Indians Unleash Batting Power In Flag Chase

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Just when they were needed most, the Cleveland Indians' long-silent bats began thundering today in a drive to break up the American league pennant race.

That's what manager Al Lopez has been praying for a long time now—that the tribe hitters would start to carry their share of the pennant load along with the "big four" pitching staff of Bob Feller, Mike Garcia, Early Wynn, and Bob Lemon.

Until now, the Cleveland story has been a pitching story, for the tribe ranks only as the sixth best hitting team in the loop.

Open Home Stand

But last night the Indians opened an 18-game home stand that they regard as the "golden opportunity" to take charge of the pennant chase. Lopez and Co. figure that they have a chance to open a comfortable lead if they can continue their .719 home winning percentage.

Last night Lopez got his hitting four booming home runs that created a 5 to 3 victory over the Washington Senators. And right away the Indians' lead increased from half to a full game as the second-place New York Yankees split a doubleheader with Detroit, losing the first game, 6 to 3, and winning the second, 12 to 5.

The Indians' four homers — by Dale Mitchell, Al Rosen, Bobby Avila, and Harry Simpson — were half their total against Senators' pitchers Dick Starr and Sid Eudson. Rosen's was the only one that came with a man on base.

One-Run Lead

The Senators had gotten off to a one-run lead in the first inning against Big Mike Garcia, but the Indians came back with three in the same frame on the Mitchell and Rosen blasts. Garcia went on to win his 17th game of the year, although he allowed 12 hits, including a homer by Eddie Yost.

Virgil Trucks and Dizzy Trout combined to pitch Detroit to its first game win over the Yankees, as Ed Lopat went down to defeat. The Tigers never were behind in this one as Pat Mullin led the attack with his 11th homer, and Trucks held the Yanks scoreless until the eighth when Trout came in to stop a New York rally.

Lefty Joe Ostrowski pitched the route for the Yanks in the nightcap for his fifth victory. The way was made easy when the New Yorkers exploded with eight runs in the fourth inning, a rally in which Gene Woodling hit both a single and a triple, Yogi Berra hit a homer in each game for the Yanks.

Game Postponed

The Brooklyn Dodgers' Boston Braves night game was postponed by rain. No other action was scheduled in either major league.

In exhibition games, the Pittsburgh Pirates scored their third victory of the year against American league opposition by beating the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 2, behind Jim Walsh's four-hit pitching, and the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Baltimore Orioles of the International league, 6 to 2.

Yesterday's Star

Yogi Berra, Yankees — hit a home run in each game as the Yankees split a doubleheader with the Tigers.

Matthews Seeks 7th Knockout

Portland, Ore., Aug. 21 (AP)—Harry (Kid) Matthews will be after his seventh straight knockout here tonight when he steps into the ring with Jose Basora of New York in the National boxing club main event at the auditorium.

The odds show Matthews a heavy favorite in the light-heavy weight duel.

Matchmaker Tex Salkeld today said some good seats were still available for the fight.

Yost Captures Portland Meet

Vancouver, Wash., Aug. 21 (AP)—Dick Yost, amateur from Portland's Columbia-Edgewater Country club, shot a five-under-par 283 to win the 72-hole Royal Oaks golf tournament which ended here yesterday.

Yost out-fired Harold West, top O'Scott pro, by three strokes. However, West copped the $500 prize money.

Yost fired a four-under-par 68 for the day's first 18 and fell to a 72 the second round with scores of 59-35.

Lou Stafford, amateur from Alderwood in Portland, and Larry Lamberger of Portland each carded 287's to tie for third place. Bob McKendrick of Oswego fired a 289 and Emery Zimmerman of Portland pro, shot a 291. Stafford was the winner last year and McKendrick was the top pro.

No Place to Start

Wichita, Kan. (AP)—A rent control office was established in Wichita and immediately confronted the very problem it was designed to correct. The commission could find no office space.

PCL Suffering Poor Season At Box Office

San Francisco, Aug. 21 (AP)—The poor Pacific coast baseball league, suffering its greatest box office decline in history, drags in to the final three weeks of play today with a dim future.

With the pennant race just about decided as Seattle holds a seven game advantage; with Hollywood nearly sure of second place by virtue of a nine-game lead of third-place Los Angeles, there isn't much in the way of competition.

And the fans are staying away in large numbers. On Sunday, for instance, only 20,661 went through the turnstiles to see the four games. The biggest crowd was at Los Angeles, where the Rainiers helped attract 9,871. Other attendances were: San Francisco 3,820; San Diego, 3,781; and Sacramento, 3,189—which would be fairly respectable figures in a class D league.

One of these may be the talk of major league baseball that "may" hit the coast in the next few years. Although owners aren't optimistic, many fans are hopeful. And they bid their time by listening to major league broadcasts that blanket the west coast. On these they can hear the names of many of the stars who gained their first fame here — such as Joe DiMaggio of the Yanks, Larry Jansen of the Giants and Orestes Minoza of the Chicago White Sox.

Typical Englishman
Solomon, arriving with middleweight champion Randy Turpin for a defense against Ray Robinson, didn't show the wisdom of his namesake. Interpreting for the shy Turpin — a gent who drops his hat with the best of them — Limehouse Jack explained:

"He doesn't understand what you fellows are doing to the English language."

Now, if there's going to be a witch hunt, you chase the guy with the midget and I'll pursue Limehouse Jack.

Vecek's gag, I think, was down-right side-splitting. Particularly when you consider that it was pulled by a team almost 40 games off the American league pace against another also-ran. Baseball and baseball men, at best, are inclined to be a bit stodgy. You know, old boy. After Doubleday would have frowned on something like that.

They act, most of the time, as if it was a game which came over on the bridge they called the Mayflower. So Vecek's midget leadoff man was the brightest spot they've hit since Babe Herman caused Brooklyn to have three men on third.

Hunts for Solomon
So while the horrified baseball worshippers burn in indignation, while pitchers have nightmares of midget-sized strike zones, and while umpires get lumbago leaning down to the new strike zone — I'm hunting for Solomon.

What we are "doing to the English language," indeed. Limehouse Jack probably doesn't know it, but we've been fracturing the English language ever since a little fracas at Yorktown in 1781 and an Englishman started it. What Cornwallis said wasn't strictly out of a Hyde park drawing room, but it sounded good to us.

His boy, Turpin, came off with a strictly king's English line when, told that Robinson was the favorite to regain the title, he replied: "I'm easy."

According to the king's English, that means "free from care or distress."

But in good old American, "easy" means just that, which I've a hunch is what Turpin is out for Robinson this time out. One fractured Englishman coming up — anybody wanna try for two?

Blonde Flyer All Smiles After Victory

Detroit, Aug. 21 (AP)—Blonde Clare McMillan was all smiles today over winning the annual transcontinental "powder puff" air derby because her share of $850 first prize money would help her set up housekeeping.

The 27-year-old flying instructor, of Santa Ana, Calif., was doubly glad to land here last Friday because her fiancée, Michael Walters of Pico, Calif., was waiting for her. They will be married next week.

Miss McMillan's sister pilots repped up their 43 planes today and headed home to various points around the country. But her return trip to Santa Ana, where the 1,919 mile race started last Wednesday, was postponed until after the wedding.

She and her pilot, Mrs. Frances Bera of Balflower, Calif., were the eighth to make it. Detroit but the winners on the basis of elapsed time in flight. The first to land, Mrs. Arlene Davis of Cleveland, was 13th in the final standings.

Twin sisters, Marion and Jan Dietrich of Sacramento and San Mateo, Calif., won $500 second place money although their plane was 39th of the 41 planes to land by the deadline.

Edna Gardner Whyte of Aberdeen, Miss., was third for $300. Last year's winner Jean Parker of Arcadia, Calif., was second to finish but fourth in elapsed time for $100. Last year she finished last.

All 44 planes that started the race reached Detroit, although three failed to make it in time to qualify for any awards.

Prineville Boy In Shrine Game

Prineville, Aug. 21—No more enthusiastic rooter for the upstate team will be present for the Shrine benefit football game at Multnomah stadium next Saturday evening when the upstate high school stars of 1950 will play a selected team from Portland high teams, than Jack Aschbacher, local rancher. Aschbacher will be there lending in a maximum way to the moral support of his son Ron, a star of gridiron bouts of the Crook county high school's Cowboy team, who will be a tackle for the upstaters of the Shrine event.

Aschbacher, senior, who for years operated the Prineville creamery, reports that Ron has found himself in the pink of condition this summer, engaged in a variety of farm chores including bucking hay. Aschbacher, a senior will be accompanied by another son, Darrell, a redhead, who has played tackle on Crook county high teams and who will be a mainstay in the 1951 line.

Augmented by delegations from other central Oregon towns, a large number of Prineville fans will motor to Portland for the Saturday night Shrine game.

Portland Team Loses Contest

Lewiston, Ida., Aug. 21 (AP)—Billings, Montana's American Legion junior baseball team defeated Portland, Ore., 12-7 last night to remain the only unbeaten team in the region 1 tournament underway here.

Defending champion Yakima Burrows Ford knocked out Lithia, Hawaii, islanders 14-13 in the first game of the evening.

The Hawaiians played hard-hitting, scrappy ball, but committed 10 errors that lost the game. Yakima won when Jim Keyster scored from third after a long fly ball.

Portland, Yakima and Boise each have lost one game. Portland meets Billings again tonight and Yakima plays Boise.

Mantle to Face Possible Draft

Oklahoma City, Aug. 21 (AP)—The New York Yankee's recall of sensational outfielder Mickey Mantle from the Kansas City Blues today found the 19-year-old switch-hitter en route to Fort Sill, Okla., where the army will decide whether he is 4-F or ripe for the draft.

Decision to send the youthful star to the Oklahoma induction center came yesterday after he had undergone his third physical examination and doctors could make no recommendations.

Announcement of his recall to the Yanks came last night. Mantle's left leg was injured in high school football practice in 1947 and developed osteomyelitis. That gave him a 4-F classification from the Ottawa county, Okla., draft board. But a re-examination was ordered and will keep Mantle at Fort Sill, near Lawton, about three days.

The Yankers' recall of the youngster was made as Bob Cerv, another rookie outfielder, was optioned to the American Association Kansas City club. The Yanks also sent 21-year-old Bob Wiesler, a pitcher, to the Blues and bought the contract of veteran relief pitcher Bob Hogue.

Wiesler, a left-hander, lost two games during his brief stay at New York. Hogue has a 4-0 record with the Blues, who bought him from the St. Louis Browns.

SEARCH RENEWED
New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Major league club owners, fighting with each other as briskly as their teams scrap on the playing field, yearly renewed their search for a commissioner today and expressed little hope of getting the job done at this time. They still have not even been able to get together on even the type of man they want to rule their sport through currently troubled times, nor have they decided definitely just how much power they want him to have.

Sports Parade

By Oscar Fraley (United Press Sports Writer)

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Baseball men had their cudgels out today in pursuit of Bill Vecek because he dared to put a midget in the lineup of the St. Louis Browns but it looked from here as if the sports world was chasing the wrong guy.

My shillelagh is not aimed at Vecek or the little man who physically represents the actual baseball stature of the long-bue Browns. The target for today is Jack Solomon, the British light promoter.

Typical Englishman
