

Lava Bears Wallop Albany In First Game of Valley Invasion; Salem Quint Next

The Bend Lava Bear hoop squad, led by guard Al Christensen, with 13 points, last night posted its second straight win in Big Six league competition while handing the Albany Bulldog quintet a 56-37 drubbing, in a contest played in the latter's gymnasium.

Tonight the Bruins coached by Roger Wiley will move to Salem for a game with the Vikings which will decide who is to have exclusive hold on the league leadership. At the present Salem has a record of three wins against no losses, and the Bears have a record of two wins and no losses, in Big Six competition.

Working well with a fast-break offensive, the Bears took command of last night's game a few minutes after the opening whistle.

Albany Leads at First

Albany jumped to a short-lived four-point lead in the first minute of the contest, but the Bears soon moved out in front and maintained a comfortable lead over the Bulldogs throughout the remainder of the game.

At the end of the first quarter the score was 13-8 with the Bears on the top end of the count. Wiley's eagerness increased their lead to 28-13 at halftime, and held a 45-22 lead at the end of the third period.

Standout player last night was Christensen, according to a report this morning from Wiley. He said that Christensen's shooting was good, and his general floor play was excellent.

20 Free Throws Made

Foul shooting was one of the major factors in the Bruins win last night. Free throws account for 20 of the Bears' points.

Huskies, Cougars Take Measure Of Oregon Teams

(By United Press)

The state of Oregon was holding post mortems Saturday following twin basketball wins by Washington and Washington State over Oregon and Oregon State.

Washington tightened its grip on the top rung of the northern division standings by bopping Oregon 69-49. Washington State dumped the defending champion Beavers 53-39 and climbed into second place in doing so.

Frank Guisness was the Washington sparkplug. The "forward" guard plopped in 27 points blasting the Ducks from all angles.

At Pullman, Gene Conley failed to lead the Cougars' scoring for the first time in seven northern division games. Ed Gayda, the Hoquiam flyer, picked up 14. Conley followed with 12.

Bill Harper of Oregon State was knocked cold midway through the second half when he got in Gayda's way as the timber-topping forward was moving for a lay-in.

Washington's marksmen were in fair form as they percentage .397 of their attempts.

Both Oregon squads will be at the same stands tonight, vengeance-bound.

Sauer Signed As Baylor Coach

Waco, Tex., Jan. 21 (UP)—Baylor university today took "loyal" George Sauer, late of the U. S. naval academy, for its head football coach and athletic director on a five-year contract.

The southwest conference school agreed to let Sauer hire two assistants, but he said he didn't know whether his choices would be Robert Ingalls and Dick Bradford, whose dismissals by navy led to his resignation.

"The two jobs here are open for application," said Sauer.

Dr. W. R. White, Baylor president, declined to disclose the salary terms more specifically than "in the neighborhood of $10,000 to $12,000 a year."

At the naval academy, Sauer's salary was reputed to be "around $10,000."

At Baylor, Sauer succeeds on-again, off-again Bob Woodruff as football coach and Ralph Wolf as athletic director.

Williams Kayoes Bratton in 8th

Chicago, Jan. 21 (UP)—Chicago welterweight Johnny Bratton was undecided today whether a broken jaw suffered at the hands of lightweight champ Ike Williams would force him to quit boxing.

The Chicago Negro said the fracture occurred in the third round of last night's scheduled 10-rounder before 12,000 fans at the Chicago stadium.

But it wasn't until the eighth round that Bratton abruptly turned his back on Williams and signaled Referee Norm McGarrity to call the bout off.

The move gave Williams a technical victory at 1:44 of the eighth round.

Jaw Previously Broken

Williams, who at 143 was three pounds lighter than Bratton, was far in front on points when Bratton called the whole thing off.

At Michael Reese hospital Bratton's physician, Dr. Arno Leshin, gave a preliminary diagnosis of a "compound fracture of the jaw."

Leshin treated Bratton two years ago when his jaw was broken in a right with Beau Jack in the same ring.

"I can see that he was fighting for several rounds with a broken jaw," Leshin said after examining Bratton.

"The fight should have been stopped earlier."

Bratton was put to bed immediately after Leshin's examination. No X-rays were planned until Bratton has time to rest.

Bratton Wins 2 Rounds

Both Leshin and Bratton's manager and trainer, Izzy Klein, confirmed that Johnny's jaw was broken in the same place as in the Beau Jack match.

Marland Buckner (above), 5 foot 4, 4 inch trick shot artist for Fisher's Ghosts, Monday will see action with his teammates against the Bend All-Stars, in a hoop contest to be staged at the Bend high school gymnasium under the auspices of the Junior chamber of commerce.

The game is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Williams, who was an 8 to 5 favorite to win last night's bout, hammered the underdog Bratton in the second and seventh rounds with both fists.

Bratton was awarded only two of the seven rounds.

After the fight, a rumor that Bratton's contract had been sold earlier yesterday to Hyman Willman of New York was confirmed.

The price was set at $12,500.

Pro Grid Teams Consider Future

Philadelphia, Jan. 21 (UP)—The 13 teams who now rule the professional football world as the National-American league gathered around the conference table today to decide how they will split up the star players who graduate from college this year.

That was the first piece of business on the program that started at 10:30 a.m.—to agree on a method of conducting the annual player draft.

The factor that complicated the discussion was that both the National football league and the All-America conference already had conducted separate player drafts which merged last Dec. 9 to form the National-American colossus. Thus, some players already had reached agreements with various teams.

Hart Goes to Lions

A decision was reached late last night on one player—star end Leon Hart of Notre Dame.

At the suggestion of the owner George Marshall of the Washington Redskins, the 13 owners voted unanimously to let the Detroit Lions retain their draft rights to Hart. One of those agreeing was the Baltimore Colts, who held rights to Hart in the old All-America conference draft. After the vote, a Lions spokesman said that Hart had "tentatively" agreed to play for Detroit next season, but he did not disclose the terms of the agreement.

The suggestion that a committee be appointed to study the draft problem was overridden late last night, and so the owners were ready to roll up their sleeves to dig into the problem today.

The owners voted to postpone until June 3 the draft of players from the four AAC teams that passed out of existence with the merger.

Buffalo, Chicago Hornets, Los Angeles Dons, and New York Yankees. Most of the players of the latter, however, go to the New York Bulldogs.

An unofficial poll revealed that at least six teams were in favor of increasing the league to 14 teams, a motion that was defeated by a unanimous vote. Believed voted for admission of another team were Washington, New York Giants, Green Bay, Cleveland, San Francisco, Baltimore, and Pittsburgh.

Defeat of the motion meant rejection of franchise bids from Buffalo, N. Y., Houston, Tex., and Oakland, Calif.

Sockeye Salmon To Be Liberated In Odell Lake

The Oregon State Game commission has received 300,780 landlocked sockeye salmon eggs for hatching and eventual liberation in Odell lake. The young sockeye salmon will be reared at the Willamette fish hatchery near Oakridge and liberated in Odell lake following the ice breakup this spring.

Sportsmen have been favorably impressed with the fishing provided by the Odell lake sockeye which feed extensively in the surface waters during the spring.

Most of the sockeye, also known as yankee or bluebacks, in Odell lake mature once every four years, stated Dr. John Rayner, chief of operations for the fisheries division of the game commission. At maturity the sockeye spawn and die, completing their life cycle. The game commission hopes to establish a sockeye population in Odell lake that has fish reaching maturity each year.

Sport Parade

(By Oscar Fraley (United Press Sports Writer)

New York, Jan. 21 (UP)—Fearless Fraley's facts and figures: The United States considers football a pretty rugged sport but in Lancashire, Britain's toughest shire or county, they think it's a great game for a ladies' seminary.

Asked by Bob Muesel, our roving European correspondent, how they felt about American football compared with their own brand of rugby, they replied that the U. S. had "ruined" the game by wearing headguards, shoulder pads, etc. Over there they play in shirts and shorts and the payoff is in cauliflower ears and broken noses... and with meat rationing, too...

Never Met Socially

Frankie Albert and Otto Graham met many times on the gridiron but never socially—until they bumped into each other in the Stork club. Then their conversation was: "How much you asking for next year?"

Virgil Jackson of San Diego State college who coached Bob Mathias to the national and Olympic decathlon titles, has developed a new type pole for vaulting made of "glass cloth."

Fifteen feet long, it weighs only three pounds or just about half as much as bamboo...

So you fellows think you can bowl, eh? Well, Edna Dalton of Detroit recently scored 200-300-233-733. Of course, the boys out there are doing pretty good, too. Detroit's E & B team recently rolled a 1,284 game. The individual scores were: Louis Siefaff, 265; Chuck O'Donnell, 257; Bill Bunetta, 256; Fred Bujack, 255; and Thern Gibson, 251. That Gibson, they'll probably farm him out...

Lee Gooch, formerly with the A's and Indians and now Wake Forest baseball coach, recalls trying to thank the people of Wichita at a dinner after the NCAA baseball finals. Gooch pronounced it "Wicklita."

"Not Wicklita, coach," one of his kids said. "It's Wichita."
