

Foreign Fish Importations Hit Northwest

Astoria, Feb. 2 (AP)—Foreign fish imports today were blamed for closure of two offices of the Washington Laboratories, dealers in shark livers.

"Importations of foreign products are responsible for our closing two offices today, here and in Everett, Washington, and laying off 11 personnel," Kirk Jones, vice-president of the company, said.

"The price of soupfin shark livers one year ago was $10 to $13 a pound," Jones said, "and by the first of this month it was $2.50 to $4.50 for the same product."

He said that Japanese and South Africa imports had slashed the domestic market price.

Jones said that other fish firms in Washington, Oregon and California were laying off men and cutting down on operations as the imports hit into the American market. He said the foreign imports affected "just about everybody connected with the industry."

Washington Laboratories which operated a shark liver buying business here for the past four years, has its headquarters in Seattle.

Lapine

Lapine, Feb. 2 (Special)—Mrs. Ed. Winn spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Betty Scott, at Crescent.

A Snowgo was brought in by the state highway department from Lakeview, in an endeavor to widen the highway, and was in operation for about 20 hours south of Lapine when an emergency call was received from the Santiam and the equipment had to be transferred there.

Lapine now has two very active 4-H clubs. A wood working club is headed by J. C. Johnson, club officers are Lee Newton, president; Larry Franz, vice-president, and Dennis Carter, secretary. The club has completed its first project. The Camp Cooking club leader is Mrs. Roy Larson. Club president is Jack Parker; vice-president, Dennis Carter, and secretary, Richard Larson. This club also has completed its first project.

Many gifts were received by the honoree.

A March of Dimes picnic social, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Powell and assisted by Mrs. Fay Howard and other members of the school faculty and the Lapine Girls' club, was given January 27 in the Lapine school gymnasium.

The high school girls' glee club opened the program by singing three numbers, "The Old Spinning Wheel," "Down by the Old Mill Stream" and "Alice Blue Gown." Jack Parker gave a poem, "When Paw Begins to Shave." Then a duet was given by Owen Pitcher and Bobby Joe Carter, "The Girl That I Marry" and "The Band Played On."

The upper grades boys parted their hair in the middle and slicked it down and put on handlebar mustaches and entertained with old time songs. Pat Parker gave a reading, "A Tragedy."

The Lapine Sewing club honored Mrs. Darrel Ferns with a stork shower Jan. 25 at the home of Mrs. Douglas Robinson. The afternoon was spent informally. The following guests were present: Mrs. J. C. Johnson, Mrs. Robert Baker, Mrs. Don Bertram, Mrs. Clarence Still, Mrs. L. Riddle, Mrs. Floyd Garrison, Mrs. E. McCabe, Mrs. C. Meil, Mrs. D. D. Solberg, Mrs. J. Hines, Mrs. Theo St. Thomas, Mrs. Raichart, Mrs. D. Dalrymple, Mrs. Roy Stenhouse, Mrs. David Adrian, Mrs. O. D. Alexander, Mrs. Mark Ferns, Mrs. C. Blackburn, Mrs. Wilburn Parker and the hostesses, Mrs. Douglas Robinson and Mrs. Roy Larson.

A contribution to the program was a reading, "Three Little Pieces," given in Italian dialect by Mrs. Ralph Webber of Fort Rock.

This was followed by a piano solo, "Deep Purple," by Mrs. Douglas Robinson.

The Fort Rock dance team and orchestra were unable to come, due to bad weather.

The program was brought to a close with a grand March of Dimes, in which everyone contributed.

The rest of the evening was spent square dancing. Music for dancing was provided by Peggy Ghoslon at the piano; Mrs. Ghoslon, violin, and Mrs. Ralph Webber on the drums.

Proceeds of the affair came to $54. Included in this was a special donation given in memory of Ida Mae Ammons.

On Tuesday, Jan. 24, Mrs. Floyd Garrison attended a program planning meeting in Bend.

Word has been received here of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Acton of Couer d'Alene, Ida. Mrs. Acton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dalrymple. The baby weighed 7 pounds, 12 ounces and has been named Barbra Claire.

Mrs. Robert Baker returned Saturday, January 21, from Eugene where she has been for the past few weeks. She visited with a daughter and her family while looking after business interests.

Recent visitors at the Darrell Ferns home were Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Fletcher of New Hudson, Mich. Fletcher and Ferns were war buddies.

Oregon: Cool, Green Vacation Land; Yep, They're Interested

By William Warren
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Salem, Feb. 2 (AP)—Oregon—cool, green, vacation land. While the thermometer thumped to new lows in many parts of Oregon this week, potential tourists from all the states and several foreign countries were writing in to the state's travel information department to learn about it.

Oregon—cool, green, vacation land. Where will the fishing be good the first two weeks of July? A couple from Culver City, Calif., want to know. In practically every part of the state, the department wrote back, enclosing a pamphlet, "Fish Oregon Waters," and its all-around general folder, "Oregon—Cool, Green, Vacation Land," which observes: "Oregon's countless, clear, cold mountain streams and lakes, fed by the everlasting snows of the higher mountains, assure an adequate supply of cool, fresh water which makes Oregon's trout fishing in inland streams and lakes highly attractive." (Correct, in July. But this week in those high mountains—Santiam pass, 22 below, in the Cascades! Meacham, 38 below, in the Blue mountains! Cold mountain streams? Right! Everlasting snow? Yolks!)

Another couple from San Francisco is planning to vacation in Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. When's the best month? The department replied, anywhere from April to October, depending on whether you like spring or fall flowers for your scenery or cool ocean breezes in mid-summer. (Eight above at Coquille on the coast this week. Cool? Ooh!)

The first two days of this week, with the mercury sagging to 10 below in Salem for the capital city's coldest reading on record, the travel information department with headquarters here received 2,257 inquiries about Oregon as a—cool, green, vacation land. Last week 3,436 inquiries. Lots of folks planning to come and see us, folks, in the vacation season which is only a few months away, even if it does seem a whole thermometer away right now.

Where does the largest percentage of inquiries, and subsequently the largest number of tourists, come from? Why, from none other than that happy hunting ground of the tourist, California. Ten per cent of our visitors will be from the state to our south. And Florida, which gives California what-for in tourist trade competition, will send more tourists to Oregon than any other state in the deep south. How come all this early interest in Oregon vacations, at this time when some pessimists are convinced the ice age is closing in again? It's developed through a series of eye-catching, vacation appealing advertisements run in several national magazines and in newspapers throughout the country—publications with a total circulation of 35,000,000. The department, which is under the state highway commission, is directed by Manley F. Robison.

Among the thousands of inquiries already received from persons planning Oregon vacations this coming season, Robison disclosed, are several from Spain, Brazil, Mexico, Canada, England, Turkey, France, Iran, the Gold Coast of Africa, India, the Philip-pinas, Malaya. None yet from Russia.

From Germany have come several inquiries. Wistful inquiries about beautiful Oregon scenery and other attractions—wistful because the persons making the inquiries can't possibly make it here financially. But they get the full treatment of pamphlets from the department concerning the country Harry Leon Wilson called the green land.

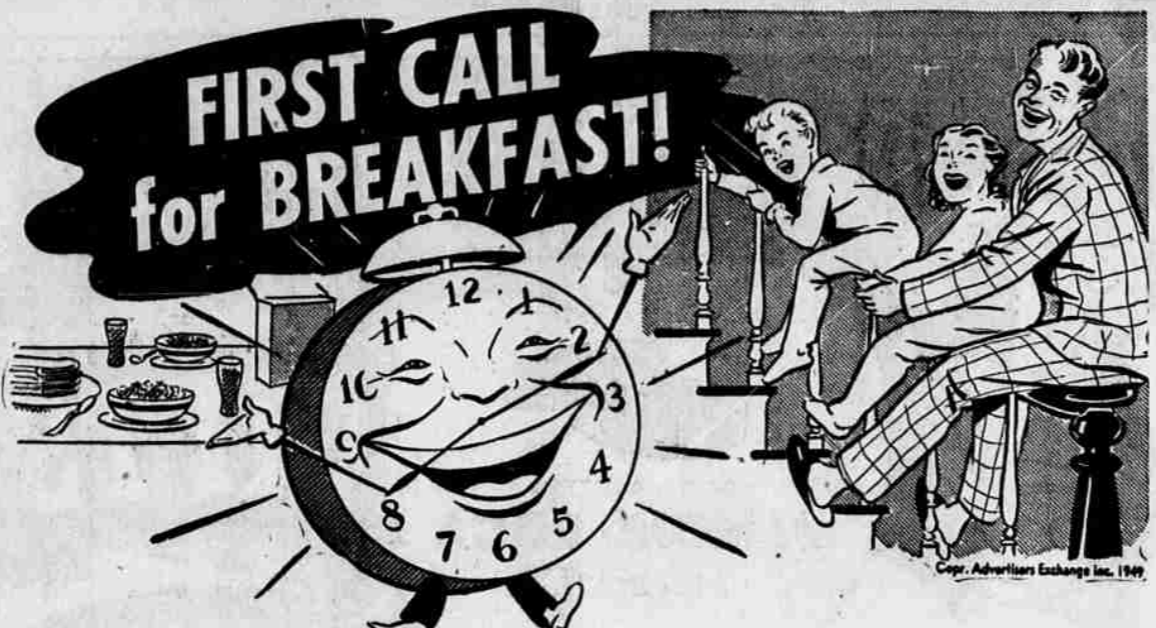

The department sends out about one million folders a year in answer to inquiries and to adorn travel bureaus throughout the country. Last year nearly 115,000 inquiries were received by the department—a lot of persons intrigued by the green land.

Radiator of your car cracking right now with the cold? Water pipes frozen? Feet frosted? Suffering from the deep-freeze frets? Have courage! The warm months will be here soon, with the hot months following, spreading the heat across the country. Then you'll be glad, Robison reminds you, that you're already living where the tourists from all the other states and from foreign countries will be coming to enjoy refreshing vacations. In: OREGON—COOL, GREEN, VACATION LAND.

TOO MANY WRECKES
San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 2 (AP)—Patrolmen watched their speedometers today as they covered their beats in squad cars. Police chief Fred Palmer told them yesterday that he would not stand for driving at excessive rates of speed because five squad cars had been wrecked within the past two weeks. Palmer warned that negligent drivers would pay their own repair bills.
