Coast League's Home Towners Are Disappointed

By Paul Cane
(United Press Sports Writer)

San Francisco, April 21 (UP) — Paying customers in the Pacific Coast league, few though they have been so far, have to inject more gusto into their "root, root, root for the home team" baseball song.

The tune is as much a part of the national pastime as are peanuts and blue-garbed umpires. But it isn't producing the way its authors planned, unless the home-towners get urged on to victory.

To make a point, we refer to last night's diamond demonstrations in which the resident nines receipted for four close defeats.

The loss most distressing to provincials was Portland's 6 to 2 setback in 13 innings. The Beavers lost to Seattle after their Marino Pieretti had held the Suds to two runs through twelve frames.

Others Meet Same Fate

Other PCL hosts met the same fate, though it took visiting clubs only regulation nine-inning distances to do the jobs. Oakland whipped San Francisco 9 to 7; Hollywood's Vic Lombardi won his first game in two years as the Stars stopped Los Angeles, 6 to 5, and Sacramento captured its fifth straight in defeating San Diego, 7 to 4.

Bud Sheely, Seattle catcher, gave Pieretti's fans the full treatment at Portland. The Sud receiver laced out a home run in the seventh frame to tie the contest and send it into extra innings. Then he clouted one of three Rainier doubles in the thirteenth to wrap up the contest for Seattle.

The spunky Sacramento Solons came from behind to whip the Padres. A rejuvenated Kenny Gables tossed the victory for the Sacs to record his fourth straight triumph of the season. Gables, a cast-off hurler, was shunned by most PCL teams because, frankly, they didn't think Ol' Kenneth Harlin could pitch.

Game Weird

Lombardi, a clever lefthander, staggered to Hollywood's win over the Angels. It was his first successful pitching effort since the 1949 season, when he won five and lost five for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Oakland-San Francisco game was a weird one. There were errors, walks, wild pitches, balks, passed balls and 27 hits that helped keep the game going for three hours and two minutes. Among the 27 safeties were five home runs, stroked by Oaks Eddie Malone and Bert Haas and Seals Ray Orteig, Jack Graham and Buster Adams.

Former Champion To Compete Here

An entry blank for the motorcycle hill climb to be held Sunday at the Ox ranch was received today from Casey Jones, former national champion, who is known in racing and hill-climbing circles as "The Springfield Express."

His entry brings to three the number of national champions who will appear in the climb on the steep hill west of Bend, at 1 p. m. John Martinolich, "the Oregon rocket," will arrive in Bend Saturday with his two specially-built hillclimbers. He is determined to won over Roy Burke, who is also a national champion.

Other experts who will ride include Ralph Mooers, Bend; Bill Donaca, Portland; Emil Kreofsky and Rex Betz, Vancouver, Wash., and Joe Neys and Wilbur Hanson, Portland.

The hill will be in top shape for the competition, according to Ed Vessels, referee.

Sponsors said that spectators may reach the scene by driving out the Shevlin park highway and taking the first road to the right past the old brick yard, following the arrows to the hill.

LINFIELD WINS

Salem, April 21 (UP)—Linfield's Wildcats from McMinnville, Ore., won their third straight northwest conference baseball game here yesterday with a 9 to 1 decision over Willamette university.

Stan Blank, freshman hurler for Coach Roy Helser's team, set the Willamette batters down with only five hits, one a homerun by Dick Brouwer in the fifth inning for the Bearcats' only tally.

Linfield and Willamette tied for the conference crown last year.

NAMED COACH

North Bend, April 21 (UP)—Bob Hamilton, former all-coast University of Oregon basketball player, has been appointed head basketball coach and assistant football coach at North Bend high school. Hamilton coached basketball two years at Medford, then went to Lethbridge, Alberta.

Jack Southworth Surprises Fans With Fine Pitching; Senators Defeat N. Y. Yanks

By Carl Lundquist
(United Press Sports Writer)

New Yrok, April 21 (UP)— Pitcher Max Surkont was making his boss, Billy Southworth, look like a first rate prophet today after turning in one of the finest pitching jobs of the season for the Boston Braves.

When Southworth was sizing up the Braves in training camp he pointed to Surkont and said "that guy could turn my big three pitching staff into a big four."

Southworth then referred to Surkont's 5-2 record compiled late last season after he came up from the Pacific Coast league and said that if Surkont had been with the club all year he would have won 20 games.

The Phillies could verify all of that as painful truth today for they flailed helplessly at him all afternoon and suffered a 2 to 1 loss in their home debut as National league champs. They didn't get a hit until the sixth and their only run was unearned in the eighth. Surkont struck out six.

Debut Spoiled

The Dodgers also spoiled the home debut for the Giants in the Polo grounds behind Don Newcombe's five-hit pitching in a 7 to 3 decision.

Brooklyn put over four runs in the fifth, Jackie Robinson sending in two with a bases-loaded single. Roy Campanella batted in three runs with a single and double. Newcombe, warming up to his task slowly, allowed only one hit in the final five scoreless innings.

Strong-armer Gerry Staley spaced nine hits to pitch the Cardinals to a 5 to 1 victory over the Cubs last night in the other National league game. Third-baseman Eddie Kazak's two-run double featured a four-run fifth inning rally that beat Johnny Schmitz. Joe Garagiola homered for the Cardinals.

President Truman saw the Senators win their third straight opening game for him after he threw out the first pitch and he even predicted the final score exactly as the Yankees went down to defeat, 5 to 3. However, he drew boos from the crowd which in turn cheered Washington hurler Sandy Consuegra's efforts as he held the world champs to four hits. It was Mr. Truman's first public appearance since he fired Gen. MacArthur.

Sima Victorius

In the night contest, Al Sima squeezed out of frequent jams as the Senators ripped rookie Tom Morgan and swept the double header with an 8 to 4 victory. Jackie Jensen homered for the Yankees.

The whizzing White Sox scored their third straight triumph, a three-hit 5 to 0 job by Randy Gumpert over the Tigers at Chicago. Chicago scored three runs in the third inning on one hit and three Detroit errors.

The Red Sox, who couldn't beat the Yankees in two starts, found things even more disconcerting when they came home and suffered a 6 to 3 defeat at the hands of last year's last place Athletics, who hadn't won a game at Fenway park since the 1948 season.

Bobby Feller, looking as brilliant as of old, pitched the Indians to their third straight victory before an enthusiastic opening crowd of 48,316 in Cleveland, beating the Browns on five hits, 4 to 1, and striking out eight batters. Hank Arft homered to spoil his shutout. Feller's strikeout total equalled his best for any game last season.

Bowling

SPORTSMAN'S LEAGUE

The Sportsman's league ended its season last night with the election of officers for the coming year, followed by a sweepstakes. New officers are J. Bowles, president; Lee Calder, vice-president; T. Vogt, treasurer.

P. Hensley won the sweepstakes with a score of 592. D. Brown and H. Bostleman tied for second with 582. J. Bowles took fourth with 575 and D. Musgrave tookfifth with 572.

MATCH GAME CHAMPIONSHIP

Bill Koller led bowlers in the qualifying round of the annual Match Game Championship with an eight game total of 1533. He was followed closely by George Mirich with 1531.

Other qualifiers were Ernie Cundell, 1521; Ev Olson, 1517; Howard St. John, 1488; Henley Baughn, 1479; and Vern Jackson, 1472. An eighth bowler, Bill Whaley, Jr., was seeded into the final round.

These eight bowlers will play a four game match with each of the other finalists. The matches will begin next Thursday at 8 p.m.

MAUDLIN LEADS

High qualifiers in the Fishing derby as of Friday night finds Dick Maudlin leading with a 665 total, with Don Ratliff and Art Hile tied for second place with 619. Others still in the race are: Lee Erickson 611, George Marling 610, E. Miller 605, Russ Kiel 597, Walt Peterson 594, Francis Murphy 593, Judy Murphy 592, Van Groos 588, and Bill Selken 574.

Kid Gavilan Wins From Aldo Minelli

New York, April 21 (UP)—Flashy Kid Gavilan seemed sharp and ready for his May 18 shot at the welterweight championship today, judging from his 10-round victory over Italy's Aldo Minelli at the St. Nicholas arena last night.

The bolo-punching Cuban was unable to stun or drop his heavier rival, but he so clearly dominated the action that each of the three officials awarded Minelli only three rounds.

Gavilan is scheduled to meet Johnny Bratton of Chicago for the welter title at Madison square garden next month. Bratton is recognized as champ by the National Boxing association, but the New York State Athletic commission has withheld recognition until Bratton fights Gavilan.

PILOTS VICTORIOUS

Portland, April 21 (UP)—Portland university's Pilots swept a double-header from Vanport college here yesterday, 16 to 5 and 16 to 8.

Vanport's girl second baseman, Margaret Dobson, played only in the first game, getting to bat three times for two strikeouts and one fly out to centerfield. She handled two chances in the field, one assist and one error.

Class A Teams Compete Today In Track Events

Eugene, April 21 (UP)—Sixteen class "A" teams will go into action in the Hayward relays here today. Pre-meet favorite was Medford, which took home the crown last year.

The Black Tornado has won the Hayward relays seven out of the last nine times.

Yesterday Ashland high school picked up 38 points to repeat its 1950 victory in the class "B" division. Cottage Grove was second with 30½, Prineville third with 27, University high school of Eugene fourth with 26 and North Bend and Oakridge tied for fifth with 20.

Pleasant Hill won the class "C" championship, taking a long lead with three running relay victories and completing the day with 38½ points. Gold Hill was second, Creswell third, Triangle Lake fourth and Gervais, Banks and Henley tied for fifth place.

Langer Sets Record

In the "B" competition yesterday Langer was Ashland's only first place winner, but other members of the Grizzly team took sufficient points in other events to amass the top point total.

Runners up in the class "B" competition included Coquille 17½, Estacada 15½, Sacred Heart and Myrtle Point, 11, Molalla and Crescent City, Calif., 6, Illinois Valley 5½, Tillamook and Dallas 4, Stayton 3½ and Redmond, 1.

Runners-up in class "C" included Bandon, 10, Monroe 3, Lowell 2, Canyonville and Chemawa 1, Shedd and McKenzie ½.

Langer, set a new record for the relays in the discus event with a toss of 149 feet 6 inches, breaking an old mark of 146 feet 2½ inches set by Bob Anderson, Scappoose.

North Bend's three-man team set a new record in the shot putt at 129 feet 11½ inches, smashing Junction City's old mark of 128

FOOTSTEPS TO FAME—Basketball or baseball, it's just a game to Princeton's sophomore sensation, Dave Sisler, son of the immortal George and brother of the Phillies' Dick. A key man on the court, Dave is expected to anchor the Tigers' mound staff this year. As a freshman, he gave up two earned runs in 49 innings, tossed a no-hit, no-run game, compiled a 6-0 record. (United Press Sports Writer)

New York, April 21 (UP)—Seven suicide pitches today substantiated the theory of harrassed Eddie Sawyer that his champion Philadelphia Phillies conceivably could wind up sixth—or worse—in the current National league pennant race

Sawyer, the usually bland pilot of the Fightin' Phils, isn't wrestling a defeatist complex. He's facing facts and frightening figures spawned by the unimpressive debut of Iron Man Konstanty, his record breaking relief hurler.

Added to this is the start of a season in which he is minus the services of Curt Simmons, now in service, and the failure of the Phillies to uncover any bolstering pitching aid during spring training.

Won 17 Last Season

"Look at it this way," Sawyer explained. "Simmons won 17 games for us before he left last season and Konstanty won 16 games, a large number for a relief pitcher.

"Now, you can hardly expect a relief pitcher to win more than 10 games for you," he added. "So you total the 17 games we'll be lacking which Simmons won and six of Konstanty's. That's a total of 23 games — and when you take it either way, it makes a difference of 46 games.

"Remember," Eddie cautioned as he did his figuring, "the Pittsburgh Pirates were only 33½ games behind us last year to finish in last place!"

That, by inference, indicates Sawyer's theory that unless there are some changes made the Phillies could well drop from first to somewhere deep in the second division.

May Have Aces

But Sawyer, the man who converted the once-futile Phillies into a pennant winner, isn't quitting. He may have a couple of aces up his sleeve in Ken Heintzelman and Russ Meyer. Both of them were disappointments last season, but may spring back to put new hope into the Phillies.

"I'm looking for both of them to take up some of the slack," Sawyer said, "but . . ."

It's a big "but," too. For Konstanty started to live up to Sawyear's expectations of a backsliding season as he made his debut against the Dodgers.

Taking that long walk from the bull pen which he made a record number of 74 times last season, Konstanty went in against the Dodgers in the ninth inning with a one run lead. He made seven pitches—and lost the game.

Vandals Defeated By Oregon State

Corvallis, April 21 (UP)—The Oregon State Beavers will be trying to run their string of baseball victories to 12 today when they meet the Idaho Vandals for the second of their two-game week-end baseball series.

They beat the Vandals yesterday 8 to 4 in the northern division opener for the Beavers. The Vandals have now lost three straight in northern division competition having dropped two to University of Oregon earlier in the week.

In Seattle the Washington Huskies blanked the defending champions, the Washington State college Cougars 6 to 0.

ROOKS VICTORIOUS

Eugene, April 21. (UP)—The Oregon State Rooks whipped the Oregon freshmen baseball team twice yesterday by scores of 8 to 2 and 9 to 3.

Rook pitcher Norm Wellman hurled a neat two-hitter in the opener.

TWO GOLF UPSETS

Pinehurst, N.C., April 21 (UP) — Upset-artists Hobart Manley of Savannah, Ga., and Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C., both in the lumber business, met today in the finals of the North and South Amateur golf tournament.

Both advanced into the title round by upsetting the last "big-name" stars left in the tournament yesterday.

Manley, only 24 years old, beat 40-year-old Dick Chapman, 3 and 1, and Patton defeated "Dynamite Billy" Goodloe of Valdosta, Ga., 3 and 2.

Today's round is also over the 36-hole route.

OREGON GOLFERS WIN

Eugene, April 21 (UP)—Coach Six Milligan's University of Oregon golf team opened its northern season here Friday by defeating the University of Washington 18 to 9 at the Eugene Country club.

Paul Johanson, Washington, and Ron Clark and Fred Mueller, both of Oregon, shared medalist honors with 71's.

YOUR HEALTH

By R. D. KETCHUM, D. C.

A. B. Jamison, M. D., wrote an interesting book called "Intestinal Ills." The following quotation is quite illuminating in the light of the findings reported last week on the absorption from the gastrointestinal tract and efforts of nature to dispose of these wastes:

"The phenomenon of vicarious elimination may occur through the kidneys, lungs, skin, nose, vagina or uterus; thus keeping up chronic diseases and discharges that would not exist but for the chronic constipation or even incomplete action of the bowels each day. Over-distention of the rectum, sigmoid and colon, due to the pressure of gasses, and the impaction of feces, resultation and abnormal baloon ing or roominess in certain portions of the intestines.

"This roominess, though it becomes filled with feces, and often with liquids, permits of sufficient space for even the daily passage without disloging the stored contents. The fact that there is a daily passage deceives both the sufferer and medical advisers as to the source of the poisonous condition of the system, and makes the origin of such conditions as chronic inflamation and ulceration of the nose, throat, lungs, duodeum, colon, appendix, uterus, bladder, kidneys, and edema of the leg."

"But the evidence of autoinfection are usually preceded and accompanied by general loss of vitality, by anemia, by lowering the resting power of the organism — all of which produce a fit soil for the various diseases to which flesh is heir.

"As soon as the system becomes saturated with bacteria and waste products, auto-intoxication results, in which condition there is little or no store of vitality for resistance, reaction and recuperation."

The pressure that a distended bowel can exert on surrounding organs, blood vessels and nerves is almost unbelievable. Leg pains, as well as low back pains, are frequently an indication that there is bowel pressure on surrounding nerves. Varicose veins in the legs almost always indicate some such pressure in the abdomen.

Colonic irrigations will not only relieve many of these symptoms and conditions, but will also tend to prevent a recurrence of the same condition later. Normal elimination can usually be established, and with reasonable care, the return of the former unpleasant symptoms are unlikely.

So till next week, watch your health, and for additional information or literature, call at our office, 124 Minnesota, phone 794. Adv.
