Truman Planning to Send Another Letter to Russia

By James E. Hopper
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)
 Washington, Aug. 21 (UP)—President Truman set out today to talk the hinges off the gates of the iron curtain.
 Mr. Truman arranged to send another personal letter to Soviet President Nikolai M. Shvernik—and challenge the soviet press to print it.
 Mr. Truman also asked congress to restore cuts in funds for the Voice of America, which broadcasts U.S. propaganda to soviet-controlled countries.
 The new assault on the iron curtain was inspired by a Soviet-American "friendship" exchange. On July 7, Mr. Truman sent to Shvernik a letter and congressional resolution expressing friendship for the soviet peoples. Shvernik replied by accusing the United States of assorted misdeeds. Mr. Truman formally submitted Shvernik's reply to congress yesterday—but reported encouragement that the whole incident had been publicized in the soviet press and radio.
 Mr. Truman said the exchange "opened at least a crack in the iron curtain."
 "We should now make every possible constructive use of this small opening," Mr. Truman continued. "If we do so, we may be able to show the soviet peoples our real desire for peace."
 He called on congress to appropriate for U.S. propaganda the full $115,000,000 that he requested for the current fiscal year. The house has trimmed this to $85,000,000.

Shipping Limit Given Approval By Department

Redmond, Aug. 21—The U. S. department of agriculture has announced its approval of committee recommendations limiting shipments of potatoes produced in Crook, Deschutes, Jefferson, Klamath and Lake counties in Oregon and in Modoc and Siskiyou counties in California. This limitation is effective August 27, 1951 to June 30, 1952.
 In attempting to clear up any misunderstanding that may occur the administrative committee under marketing order No. 59 explains that potatoes shipped during this period must be at least U. S. No. 2 in grade and 2 inches in diameter or 4 ounces in weight. Potatoes below the minimum may be shipped under permit for the following purposes: export distribution by the federal government or relief agencies, for manufacture into starch, flour, dehydrated, canned or frozen products, livestock feed, and certified seed. Culls for livestock must be dyed prior to leaving the production area. It does not matter who does the dyeing but it must be done.

Vets Withdraw Resolutions

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 21 (UP)—The fear of "reprisals" prompted delegates to the military order of the Purple Heart convention to kill resolutions demanding the resignations of veterans administrator Carl Gray and Secretary of state Dean Acheson.
 Spokesmen for the veterans organization, which wound up its national convention here during the week end, said today the veterans feared the resolution might have brought "federal reprisals."
 The spokesman said that "authorities" were considering the order's petition for a federal charter.
 The resolution to remove Gray was shouted down on the convention floor, and the move to seek Acheson's dismissal died in committee.
 every seven days. This allows the grower to test his crop for maturity by running them over the digger and grader to see how they stand up for skinning. Each lot must be handled separately, identified as to producer and reported to the committee prior to shipment.
Under Limitations
 The states of Idaho and Washington are already operating under these limitations and therefore practically all Russet, Burbank and Netted Gem potatoes are covered.
 Finally, during the period of regulation, each handler may make shipments of not to exceed 5 hundredweight per week without regard to regulation.
 Roy Snel, committee chairman, is urging all growers and handlers to contact their local committeemen or committee offices in Redmond or Tulelake if they wish further information.
 William Huse of Tulelake is committee manager and Don Ellis of Redmond is assistant manager. District 1 committee members, besides Chairman Snel, are M. F. Sandoz, Madras, Norman Hyder, Metolius and George Hostetler, Redmond.

Truman to Ask Stiffer Controls

Washington, Aug. 21 (UP)—President Truman laid before his mobilization advisers today plans for a hurry-up request to congress to stiffen the new price control law.
 Mr. Truman has said the new law is not "adequate." Informed sources said he probably will ask congress to restore beef slaughtering quotas and amend a provision which the President feels will "force price ceilings up on thousands of commodities."
 He put the plans before his 17-man national advisory board on mobilization policy which is expected to make its recommendations late today. Then he will call in his congressional leaders with a view to asking action before congressional adjournment, now tentatively set for Oct. 1.
Improper Tools
 Press Secretary Joseph Short said Mr. Truman told the board that the present law, which he reluctantly signed July 31, does not give him the proper tools for holding down prices.
 Informed sources expected Mr. Truman to make a determined fight to knock out an amendment which eliminated beef slaughtering quotas. Price stabilizers had considered the slaughtering quotas their main weapon in enforcing beef price ceiling and stopping diversion of beef to black markets.
 Another target of presidential criticism has been the so-called Capahart amendment which permits manufacturers to add to their selling prices all direct and indirect cost increases through July 26.
 Still another provision objectionable to the President is the so-called Hurlong amendment which guarantees wholesalers and retailers their customary mark-up margins—the difference between their cost and selling prices.

Plane Crashes Near Truck Killing Twelve Soldiers

Fort Dix, N. J., Aug. 21 (UP)—Eyewitnesses said today it was like "a ball of fire" from the sky when a jet plane crashed near a truck load of soldiers, spraying them with flaming gasoline. Twelve were killed and 21 injured.
 Pvt. Joseph B. Suzansky, of New York, was one of those injured when the training version of the P-80 Shooting Star crashed yesterday in a scrub pine forest where 54 soldiers were grouped in an army communications exercise.
 "All we saw was fire coming at us—a ball of fire," Suzansky said. "Somebody yelled 'hit the ground' and we did. We all headed the signal."
Flames Shoot Up
 "There was a terrific whoosh and the flames shot up all around. All those killed were in the truck. They were going to ride and we were going to walk."
 Ten men were killed outright and two others died after midnight of burns covering 90 per cent of their bodies.
 One of the injured—Pvt. Louis Zaccardo, 22, of Greenwich, Conn., was burned so badly he was not expected to live.
 All were assigned to "B" battery of the 9th division's 26th field artillery battalion.
 Suzansky said he believed more men would have been killed had it not been for "our army training."
 Capt. William H. Rauh, 31, of Seattle, Wash., pilot of the two-place T-33 trainer based at McGuire field, and Major Theodore Deakyn, 30, Levittown, N. Y., his passenger, were killed.
 All of the soldiers killed were from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut and most of them had been in the army less than five months. Pvt. George and Robert Poole, 22-year-old Cam-

Should Demand

Sen. Brian McMahon, D., Conn., co-author of the resolution that started the "friendship" exchange, welcomed Mr. Truman's insisting on the "right to talk to the Russian people." McMahon said that from now on, the United States should demand that any Soviet-American negotiations be reported fully in the soviet press. Otherwise, he said, the United States should assume that Moscow is not negotiating in good faith.
 McMahon said the union wants to prove its good faith, Mr. Truman said, it can:
 1. "Stop flouting the authority of the United Nations."
 2. "Cease supporting armed aggression in defiance of the verdict of the UN."
 3. "Make constructive contributions toward establishing conditions of peace with Germany, Austria and Japan."
 4. "Refrain from employing force to maintain in other countries regimes which do not command the support of their people."
 5. "Cease supporting subver-

Police Facing Difficult Task

Portland, Aug. 21 (UP)—When Oregon state police go to Astoria for the Astoria salmon derby, starting Aug. 3, they will be tackling "an impossible enforcement problem," the state game commission said today.
 Department officials said the tough part about the problem was an opinion by the attorney general that non-residents, fishing from the Oregon shore, but in Washington waters, need not have Oregon angling licenses, but must have them if fishing in Oregon waters.
 The opinion was prepared by Arthur G. Higgs, assistant attorney general and counsel for the game commission.
 Al Hentzel, manager of the derby, said such a system would virtually exclude all non-residents from buying licenses because, he said, the entire fish run of salmon is found in Washington waters.
 Higgs told state game director Phillip W. Schneider that he referred to the state boundary and not the geographical center of the river. The existing boundary is near the Washington shore.
 Oregon fishermen must have licenses even though they fish in Washington waters from Washington soil.
 Washington requires no licenses from either resident or non-resident salmon sports fishermen and they may take fish anywhere in the river.

RECORD MADE

Madras, Aug. 21—A record period for business at the local post office from July 1 to August 9, a total of $26,960.56, was reported by George De, postmaster. The sum for the less than six weeks was more than half of the $50,573.08 in business recorded for the quarter ending June 30. De said, in 1950 the business for the quarter ending June 30 at the local post office was $46,967.92.

STORIES TOLD

Redmond, Aug. 21—Highlight of the community sing held Sunday afternoon at the Community Presbyterian church was telling the stories behind many favorite hymns. A number of song leaders took charge of the singing and Mrs. Hulbert Beesley was accompanist. On Sept. 16 the sing will be held at the Church of God which won the attendance banner this month for having the most members present.
