central Oregon of the 1949 basketball season, by dropping the Redmond Panthers 14-7. They next rolled to a 17-8 victory over the Madras Buffaloes, and concluded their evening's performance by turning in a sparkling 22.5 win over the Prineville Cowboys.

In other competition the Cowboys defeated Madras 16-15 and dropped Redmond by a 16-15 count, and Madras turned in a surprising 19.15 victory over the Redmond Panthers.

In the night's performance Bend stood at the top with three wins; Prineville was second with two wins and one loss; Madras was third with one win and two losses, and Redmond was at the bottom with three defeats and no wins.

However, individual scoring honors went to the Panthers' star forward, Don Krieger, who rolled up a total of 17 points. Second in individual scoring was Al Christensen, Bruin guard, with 16. He was followed by his teammate Reggie Halligan, who scored 14 points. Ranking fourth in scoring was Eugene Green, of Madras, with a total of 13 points.

53 Points Scored
The Bend squad scored a total of 53 points for the night's action. Redmond followed with 37; Madras was third with 36, and Prineville scored a total of 35 points for a fourth place position.

The Bend quintet dominated the play last night with its high speed offensive attack and tight man-to-man defense. The team's backboard play was excellent under both baskets. Outstanding in this respect were Ed Kribs, Bruin forward, and Jack Robison, Bruin center.

Reggie Halligan operated smoothly at the other forward position to lead the Bruin offensive attack, and guards Bob Hawes and Al Christensen were outstanding for their fine ball handling, and were responsible for keeping their team's high speed break-plays operating in near mid-season form.

Krieger Standout
Don Krieger, of Coach Marvin Scott's Redmond team, was a standout as top offensive man of the night, with his 17 points in three quarters of play.

Outstanding player on the Prineville team coached by Lee Gustafson, was Bill Gobem, who scored 12 points and did a good job on defense. Eugene Green, with a total of 13 points to his credit, won individual honors on the Madras squad.

Coach Joe Piedmont's Madras squad was handicapped somewhat by the fact that Al Corwin, a standout player last year, played with an injured wrist. However, Corwin did a good job on defense and scored 10 points for the Buffaloes.

Officiating the games last night were the following: Cliff Rich, Howard Kroy, Wally Kramers, Charles Keith, and Bill Overman, of Bend; Andy Anderson and Bob Herrinshaw, of Colver; Ted Thompson and Dick Burger, of Prineville, and Ronald MacGregor, of Terrebonne.

No Successor For Phil Sarboe Yet in Prospect

Pullman, Wash., Dec. 3 (AP)—Head football coach Phil Sarboe's sudden resignation because "we can't keep up with the rich neighbors" left Washington State college in the market for a medium-priced mentor today.

At the end of a won-three-lost-six season, the coach who came up from Lincoln high school of Tacoma to replace Orrin (Babe) Hollingberry in 1945, threw in the towel, claiming "lack of cooperation" among his "poor little family."

Robert Brumby, acting director of intercollegiate athletics at the Pullman college, announced the resignation and said it came so unexpectedly that no successor had been considered.

"However, we intend to get the best coach we have the funds to pay for," he said.

The above map outlines the boundaries of the "open area" for the special antlerless deer season, to open December 15 and continue until December 18, in the John Day area. The special season was decided on by the game commission as an emergency measure, designed to "crop" surplus deer in the region. Severe drought conditions are said to have reduced forage to such an extent that many of the deer, unless "harvested," would face starvation this winter.

Bend Sportsmen Forming Teams For Rabbit Hunt

Gail Baker will captain Deschutes County Sportsmen's association gunners and M. L. Merrick will head the Isaac Walton League team in the rabbit hunt to be held on Sunday, Dec. 11, it was announced today as final plans for the hunt were completed. Lloyd Smith will be in general charge. Following the hunt the teams will join in a dinner at the Oasis on the evening of Tuesday, Dec. 13. Sportsmen are being invited to join in both the hunt and the dinner.

There will be a "reconnaissance hunt" tomorrow, to assure a supply of eating rabbits, of the cottontail variety, by locating good hunting grounds. All interested will be welcome to join in this affair.

To Choose Up Sides
For the major hunt on Dec. 11, participants are to meet at the West Side tavern at 8 a.m. Captains will choose up sides. Hunters will turn in rabbits and predators that same evening for points. The losing team is to pay for the winning team's dinner on Dec. 13.

Points to be awarded in the rabbit and predator hunt follow: Cottontail, 50; magpie, 75; bobcat, 500; coyote, 500; raven, 500; weasel, 100; cougar, 1500; owl, 100; hawk, 100; blue jay, 25, and camp robber, 25.

Happy birthday: Sunday, Lew Jenkins, 33, and Benny Bass, 45; Monday, Bob Ferriss, 28, and Gus Mancuso, 44; Tuesday, Jim Bradlock, 44, Gus Nairhos, 28, Tommy Brown, 22, Stan Hack, 4, and Otto Graham, 28; Wednesday, Denny Galehouse, 38, Don Johnson, 38, and Johnny Doe, 41; Thursday, Sam Zoldak, 27, Wilmer Allison, 45, and Harry Hopman, 43.

One of the reasons the South-eastern conference, with a law against a two-time loser going to a bowl game, permitted LSU to go to the Sugar bowl was that the Bayou Bengals won't be able to use the money to buy players. Under state law, such income goes into the University general fund and must be accounted for openly in a public audit.

That's one result of the Huey Long machine smashup... but there still are no handcuffs on the mummy, there or just about anywhere else.

Injures Own Players
Greasy Neale, coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, complains that his own hammering halfback, Steve Van Buren, injures more Eagle players than rival teams. "He just runs over anybody who gets in his way," Neale explained.

... which is one way to keep your blockers scrambling.

Kicks from kickers: At Detroit, Frank Schuch rolled a 300 game warming up for league play and then bowled a competitive high of 140. Mead Evans, of Oxnard, Calif., ran into eight consecutive splits... But there's always a silver lining. Monroe Fenstermacher, 65, of Wilmington, Del., rising from a two-week sickbed, bowled a 300 game... You should be so sick.

Officials of the East-West Shrine game were worried when they put the tilt back on Monday, Jan. 2, when the other bowls are being played, to Dec. 31. Ticket applications were sent out July 15—and on Sept. 1 the game was oversubscribed by 25,000 seats... No wonder so many people are going into the bowl business.

Eddie Arcaro doesn't know how many races he won this year but estimated that "if I had a length, just one length, to spread over the entire season, I'd have won $400,000 more." About three inches would have given him the $50,000 Empire City gold cup. The first general riding instructions Arcaro received were: "Don't get beat by no noses."

Old banana nose doesn't very often!

HUBBY DOESN'T RATE
Philadelphia (AP)—The will of the late Mrs. Alice M. Costello left $1 to her husband "if that is necessary."

But Judge Robert V. Bolger decided in court it wasn't. There is nothing in the law, he ruled, that makes it necessary for a man or wife to bequeath any part of an estate to a surviving spouse.

The judge authorized distribution of Mrs. Costello's $1,302 estate—minus the $1 legacy to her husband. Her three children are the beneficiaries.

City Basketball League Proposal Gaining Impetus

Plans for city league basketball competition this season progressed Thursday with the formation in Bend of a basketball association and election of the organization's officers.

The action took place at a meeting held in the city hall under the direction of the municipal recreation department. Twenty-five persons interested in promoting the program were present, according to Wayne Hamilton, city recreation director.

Named to head the new organization which will be responsible for scheduling games between independent hoop squads of the city, and for the drawing up of league rules, is John Buetler, of Bend.

Officers Elected
Others elected to offices include: Bud Filey, of Bend, vice president; Darrell Thompson, of Bend, secretary-treasurer; Phil Hensley, of Bend, and Douglas Robinson, of Lapine, directors.

Officers and directors plan to meet next Monday to draw up the league rules and to arrange for a jamboree to start the league season.

Organizations planning to enter teams in the league competition are: Central Oregon Community college, Halbrook Motors, American Legion, Bend Junior chamber of commerce, Medo-Land creamery, DeMolay, an independent team from Lapine, independent teams headed by Jim Bvers and Jim Odem, and the Lava Bear junior varsity squad.

Jayvees to Play
Hamilton explained that the Big Six league, of which Bend high school is a member, has discontinued competition between jayvee teams, and therefore gave the Bend jayvee squad permission to compete in city league play.

All teams this year are to be outfitted in uniforms, Hamilton said. He added that he hopes the winner of the league play will be able to represent Bend in the district AAU playoff.

Union High Wins B Championship

La Grande, Dec. 3 (AP)—Union's Bobcats are the Oregon high school "B" football champions. The Bobcats defeated Banks 20 to 6 here last night in the finals before a crowd of 1500 fans in chilly weather. Union scored in each of the three final periods, mainly on the running of Frank Baum.

Baum ran 24 and 49 yards for two of the touchdowns and set up the third by intercepting a Banks pass.

Banks struck back on the second play of the last period when Wendler Schneider took a 28-yard pass from Jack Brown for a touchdown.

WILL SPONSOR LEAGUE
An offer by the Bend Moose club, to sponsor the Bantam bowling league, has been accepted, Wayne Hamilton, city recreation director, said today. The club will provide suitable trophies for winners, and at the end of the season, will entertain participants in the program at a banquet.

"Cooperation such as that evidenced by the Moose club will ensure the success of the recreation department," Hamilton said in expressing appreciation to the club for its interest in the bowling program.

SUITABLE PLAY—A customer may believe he's being fitted to a blue serge, but there's a pick-off play going on behind his back in the Newark clothing store, where Gene Hermanski, left, of the Dodgers and Phil Yankov, right, of the Yankees are salesmen. On the inside is Yankov's Tommy Heinrich, who just dropped in.
