

Johnson Denies British Cabinet Member Suspect

Washington, April 3 (UP)—Defense secretary Louis Johnson said today the Atlantic pact defense ministers never discussed any proposal to withhold confidential information from British war secretary John G. Strachey.

Johnson was asked directly whether there was any truth to the report that confidential defense information of the Atlantic pact partners would be withheld from Strachey, who has had left-wing tendencies.

Johnson explained that he himself dealt only with Shinwell and that it was entirely up to the British whether or not Shinwell passed on information to Strachey.

In London an official British spokesman described the report as "silly." The spokesman said Strachey would be informed of all strategy discussed at the Hague.

Shinwell, in London, also described the report as "silly." The report was carried by a press association other than the United Press. It said the military chiefs had decided to withhold certain information from Strachey.

Bradley, who headed the U.S. military chiefs, said in London that the report was the first he had heard about it. On his arrival here, Bradley hurried off to the Pentagon before he could be questioned.

Youngster Calls Police, Rather Than Brush Teeth

Salem, April 3 (UP)—The telephone operator heard a young voice scream Sunday night: "Give me the police department, quick!" A woman's scream was heard in the background. Then the connection was broken.

The operator traced the call and relayed the information to police. Two squad cars sirened to the scene. Officers ran to the door and knocked. A woman answered "Yes," said the woman, "my son called the police for help when I told him to brush his teeth before he went to bed. I screamed at him and cut off the phone."

Officers were led to the bedroom where the youngster, about six, took one quick look and dived under the covers. The mother assured investigating officers that the youngster had had his brush with his teeth as well as with the law.

Republicans Set 1950 Platform

Washington, April 3 (UP)—The republican party has reduced to 99 words the platform on which it hopes to win this year's congressional elections.

The 99 words represent postcard size digest of the 3500-word policy statement which was adopted by party leaders when they met here Feb. 6 for the Lincoln day celebration that opened their 1950 campaigning.

The digest was issued by the senate and house republican campaign chairmen in cooperation with national GOP chairman Guy C. Gabrielson. The three suggested that all republican candidates for office use it in their campaign material.

The digest declares that the republican party stands for: 1. Reducing taxes. 2. Balancing Budget. 3. Eliminating government waste, especially along lines of Hoover commission reports.

Communism Hit 4. Fighting communism here instead of condoning it. 5. Providing fair market prices on farm products aided by price supports—cooperative marketing, soil conservation, reclamation, rural electrification—no Brannan plan.

6. Continuing and improving Taft-Hartley law to protect public from excessive power of labor and management. 7. Developing an adequate social security system that does not limit opportunity nor discourage initiative and saving.

8. Protecting rights of veterans and minorities. 9. Developing a united American foreign policy for peace—world trade without undermining American living standards.

10. Safeguarding liberty against socialism.

Truman Orders Advisers To Study Marshall Plan End

By Merriman Smith (United Press White House Reporter) Key West, Fla., April 3 (UP)—President Truman's financial advisers were under orders today to find a way to soften the economic blow at home and abroad when the Marshall plan ends in 1952.

The chief executive ordered an extensive study of the dollar gap between United States exports and imports with a view to developing a better international economic balance before this nation's extensive foreign aid program comes to a halt.

Mr. Truman placed primary responsibility of the study on Secretary of the army Gordon Gray. The president has nominated Budget director Frank Pace Jr. to succeed Gray who will serve as a special assistant to Mr. Truman until he leaves the government in the late summer to become president of the University of North Carolina.

The president wrote Gray, saying "We cannot continue to sell our goods abroad, or receive a return on our public and private improvements abroad, unless foreign countries can obtain the necessary dollars to make their payments."

What produced Mr. Truman concern was the fact that exports are now running at rate of $16,000,000,000, against $10,000,000,000 in imports. Of the $6,000,000,000 gap, approximately $5,000,000,000 worth of exports were financed by American grants.
