

Alaska Alerted As Precaution

Anchorage, Alaska, June 26 (AP)—Anti-aircraft units and fighter plane personnel were alerted throughout Alaska today.

Military police passed through the city ordering all soldiers connected with the 867th anti-aircraft group and the fighter plane groups to return to their posts immediately.

Maj. James K. Bryan, public information officer at nearby Fort Richardson, said the alert had been ordered by Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commander in chief of Alaskan military forces.

Gen. Twining was in Nakhak, Alaska, when the invasion of South Korea started, Maj. Bryan said, but has been keeping constantly in touch with all bases under his command.

Army officials emphasized the alert was not general, and service troops were not among those ordered back to their posts. "There is no cause for hysteria or alarm at this time," Gen. Twining said, "either within Anchorage or anywhere in the territory. This is only an advance intelligence situation to hold a precautionary alert here."

The general said the alert was applied to air bases throughout the territory, not only to Fort Richardson.

Capt. Sam Sloan, public information officer at Fort Richardson, said the entire fort was under a precautionary alert, including all troops.

Erickson Gets Prison Term

New York, June 26 (AP)—King-pin bookmaker Frank Erickson was sentenced today to a two-year prison term and fined $30,000 for operating a multi-million-dollar coast-to-coast bookmaking business.

Special sessions justice Nathan D. Perlman, presiding over a three-man bench, also sentenced the pudgy gambler to one year on each of three bookmaking counts, but suspended that sentence.

The $30,000 fine was the maximum possible under the criminal information to which Erickson pleaded guilty last Monday. The information listed 59 counts of bookmaking and one count of conspiracy to violate the gambling laws.

Justice Perlman and Justices John V. Flood and Frank Oliver deliberated in chambers for 17 minutes before pronouncing sentence. Erickson was sentenced to one year and fined $500 on the conspiracy count and one year and $500 on the first bookmaking count. The sentences are to run consecutively.

On the next three bookmaking counts he was sentenced to one year and $500 each, but execution of the penitentiary term was suspended "on good behavior and on condition that Erickson never engage in bookmaking or in gambling again."

On each of the other 55 counts, he was fined $500.

Flash Floods Claim 16 Lives

Clarksburg, W. Va., June 26 (AP)—Five more bodies were recovered today from the flood-ravaged six-county area swept by weekend flash floods, bringing the number of drowned to 16. Another 16 persons were missing and believed dead.

State police Capt. E. E. Stout said the bodies of Naomi McKinney, 12; Linnie McKinney, 8; Clyde Bailey, R. W. Rothwell and an unidentified man were recovered at Avondale, a short distance below their homes in the vicinity of Smithburg.

Stout said the list of missing and presumed dead included six members of the Cooper family of Smithburg. He said their bodies had not been recovered.

Stout directed the search by radio from Shinnston after national guardsmen, police and volunteer workers resumed their effort at dawn. A thick fog caused search operations to be suspended during the night.

The Red Cross rushed food and medicine into the stricken area and set up relief stations to care for those whose homes were swept away by the swirling water.

The Monongahela Power Co. at Fairmont said electric power had been restored in all flooded towns except Cairo, where utility poles and lines were completely submerged or washed away.

Fred Schroeder, in charge of the companies repair crews, said it would be two or three days before service could be restored in Cairo.

RIVALRY MAKE UP

NEBRASKA—And how these two merchants did hate one another! Both attended the one church in the little town and both were officers, and yet they never spoke. Then came a preacher who brought them together and onto their knees and into the Christian life. And all the town was blessed.

First—They had been born of human parents and they had hearts that loved to sin and hate. But now they were born again with God as their Heavenly Father and hearts that could love, even an enemy. They had God's nature and hate was out.

AND YOU? — Possess Jesus Christ as God the Saviour who died for you. Then moment by moment, look to Him to power you. Just to know about Christ is not enough. Possess Him as your God and Saviour or you die lost. He alone Saves—Keeps—Satisfies.
